Gen. Hull Says POWs Will Be Freed Jan. 23

PANMUNJOM, Sunday, Jan. 16—AP—Gen. John E. Hull last night told India that his U. N. Far East Command definitely will free 22,500 Chinese and North Korean prisoners as civilians in anti-Red territory Jan. 23. He disputed India's charges this would violate the armistice.

Instead, Gen. Hull said the supervisory commission which India heads will be deliberately avoiding "an important element" of the armistice by prematurely turning back these men as war prisoners Wednesday. Hull insisted the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission has the "solemn obligation" to hold on to them until Saturday and then let them go as civilians.

Hull's letter clashed with views expressed to him by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, India's chairman of the NNRC. His firmly expressed determination to free the prisoners also stood out against a Peiping broadcast that such an action "will wreck the Korean truce."

Thursday Thimayya sent letters to the U.N. and Red commands which said:

1. He had decided on his own to turn back unrepatriated prisoners Wednesday because the NRRC was unable to carry out provisions for processing the men.

2. It was obvious "beyond doubt that the U.N. Command is unable to agree to the establishment of conditions or procedure which is "basic" for any such processing.

3. Any move by either side to set these men free "will not be in conformity with the (armistice) terms of reference.

Gen. Hull's reply last night took issue with all three points. He said it was the NNRC's responsibility to keep the men until Saturday, and then free them as civilians.

He said the U.N. Command tried in every way to comply with the armistice terms and that "Communist intransigence" was to blame for the NNRC failure to accomplish its mission.

Then he told Thimayya the U.N. Command "cannot accept custody of these prisoners of war in accordance with the terms of your proposal."

Gen. Hull said that, although the NNRC actually should keep custody, the U.N. Command "out of regard for humanitarian consideration" would accept the prisoners in order to make certain they got "the benefits the (armistice) agreement was designed to assure them."

He quickly made clear that this was:

"The United Nations Command, in accordance with the agreement

Mexico Halts Flow Of Farm Labor To U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16 (AP) — Mexico pinched off the legal flow of migrant farm workers to the United States today following collapse of negotiations for renewal of a 12-year-old agreement regulating their employment.

U.S. authorities in Washington watched skeptically for the effect. The State Department has long urged Mexico to stop the flow of illegal migration and has been told it is impossible. No one there seemed to think that it could be done any better now.

Rep. Kenneth Mills Regan (D-Tex), who represents 19 Texas counties on and near the border, said: "I'm sorry that there's any difference between the two republics, but I doubt if closing the border will be very effective. The Mexicans need the Yankee dollars and we need their labor."

The agreement — formerly renewed with slight variations each year since it went into effect in 1942 — expired last midnight.

Sen. Knowland Predicts Passage Of Amendment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—UP—Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland predicted Saturday the Senate will approve in some form a constitutional amendment to define presidential treaty-making powers.

He made the statement to reporters amid indications that administration leaders in the Senate are pessimistic about the chances of reaching a compromise, which President Eisenhower would support, on the so-called Bricker amendment. The amendment would restrict the President's treaty-making powers.

Administration spokesmen and Senate Republican leaders have been working with Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), chief sponsor of the amendment, in an effort to work out an agreement.

Knowland said it should be known by Monday or Tuesday whether these conferences will produce an acceptable compromise. Mr. Eisenhower opposes the Bricker amendment as it was approved last year by the Senate Judiciary committee.

The most controversial section provides that a treaty could become effective as internal law in the United States only through the enactment of legislation.

Knowland was asked about the possibility of Senate action on a simple resolution which would be a mere expression of Senate opinion on the scope of presidential treaty powers. (The Senate itself must ratify treaties by a two-thirds vote before they become effective.)

Cloudy And Cold Today, Monday

True to the tradition of the government weather bureau yesterday's weather was the opposite of that predicted in the bureau's forecast. However, the weathermen will try again — with a similar forecast.

Louisiana, the weather bureau officials say, will be partly cloudy today, and colder in the south portion. Monday is expected to be continued rather cold.

Arkansas, the forecast reports, will be cloudy to partly cloudy and continued rather cold today and Monday.

CAA officials reported the maximum temperature in Monroe yesterday was 58 degrees, the low for the day was 38 degrees.

Bodies Are Dummies

Monroe Boy, 14, Is Burned When Gasoline Ignites

A 14-year-old Monroe boy, Earl Babnineau, of 3305 Richmond Ave., received third degree burns shortly before noon yesterday when a jar of gasoline being used to clean paint brushes was ignited.

Two other youngsters received minor injuries as a result of the fire, which occurred in a tool shed at the rear the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bragg, 200 Lidell St., whose son, 12-year-old Jerry Bragg, received a cut hand when he forced the door of the tool shed open.

The sister of the burned youth, Annette Babnineau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Babnineau, 3305 Richmond Ave., received minor burns, it was reported.

All three of the youngsters were given emergency treatment, but only Earl Babnineau, who received burns on his back and around his waist when his clothing ignited, was kept at Riverside General Hospital. Doctors said last night that it probably would be two weewks before he could be released.

According to the father of Jerry Bragg, the mishap occurred when a match that had been used for melting wax to make puppets for a scout troop project, was tossed aside and landed in the jar of gasoline.

According to the account the girl picked up the jar just as it ignited, and her brother was burned when he rushed to her rescue.

The Bragg youngster received a cut hand when it was necessary for him to break out a window in the tool shed door to force it open. Mrs. Bragg, hearing the commotion ran to the scene and received burns on her hand in helping extinguish flames on Earl Babnineau's clothing.

LSU Students Hurt In Crash 'Resting Well'

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 16 —UP— Five persons injured in a head-on collision that killed two Louisiana State University co-eds were reported "resting well" Saturday night.

Mary Ann Krebs, 21, of Pascagoula, Miss., and Jackie Polizzi, 20, of New Orleans, died shortly after the accident on Highway 91 north of Baton Rouge 25 miles at 10 p.m. Friday.

Danny Orsak of Houston, Tex., an LSU student and assistant boxing coach, was listed in serious condition at Centreville, Miss.

All five students had been on a physical education field trip to St. Francisville and were returning to Baton Rouge in a car driven by Oakley.

State police said Oakley attempted to pass a car, saw another car approaching, and attempted to stop. However, his car and a car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Butler of Washington, D.C, hit head-on. Mr. and Mrs. Butler were treated for minor injuries.

All of the students were seniors and scheduled to graduate this spring. Miss Krebs was the daughter of State Rep. Guy Krebs of Jackson county, Mississippi.

National V. F. W. Commander Will Arrive Monday

Wayne Richards, national commander in chief of the V. F. W., on his visit to the local Rodney J. Hobbs Post No. 1809 in Monroe, will arrive here at 4:30 Monday afternoon.

Mayor John E. Coon, along with Mayor J. Allen Norris have officially proclaimed Monday as "Wayne E. Richards Day" through out the Twin Cities. The proclamation was signed recently to coincide with the local visit of the commander to this area.

Worked At Cooper's Restaurant

Porter Testifies In Murder Trial

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16—(AP)—The night porter at James L. Cooper's French Quarter restaurant said today his car was missing about the time the restaurant owner's estranged wife was slain.

Cooper, owner of the Court of Two Sisters restaurant, is on trial charged with murder in the beating and strangling of Mrs. Amelie (Diddie) Cooper, attractive 29-year old socialite and television singer, Nov. 30, 1952.

John Merritt said he missed his car a "good while" after the restaurant closed at 2 o'clock that morning and notified police.

He said he called Cooper at his apartment later on and "I told him my car was missing. He told me to go look and be sure. I went and looked. The car was there."

Earlier, Judge Frank Echezabal postponed a planned visit by the jury to Mrs. Cooper's apartment because the present tenants were absent from the city.

Dr. Christopher F. Bellone, owner of the apartment, preceded Merritt on the witness stand. He identified pictures of the residence and said that since the slaying a fence has been constructed at the rear.

Merritt said that Cooper bought the automobile for him, but that he paid for it. The Negro porter said Cooper borrowed the car a number of times and asked to use it the morning of the slaying.

He told the Negro he wanted it to take Macrino Trelles Jr., Mrs. Cooper's 10-year-old son by a former marriage, home after he spent the night in Cooper's apartment.

Merritt said he parked the car near the restaurant that night and locked it carefully.

He said he was late reporting for work that night because "I be's late every Saturday night."

When asked why, Merritt answered, "Because I was out. I be's out every Saturday night.

"I wasn't intoxicated. I had a few drinks."

Normally, Merritt said he worked from midnight until 10 or 10:30 a. m.

He said Cooper called him to his apartment shortly after midnight and asked to use his car, but did not take the keys.

Then after the restaurant closed, Merritt said he went outside and his car was gone. He said it was about 5 a. m., when he telephoned Cooper in his apartment and told him the car was missing. That was when Cooper told him to check again and Merritt said he found the car parked in the exact spot where he had left it.

Snobbery Charge Brings Crisis To Yugoslav Reds

BELGRADE, Jan. 16 UP—President Tito led the Communist party central committee into a grave session Saturday to consider the case of Vice President Milovan Djilas who criticized the wives of party officials as snobs.

It seemed evident that the 100-odd members attending the session would discipline Djilas so severely he will be obliged to leave the party. The political consequences of such an action are likely to have a serious effect on the course of Yugoslavia's history.

Djilas' observations on women precipitated the crisis, but it went further than that. The extraordinary session of the central committee also pondered a series of articles by Djilas sharply criticizing the party structure and proposing radical changes.

Djilas, a longtime member of the party executive, the former politburo, was condemned by its 11 other members last week after he climaxed his articles with a personal attack on the privileged life of the party heirarchy.

He accused the party's "closed circle" social setup of shutting out newcomers.

Specifically, he cited the supposed snubbing by older Communist wives of the actress - bride of a Yugoslav general because the bride was too young to have fought in the world war or served in the party.

He named no names, but he left little doubt he was talking about 24-year-old Milena Vrsjakova, the stage and screen actress who was married a few months ago to Col. Gen. Peko Dapcevic, Yugoslav chief of staff.

Atomic Experts Meet With Ike At White House

U. S. Preparing For Conference With Russia

The White House declined to say what took place at the hour-long conference. But informed sources said the nation's leaders were hammering out strategy to be followed in talks with Soviet representatives here next week and at the Big Four conference in Berlin.

Two problems were understood to be foremost in Mr. Eisenhower's mind: How to determine if Russia is sincerely interested in his proposal to set up a world "atomic bank" for peaceful development, and how to meet the Soviet demand that the proposal be broadened to include an immediate ban on use of A-bombs and H-bombs.

The make-up of the conference indicated another subject may have been Mr. Eisenhower's proposal in his state of the union message to give Allied military commanders some of the now-secret facts about the battlefield capabilities and uses of America's latest atomic weapons.

On hand were Secretary of State John Foster Dulles; Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson; chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission; deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes; Vice Adm. Arthur C. Davis, director of the Defense Department's office of foreign military affairs, and C. D. Jackson, White House adviser on psychological warfare.

Mr. Eisenhower offered his "atoms-for-peace" plan in a speech before the United Nations General Assembly on Dec. 8. He proposed that the world's atomic powers, notably the United States, Russia, Britain and Canada, contribute a percentage of their uranium resources to an international agency to be used for development of peace time benefits such as power.

He suggested that cooperation in this limited field might build up enough mutual confidence for the big powers to break their seven-year deadlock over control of atomic weapons.

Russia expressed interest and agreed to enter into secret negotiations about the details. At the same time, however, the Soviet Union criticized Mr. Eisenhower for failing to offer an immediate plan for banning atomic weapons.

Troops Moved In

Chihuahua Rebels Are Dispersed

DELICIAS, Mex., Jan. 16—UP—Mexican army reinforcements Saturday were poured into the hunt for "rebels" who attacked the police station and cavalry post here in what was described as possibly the "premature" start of a revolution.

Hardy desert-trained troops from throughout the fifth military zone were rushed here to "move every stone in Chihuahua state" if necessary to capture chiefs of the raiding party.

Four men were killed and a number wounded by police and troops stationed here when between 30 and 50 attackers swept into this northern Mexico town early Friday. Local authorities said all the dead were insurgents.

Two townsfolks were shot to death later by a smaller group of men.

Some of the raiders were said to have been followers of Gen. Miguel Henriquez Gusman, defeated 1952 presidential candidate of the Federation of Peoples' parties.

The leader of the truck-borne raiding party was identified as Emiliano Laign, former army capitan and once mayor of Delicias. Laing took an active part in Gen. Henriquez' presidential campaign.

(Officials of the federation in Mexico City said that Laing "has not been a member of the party" for some time now. They disclaimed all responsibility for the assault on Delicias.

(A federation spokesman said, however, the attack "may be the initiation of a revolutionary movement, although a little premature."

("The masses of the people are not prepared for a new revolution although there is general discontent throughout the country among workers and farmers.")

Delicias is an apple growing-mining community about 285 miles south of El Paso, Tex., on the central highway to Mexico City.

Fraternal Order Ruled Subversive

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 —UP— The Subversive Activities Control Board ruled Saturday that the International Workers Order is Communist-dominated and ordered it to register with the attorney general as a subversive organization.

The board held that the New York insurance and "fraternal benefit" organization is a "Communist front"—the first formal finding of its kind by the board—and that it must list its officers, membership and financial data with the attorney general.

The board last spring found that the U. S. Communist party itself is an agent of Moscow and ordered it to register with the Justice Department. The party is appealing its case to the federal courts.

The board held that artist Rockwell Kent, former president of the two, is "immersed" in Communist activities. It accepted the word of a New York state court that four other former top officers are active Communist party members and functionaries of party committees.

Suspected Red Hurls Punches At Five Guards

Room In Uproar As Witness And Attorney Ousted

BOSTON, Jan. 16—(UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Communist inquiry was thrown into an uproar Saturday when a spectator fought with guards after they had pushed two bulky witnesses from the hearing room.

Television audiences saw an unscheduled boxing match when Nathaniel Mills, a former witness before the McCarthy committee, started throwing wild punches at five guards.

"You're a menace," Mills screamed at McCarthy.

Mills had been a witness at an earlier hearing of the McCarthy Senate Permanent Investigating sub-committee.

It was the second time Mills had been evicted from a McCarthy hearing. He was ousted last November when he appeared at a public hearing, and lost his job at General Electric Co.'s Lynn, Mass., plant a short time later for refusing to answer questions.

McCarthy is investigating charges of Communist activity at General Electric plants in the Boston area and at Harvard University.

Mills' outburst came a few minutes after Theodore G. Pappas, 29, Lynn, Mass., a Harvard-educated GE employe, and his attorney, Oliver S. Allen of Boston, were removed from the courtroom by guards.

Pappas refused to name alleged fellow "Communist conspirators." McCarthy asked him if he "considered a man a traitor who refused to give the names of his Communist conspirators to a law enforcement agency."

Pappas, who said he tested Air Force equipment at the Lynn plant and had worked as an Army radar mechanic, conferred with his at-

Agriculture Committees Oppose Flexible Price Supports

Ike's Farm Program Under Attack In Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 —UP— The Senate Agriculture committee is lined up 9 to 6 against the administration's proposed flexible price support system for basic farm crops, two members reported Saturday.

Identical reappraisals of committee sentiment were given in separate interviews, by Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N. D.) and Allen J. Ellender (D-La.)

It also was learned that the House Agriculture committee probably will vote overwhelmingly for extension of the present rigid high price supports for at least one more year.

According to most of its members, sentiment in the House committee is even more strongly opposed to flexible supports than in the Senate committee. The House committee last Thursday completed a series of "grass roots" hearings in major farming areas. Members reported strong sentiment for continuance of high supports.

The present mandatory supports for 90 per cent of parity for the basic crops expires at the end of the 1954 crop year. President Eisenhower could put the flexible features of his proposed program into force on 1955 crops simply by vetoing the farm legislation Congress enacts this year.

Both Young and Ellender favor continuing the present system.

Young is the second-ranking committee Republican.

Senate committee members who will support the administration declined to estimate their strength. One of them, Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.), said it was too early to start guessing.

Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), who will attempt to steer the President's farm program through the committee and later to Senate passage, said he is optimistic that it will gain popular support "when it is understood."

The attempt to "sell" the program begins in earnest Monday when Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson appears before Aiken's group in an open hearing.

Principal features include supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity on basic products, isolation of $250 million worth of current government-owned surpluses in a "defense stockpile,"

Two Victims Of Accident Still On Critical List

DELHI, Jan. 16 (Special)—A report from the Delhi Clinic lists the condition of Maxine Brinson, 23, and her brother Lorraine, 17, as still critical.

Both brother and sister were badly injured along with Clifton Junkins, 16, when their late model Ford car was struck by an Illinois Central passenger train at a crossing in downtown Delhi. The car was mangled almost beyond recognition by the wheels of the train.

Officials at the Clinic stated that Junkins was the least injured of the three with bruises and lacerations. Maxine Brinson was thought to have a brain concussion, fractured leg and chest injuries and her brother to have a fractured skull, concussion, fractured leg and internal injuries. Neither of the Brinsons have recovered consciousness so that physicians could begin X-rays to determine the full extent of their injuries.

Dr. Teer, of the clinic staff who talked to reporters on the phone, said, "We are pouring blood into them all the time and giving oxygen, hoping that they will recover sufficiently so that we can take X-rays. We just don't know what the outcome will be and its a miracle that they have gotten this far along."

The car in which the three were riding was reported to have been knocked 200 feet by the blow and then ground under the wheels of the train.

Lorraine Brinson was said to be the driver of the car when it was hit. All three of the victims are from Dunn.

cans, largely employed for "stoop labor" on farms and ranches of the southwestern United States.

Mexico wanted a fixed pay rate in the new agreement. U.S. officials insisted on sticking by the fixed wages in the United States, they could not be specified in an international agreement.

U. S. Ambassador Francis White carried on the negotiations with Foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo. White had insisted that the talks were cordial, but last night he said Padilla Nervo kept him cooling his heels a long time before seeing him.

When the deadline passed, Mexico ordered her borders shut, apparently in protest against a U.S. "stop gap" plan for admitting the workers.

State Department sources in Washington said that, despite Mexican opposition, the United States would go on with its temporary plan to set up stations on the U.S. side for registration of workers.

Mexico contends the U.S. plan would have the effect of legalizing illegal border crossings — long a sore point in the migratory problem. The United States contends agreement under which the U.S. Labor Department decided on a "prevailing wage," saying that since there is no legal basis for that it is up to Mexico to patrol her own borders and prevent such crossings.

Last year more than 200,000 Mexicans contracted to go to the United States. They were recruited throughout Mexico in centers jointly operated by the two countries.

In addition to those who crossed over legally, there were hundreds of thousands of "Wetbacks' who slipped into the United States without registering and worked without proper permits. The Wetbacks are so called because many swim or wade across the Rio Grande.

Two-Headed Baby To Leave Hospital

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 16—UP—The parents of a month-old boy with two heads and four arms are scheduled to take him to their new home Sunday.

Spokesmen for James Whitcomb Riley memorial hospital, where the baby has been since the day it was born, said they were notified by the family physician that if the weather is favorable the parents may call for the baby Sunday morning.

Since a few days after the child was born in a Washington, Ind., hospital Dec. 12, the parents have expressed a desire to raise the baby with their other three children.

Their family doctor approved their plans after insisting they move from an inaccessible country college to a house in Petersburg near the physician's office. They did.

The hospital said the baby is in "satisfactory condition" and can be turned over to the parents "safely."

The father is an ordnance worker.

Riley doctors intend to tell the parents they are welcome to bring the baby back to the hospital at any time.

February 1 in Paris instead of London.

Mr. Pohl stated in his message that change of residence will require the later date instead of Jan. 18. Also in Paris there will be two weddings, first the civil wedding at the city hall, and then days later, as the law requires, it will be solemnized in a church ceremony.

The Ouachita Parish High School band, recently invited to Wales to participate in the great international musical fete, feels quite honored for only the most outstanding musical groups are ever so selected. A similar honor came a few years ago to Ouachita Parish High, proving a great surprise. It also proved the source of considerable cost but by dint of profound and tireless efforts the sum required was raised and the students had a never-to-be forgotten experience.

Principal I. C. Strickland, of the Ouachita Parish High School, stated Saturday that while the honor is greatly appreciated, he feared that it will not be possible to raise the sum required for such a trip.

A speaker in great demand has been secured by the West Monroe Kiwanis Club for the Friday night annual meeting with their ladies as guests. It will be held in the Corral, when Melvin T. Munn, Dallas, Tex., is to be the speaker. Mr. Munn is associated with many public affairs. He is district chairman for Key Clubs of two states; member of the board of directors of the Texas Society for Crippled Children; member of the Dallas County Association for the Blind, and is teacher of a large Bible class in his church.

He was principal speaker at the Kiwanis convention in New Orleans last fall and wherever he goes he delivers a message that proves filled with inspiration.

Fiscal Babes Grow To Be 'Monsters'

BATON ROUGE (AP) — An economy minded legislator today recommended a policy of killing "new born fiscal babes" that grow into "economic monsters."

"New agencies are born in innocence by simple resolution every time the Legislature meets," complained Rep. F. A. Graugnard of St. James Parish.

Ellender said he will demand a full "justification" of the stockpiling scheme. The products now are owned by the Commodity Credit Corp., which supports farm prices. Mr. Eisenhower's idea is to "insulate" them from influence in computing support levels in the new flexible system of high supports when production is low and vice versa.

"I see no advantage to this proposal unless the stockpile is to be used soon," said Ellender, the ranking committee Democrat.

"Anything of that character would have a depressing effect on the market. I would much prefer to see us dispose of it by bartering in foreign markets for strategic materials or selling it to countries needing it, accepting their currencies and then buying things we need.'

Mr. Eisenhower indicated in his farm message to Congress that he also favors disposing of part of the set-aside surpluses by using them in foreign aid programs or for school lunches.

"I will allow no statements from Fifth Amendment Communists," McCarthy said.

Pappas and Allen stood up to protest. McCarthy then ordered them out of the room. Cheers and applause filled the packed room when they were ushered out.

McCarthy told newsmen he "definitely" would seek contempt of Congress proceedings against Prof. Wendell H. Furry and instructor Leon J. Kamin of Harvard University, who "admitted they had been Communists but refused to name their associates."

"I think they should serve time," McCarthy said.

He said his hearings had produced nine GE employes who had invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked about communism and espionage. All will be suspended by the company, he said.

Two Winnsboro Boys Injured In Scooter Accident

WINNSBORO, Jan. 16 (Special)—A motor scooter trip to Richland parish by three Winnsboro boys ended with two of the boys in the Sanitarium.

Buddy Ritchie, 13, son of Mrs. Luda Ritchie and Douglas Hendry, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Henry, were returning home from Richland parish this afternoon when their motor scooter ran into the rear of a large truck at Mangham. The truck had stopped for a traffic light.

Buddy Ritchie was driving and Douglas was riding on the back. Ritchie has head and ear injuries and multiple bruises. Douglas Henry suffered a fractured right leg, and severe cut on left leg.

Ritchie said his foot slipped off the brake as the truck suddenly stopped in front of them. The motor scooter, which Ritchie had borrowed from his older brother Billy, was demolished.

Tommy Hatfield, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatfield, was with the two boys and was riding a junior motorcycle. He stopped before he hit the truck.

on prisoners of war, will honor its obligation to treat them as fully entitled to their freedom as civilians on Jan. 23.

"The return to the United Nations Command of personnel prior to 12:01 a.m. Jan. 23 can only be regarded as a failure by the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission fully to discharge its duties, but this failure will in no way, it must be emphasized, affect the right of prisoners of war to become civilians at that time regardless of their physical location."

By Saturday night, the Reds had not replied officially to Thimayya's letter but they are known to oppose any action enabling the U.N. Command to release the 22,500 soon as civilians.

There was speculation the Reds might refuse to take back 327 South Koreans, 21 Americans and a Briton from a pro-Red camp but an Indian spokesman said firmly "we will release the prisoners anyway."

The Reds want unrepatriated prisoners held indefinitely until a peace conference can be convened and deal with them.

Yesterday President Syngman Rhee of South Korea told the press that if there has been no peaceful unification of Korea by 180 days after the preliminary talks began last Oct. 26 his country will feel "free to take our own action—good, bad or indifferent."

The 180-day period would end in late April but later Dr. Karl Hong Ki, official government spokesman said by way of clarification Rhee was not setting a specific deadline.

"The point that the President was trying to make," Karl said, "is that once it becomes entirely clear that peaceful efforts are a failure, we must take action—with the help of our Allies, we hope—to bring about unification by other means."

Girl, Aged Man Injured In Car Accidents Here

Frances Anne Colghan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Buelow, 809 Bres Avenue, a badly bruised leg, when the bicycle which she was riding was hit by a cab driven by John S. Persons, 29, Negro, of 402 South Twelfth Street, at the intersection of North Sixth Street and Hudson Lane.

According to witnesses, the cab, headed North on Sixth and turned left onto Hudson Lane in front of a southbound city bus and hit the girl. She was taken by Mulhearn ambulance to St. Frances Sanitarium.

The cab driver was arrested on a charge of reckless driving. Bond has been set at $100.

In a second accident Harold C. Taylor, of an unknown address, was injured when hit by a car while crossing the street at the intersection of South Third Street and Ouachita.

Lanny M. Myles, 49, Negro, of Route 2, West Monroe, was headed north on third street when the accident occured.

Lassiter Eyes Candidacy For Attorney's Job

Albin P. Lassiter, Monroe attorney, is "seriously considering" becoming a candidate for district attorney of Ouachita and Morehouse parishes, it was learned last night.

When contacted, Lassiter made no definite commitment, but stated "I am definitely interested in the office of district attorney. I am seriously considering the possibility of becoming a candidate for that office.

"Of course Mr. Fudickar (Fred Fudickar, Jr., the present district attorney) has not stated his intentions as yet and so it seems improper to make any formal statement at this time."

Lassiter is a member of the American Bar Association, the Louisiana State Bar Association and the Fourth District Bar, having been admitted in 1931. He is a graduate of the Tulane Law School.

3 Airmen Killed In B-26 Crash

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 16—UP—An old Air Force B-26, groping through an overcast for a landing, crashed and exploded in a Nashville suburb Saturday, killings its crew of three and destroying a house in a shower of fiery fragments.

Fire Chief Charles Davis of the nearby community of Donelson said "we've found enough parts of bodies" to determine that at least three were killed. Nearby Sewart Air Force Base confirmed that three men were aboard.

Miraculously, the three persons in the house which was destroyed by the explosion all escaped. Only one, Mrs. Eunice Huggins, was injured.

The old plane, of a famed World War II light bomber type, was attached to the third tow target squadron at Sewart, 20 miles southeast of Nashville and was returning there from Sumter Air Force Base, Sumter, S. C.

The crash occurred, however, only a few hundred yards from the city's Berry Field where the pilot may have been trying for an emergency landing.

Condemned Killer Breaks 11-Day Hunger Strike

JACKSON, Miss., Jan 16 (AP) — Luther Carlyle Wheeler today broke his 11-day fast by gobbling a full ration and then calling for another at supper, his jailer reported.

The supper, standard for all prisoners, consisted of three biscuits, two large wieners, a large, boiled potato, and gravy.

The convicted killer began his fast after he ate supper on Tuesday. The next morning, he was put in solitary confinement for inciting trouble and he refused to eat breakfast.

Though he was returned to his cell three days later, he continued his refusal of prison fare, saying it was a protest against conditions in the Hinds County jail.

Jailer J. C. Landrum classed the Jacksonville, Fla., typewriter mechanic as one of the most arrogent and hot-tempered prisoners in his charge. He said Wheeler's razor had to be removed because of a suicide threat shortly before the hunger strike.

The 25-year-old killer, waiting execution on Feb. 5 in Hattiesburg, was indicted for the March, 1952, murder of two Hattiesburg patrolmen as they sought to question him about a burglary.

Wheeler's Salt Lake City girl friend, Elaine Forman, received a life sentence, now on appeal to the Mississippi Supreme Court, for her part as driver of the getaway car.

Wheeler continued his refusal to eat in the face of pleas from his attorney and threats that he would drop a planned appeal. He even withstood threats to have him force fed by the county physician.

The Rosenberg Aftermath Should Children Pay?

The Rosenberg case is history. It is written in the bold face headlines of the Communist "Daily Worker" that this nefarious pair, traitors to their beloved nation to the last instant of their lives, was "persecuted and murdered" by the "Fascist, Capitalistic United States."

The President was termed by many fanatic Communist lovers as a "butcher" and a representative of the "degeneracy" of this nation. The history of the case was also written in volume on volume of law briefs, petitions, magazine and newspaper articles, case decisions and other things pertaining to the almost three-year-long trial which at first, went unobserved by the world at large, but after the Communists realized that they had a tremendous propaganda advantage, picked it up and the Rosenbergs became overnight, Communist heroes.

It is highly probable that the Communists did not get a good night's sleep until the Rosenbergs were safely sealed in their coffins, as they represented the link in the chain of spies which could not break. Before the Rosenbergs, all the links failed to hold and it was left to this couple to save the espionage ring in the atomic energy projects of the nation.

The Rosenbergs might never have been caught were it not for the Allan Nunn May case in England. When incarcerated by the British authorities, May broke down and told all. Implicated in this nation were Harry Gold, Klaus Fuchs, the naturalized British citizen then working on the atomic project in the United States, David and Ruth Greenglass, and then, Ethel and Julius Rosenberg. One spy led to the arrest and incarceration of the other until the Rosenbergs were reached. Then, it stopped.

The Communists played the case "to the hilt" using the Rosenbergs as martyrs in Europe and Asia where people, not familiar with American law, actually felt that the Rosenbergs should have been saved. The Communists by this, accomplished three things: They had an excellent propaganda weapon, they covered their brutality in several cases in Europe and they helped the world forget the Korean war then going in high gear. The Rosenbergs went to their graves, traitors in every sense of the word, traitors on at least 13 counts, any one which would have committed their lives to end.

All this time, the Communists as well as the free press carried the sensational story. They also carried the pathetic pictures of the two little Rosenberg children. Innocent pawns in the affairs of the world, these children were forced by the Communists and unfortunately, by the newsmen and photographers of the free press to pose for picture after picture and be the subject of story after story. What their parents did, heinous though it certainly was, was none of their doing and not their fault.

Children should not be made to pay for the actions of their parents but unfortunately, that is what frequently occurs. There is nothing so cruel as children with other children when something has happened regarding the other children's parents. It is reported that the Rosenberg children are the subjects for taunts and persecution by not only children but by adults in some cases. The American people have never as a whole permitted this to happen. Spies though the Rosenbergs certainly were, criminals against mankind though they certainly were, their children should not be made to pay. The attorney for the Rosenbergs, Bloch, who denounced his own nation after the trial and execution in a heated and fervent statement, has protected the Rosenberg children to the best of his ability in recent months.

No matter that Bloch was partially responsible for using the children as pawns in the fight to save their parents, no matter that he and his Communist associates subjected these unfortunate children to trials which they should never have endured, this newspaper agrees with the attorney, Bloch, when he states that the Rosenberg children should not be made to pay for their parent's crimes.

In agreement, however, it also denounces Bloch for his deliberate use of the children, it denounces the wretched Communists who also used them and as usual, after all the necessary "good" has been "squeezed out," has forgotten them. The Rosenberg children, American children, should be given the chance to live normal lives and not be the subjects for taunts and jibes by their associates, the other children, and especially by adults, who should certainly know better.

Where the Rosenberg children are concerned, some Americans have apparently forgotten that they are Americans and are acting in the spirit of the Communists, the very ones who operate their police state in the manner of persecution by association and relation.

McCarthy, Ellender, Eisenhower— 'Down On The Farm'

The farm support issue has captured the minds of many American people who are interested in that great American sport called "politics." The number of people interested in politics cannot be counted on the average adding machine.

The President's "flexible" farm program shows clearly that Mr. Eisenhower is the first President in many, many years who has put common sense above political sense. He has put the best interests of his nation over the best interests of his own political future and that of his party. He has been severely criticized by scores of people who feel that they no longer can operate their farms without the aid of the United States government. There are many independent farmers who feel that the government is interfering in their affairs and such as was possible, they made their voices heard.

The President did not simply sit down and dream this program by himself. He and Secretary Benson who has been termed by many as a "religious fanatic" and a "preacher who should stay in the pulpit" received the aid of the largest farm organization in the nation in their draft to congress and the state of the union message. Those who have come out for rigid 100 percent parity are conferring through their chapeaux and they perhaps, know it. They include Senator Joseph R. McCarthy and Senator Ellender of this state.

Senator Ellender, who perhaps does not desire 100% parity, nevertheless accused the President of "playing politics." Now, this is election year for Senator Ellender and it is realized that he must keep his name in the news in some manner, but actually, how does he conclude that the President is "playing politics?" If the President is playing politics, it is indeed, peculiar politics, as the farm support issue is "touchy" to say the least and the idea of "flexible" supports is not at all popular with many farmers.

It was only last week that Senator Ellender was denouncing the high expenditures of the investigating committees and demanding that the congress "practice what it preach" and trim down its expenses. Now, does the Senator wish to reverse himself on these expenditures and vote huge sums in parity? Already, the agriculture experts are attempting to figure out what use can be had for the tons and tons of butter, wheat, apples, peanuts and other products now owned by the government due to this support program. Already, the controls program has forced unhappy acreage allotment cuts and as a result, many American tax payers are paying for butter they will never see and at the same time, paying higher prices in the stores for butter they must buy.

There actually should be no rigid policy in any commodity. There must be an elastic program to meet necessary conditions. Many farmers will agree with this immediately. Some will not. The President's program is a sensible one, he is not "playing politics" and Senator McCarthy's idea was perhaps based on certain statements supposedly attributed to the President during the election campaign.

The Senator has unfortunately fallen in the trap carefully planned for him by his opponents.

Traffic Signals On Louisville

The traffic signal lights on Louisville Avenue apparently have no meaning to some people who drive automobiles. Seldom does a day go by but that lights are disregarded and accidents are narrowly avoided. There were three near tragedies on Louisville Wednesday between the light at 18th street and the one at the foot of the bridge. Wednesday was picked as a "normal" day, as normal as any can get on that street which is part of a national thoroughfare.

The light at 18th street has been the scene of many accidents and narrow escapes. On Wednesday, the light was red on Louisville, green favoring clear passage of automobiles across 18th when a green Oldsmobile sedan attempted to cross the avenue. Coming West on Louisville was a speeding automobile, another sedan, a red Kaiser. The driver of the Kaiser never bothered to look at the traffic signal, so engrossed was he in conversation with his wife and children. Only the alert driver of the Oldsmobile saved the situation. Had he been a lesser man, easily made frantic, he would have hit the brakes instead of throwing the power to his auto and leaping out of the way of the oncoming, westbound auto. Had he hit the brakes, there would have been a terrible tragedy. Not all people are as astute as the driver of the green sedan.

It is the duty of every driver to keep his attention centered on his driving, while driving, and not on other things. This, year, help keep the traffic fatalities down. Watch the lights on Louisville and every other place.

Local Support Needed The Loop Hole Must Be Plugged

The Bricker proposal has come to be the paramount issue before the Senate in this session. There is one main reason for this and that lies in the determination of the internationalists to at least "stall" off the issue until the close of this session after which, they feel, there may be a Democrat Congress. The Bricker supporters are worried that this might happen and are determined likewise to pass this proposal to the states for their consideration.

This newspaper supports the Bricker proposal in its present form feeling that this is the barest minimum necessity for the protection of the United States sovereignty and the protection of the Constitution. The opponents of the proposal are determined to impress upon the people the idea that it would tend to restrict the president in his powers of making treaties and as commander in chief of this nation's armed forces. Nothing could be further from the truth as it in no way restricts the president from making treaties so long as those treaties do not contradict or conflict with the constitution. Under the proposed amendment, the Senate as well as the President would thereupon, be restricted.

There are many who feel that the Bricker proposal would destroy the "United Nations." The Bricker Amendment, if passed, would restore the "U. N. Charter" to its original concepts as were planned by the Senate when it originally ratified the "U. N." in 1946. Under present conditions, the "United Nations" is no longer the organization it was supposed to have been and has on a number of cases, already infringed upon the sovereignty of this nation. The President, commader in chief of the armed forces of the U. S. no longer technically has that control under present "U. N." charter law which, by treaty, is domestic law.

The doctrine of the internationalists clearly is shown in their peculiar regard for domestic and foreign affairs. They regard them as being one in the same. Treaty law is the basis for the entire affair and treaties which conflict with the Constitution still become the law of the land. In the infamous steel mill case, the President, upheld by the supreme court due to certain treaties then and now in effect, was able to seize the steel mills.

At present, there are over 200 treaties affecting domestic law of this nation, now in preparation in the "U. N." and the ILO. Under article Six of the constitution, treaties become supreme law of the land, and there lies the trouble. In California, the state marriage law which concerned intermarriage between the races was declared null and void due to the California supreme court's decision that the state law contradicted the "U. N." charter which is a treaty and is law. Judges in both Idaho and California threw out the home ownership laws and property laws due to the fact that they contradicted with "U. N. Charter." There are other equally dangerous examples which have occurred.

The Marxist method of conquering is from the inside. It uses and employs the officials, the judges, the police and other officials against the people of the nation involved. That is precisely what is taking place in this nation. Through treaty law, this can easily happen to the United States and is happening.

This proposal is more than a problem for others to solve. It is your problem, your own local problem as you are citizens of the State of Louisiana, the City of Monroe and West Monroe as well as being citizens of the United States. Your laws clearly depend on the constitution for their protection.

The problem is as local and as serious as anything which has ever happened to the Twin Cities or any other area. Your future as sovereign American citizens is clearly in jeopardy.

It will help to write your congressman, Mr. Passman and your Senators, Long and Ellender, letters asking their support of the proposal. Congressman Passman actually will not pass upon the proposal, but his support for the amendment will be of the greatest assistance in its passage. Senator Long is opposed to the proposal in its present form, and apparently goes along with the internationalists. Senator Ellender has put his seal of approval on the proposal as he was one of the original signatories. You can write or contact them in the Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

The Bricker proposal reads as follows:

Section 1: A provision of a treaty which conflicts with this constitution shall not be of any force or effect.

2: A treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of treaty.

3: Congress shall have power to regulate all executive and other agreements with any other foreign power or international organization. All such agreements shall be subject to the limitations imposed on treaties by this article.

4: The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 5: (Concludes the proposal.) This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the constitution by the legislatures of three fourths of the several states within 7 years from the date of its submission.

The last article is where every local citizen can help. If the proposal passes the senate, it will come to the Louisiana legislature.

Cotton Farmer—S-O-S

Delhi, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am glad we have some good papers like this one that will publish our complaints. And we have one. I say (we), I mean all we cotton-raising new-ground farmers. It looks as if we are being trampled on from one end to the other. One of the greatest injustices ever recorded in past history. Take my case for example:

I was reared on a cotton farm. After marrying, followed on as a share cropper until a few years back I saved up enough money for a down payment on eighty acres of cut-over swamp land. Not being able to hire anyone to clear any land, I rented land from some of my friends every year, and by working on my land between times I have about twelve acres that I can cultivate on my place.

Now here is the problem. Since the acreage of cotton was cut, I can't rent any land, can't get but five acres of cotton for my place (some people only get three acres). I would like to ask the public, the law makers, or anybody under Heaven, how can a man support his family, send his children to school, pay for his farm and equipment — besides a pay for.

All in the world we ask is a fair hundred and one other things to deal. To live by the side of the road and be a friend to man. I don't think we are such a bad lot. We bring our children up to love and fear God, we send them to school, and we give them the best education we can afford to give them.

I am an ex-soldier. I raised three boys. All three went to the army; all saw overseas duty; all three went in at the age of seventeen years. My oldest boy has been in twelve years and is in the 8th Air Force as a pilot. He trained fighter pilots for the U. S. until they didn't need any more pilots, and then went through World War II as a pilot on a B-24 Liberator Bomber. Made better than fifty missions over the war zone receiving many medals without ever any one of them having their names put in the papers.

I believe it is every boy's duty to serve his country and an honor to die for one's country. All this should let you see how I feel about our Country. Many of my friends feel the same way.

So now, some of our lawmakers tell us we will have to half-starve our children, lose our tractors, trucks, deep freezes, and farms that we have labored and sweated blood to try and hold onto. That is what it will amount to if we don't get some help.

I know we have lots of good people here in Old Louisiana. I believe many will take up the fight for us and try to get our lawmakers to see the plight we are in. It is an injustice, it is a shame, a disgrace, preposterous, or if there is anything more, it is that too. I boil every time I think of it.

In closing, if there is anybody on earth that needs help it is the share cropper that is trying to buy him a little place of his own that he can call "Home Sweet Home."

"Legally Right May Be Morally Wrong"

Rayville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Recently there appeared an article in this paper attacking segregation on the grounds that it was un-Christian, un-Democratic, and un-Constitutional.

Are we going to abolish all American institutions not established upon principles of Christianity? If so, there is a tremendous need and some terrific changes to be made. John, the Baptist, said, "He that has two coats, let him impart to him that has none. He that has food, let him do likewise." Jesus said to the young, rich ruler, "Go sell all that thou possess and distribute it to the poor. Take up the cross and follow me." This sounds a little like the "Share our wealth program" but nevertheless they are Christain precepts.

If our economy was reorganized to meet these conditions, some of our distinguished citizens would go away far more sorrowfully than did the young rich ruler. Some of the anti-segregation leaders would probably be among the chief wailers.

No one can accurately state whether segregation in undemocratic in the U. S. or not, because to be against the principles of democracy it must have met the disapproval of the majority of the U. S. electorates and that hasn't been done and neither has it been approved by them.

Can the Supreme Court be relied upon to render a decision that will have the consent of the electorates? Sometimes what may be "legally right" is morally wrong. Remember the "Dred Scott Decision" and the Cherokee Nation versus Georgia. Were Lincoln and Jackson justified in taking issue with the High Court in these actions? It should be remembered also that the Supreme Court by ruling the "Fair Labor Standard Act" constitutional, it overruled an earlier decision of 1918 denying Congress the right to outlaw Child Labor.

Fight Against TB

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Please accept the belated but sincere appreciation of the Ouachita Parish TB Association, its' president, it's Bond and Seal Chairman, it's board and it's staff for the support of your paper and staff during the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale.

The editorial comment and the space in the news columns which were devoted to calling to the attention of readers in this area the need for financial and moral support added to the success of the campaign. It is in support of such efforts to improve the health and well - being of our community that a newspaper renders one of its most valuable and lasting services.

To you and your associates and to all the people of the community who gave in this fight against TB, the association expresses its gratitude.

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN,

Timmons In Washington

Green Light Given To Senator McCarthy

The Marines put one over on army, navy and air force in decorating four officers and a sergeant who stood the gaff in Korea and "refused to bear false witness against their country." That serves to divert attention from Marine Corps problem of what to do about officers who gave in to Chinese captors. Other services have the same problem.

Top ranking Marines who want to court - martial officers who cracked, made false confessions about germ warfare, are being held back by higher civilian authority. Questions are raised whether any disciplinary action should be taken against men who succumbed to terrific strain.

The Air Force and Army, also have problems with returned POW's who broke, but they hadn't thought of decorating those who stood firm.

Fair prediction is that officers who did Communist bidding will be permitted to resign, enlisted men will be discharged after an inquiry, but not dishonorably.

Green Light for McCarthy — Commentators professing surprise at the added recognition given Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin by the Republican conference didn't read the signs right. It has been apparent for some time that the White House was willing to pat McCarthy on the back in anticipation of this year's campaign, in which he will campaign for all Republicans who need him.

McCarthy is now one of the most important Republican senators, organization wise, with places on three powerful committees including rules.

He will continue Communist probes, but privately concedes that business there is running out. His new line will be corruption in government during the last administration. And there will be little or no more friction with this administration.

Democratic Tax Ideas — One Republican fear about taxes is that Democrats will propose amendments which many Republicans will feel they dare not vote against. These would increase exceptions for small taxpayers, a convenient way of lightening the tax burden without cutting rates. But the Treasury has warned that a check must be kept on exemptions and they should be held to specific purposes, such as medical costs, baby sitting and others which do not reduce the total revenue by much.

What scares the administration is the possible increase in individual exemptions, now sttarting at $600. An increase of even $100 would cost the government two billions in revenue the Treasury estimates.

Ike Likes Nike — Tests of the newest guided missile — called Nike — for use against enemy aircraft and advance in anti-submarine defense weapons has made the President and administration leaders almost cocky in their warnings that atomic weapons will be used against fresh Communist attacks. The guided missile, it is whispered, could supplant the A-bomb as a prime weapon of the atomic age.

Army and Navy officers do not agree, are trying to deflate the confidence of civilian administration leaders, which they say could be suicidal. The drift back to the push button concept of warfare doesn't improve the morale of the armed forces, either.

Forecasts — Look for Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.-Tenn.) to lead the fight against the Bricker amendment, push his own substitute when the debate reaches the Senate floor late this month. His bill, he says, would not tie the President's hands in treaty making affairs.

St. Lawrence seaway has better chance in the Senate than its backers expected, may be blocked in the House, where opponents are centering their efforts.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr. won't get the wire tapping clearance he advocates in espionage cases, an early check indicates. Too many Democrats and some Republicans don't think Brownell should be given the board authority to determine whose wires should be tapped.

Democratic plans to oppose arms reduction are fading, criticism of the administration program promises to be weak. Reason the threat of war has faded in the last six months, voters are perfectly willing to have armed service costs reduced.

State Camp Of Auxiliary Of V. F. W. Planned

The West Monroe V. F. W. auxiliary state encampment committee, with Mrs. Vera Willensky, chairman, met Saturday morning with Mrs. Velma Lee Kemp, state president of the V. F. W. Auxiliary, to make detailed plans for the state encampment to be held in Monroe June 11-13. Auxiliary headquarters will be at the Frances Hotel. Mrs. Kemp pointed out that the 3rd auxiliary encampment was held in Monroe in 1939. This year the auxiliary will celebrate their 20th birthday.

Mrs. Kemp was honored guest at the regular meeting of the Hudson-Leehy Auxiliary of West Monroe Friday night. Tentative convention plans were discussed by the members. Also present to assist were 13th district president, Mrs. Ollie Neal, and members of the Boone - McDowell Auxiliary from Bastrop.

City Teachers Meet In Monthly Session Here

The Monroe City Teachers met Tuesday, Jan. 12, at the Central Grammar School.

Invocation was given by Miss Geneve Castles. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. L. N. Blair who presided and business transacted.

The program included highlight talks on the Louisiana Education Association (LEA) convention which was recently held in Lafayette, La. Speakers were Mrs. Ione Hill, fifth district council member and Mrs. Agnes Miller, delegates to the convention.

Mrs. Laverne Riddle gave a summary of the regional conference on Teacher Education and Professional Standards which she attended in New Orleans, La. the early part of this month.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Built Of White Rocks

Indian Shrine Is Huge Wheel

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 16 (AP)—High in Wyoming's rugged Big Horn Mountains lies a weathered, mysterious shrine that may someday be dedicated as a national monument.

The shrine is built of white rocks fashioned into a giant wheel. One hundred miles away a huge arrow, also built of white rocks, points directly toward it.

No one knows how the wheel got there, or who built it.

One ancient Crow Indian says: "It was built before the light came." Another explains:

"It was made by people who had no iron."

The wheel, atop 9,960-foot Medicine Mountain, is believed by some to be a direct link between the prehistoric Chinese and the Mayans of Central America. The rocks that form it are stuck in the sod, forming an almost perfect circle some 70 feet in diameter.

At the hub of the wheel stands a large stone altar. Out from this radiate 28 stone spokes, six of which run beyond the edge of the wheel to smaller altars.

The 28 spokes lead Breck Moran, water division director for the Wyoming Natural Resource Board, to speculate the simple, isolated monument may bridge one of the gaps between history as we know it and the unwritten past.

The identical number of spokes, he says, have been found in ancient Chinese prayer wheels and in Mayan calendar wheels found in South America.

These calendars are based on the lunar Zodiac and not on the sun, as are the origins of our present 12-month calendars.

Moran believes it may be possible that a fairly highly developed group moved down from the Alaskan peninsula and, for a time, built their shrines in the vastness of the Big Horn Mountains.

Moran thinks there may be ancient burial grounds in the area.

For this reason he has asked members of Congress to designate the area as a national monument so researchers may investigate the riddle of the wheel.

Partisan Battle Opens For Control Of Senate

By JOHN L. CUTTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 —UP— The first round of a fierce battle for control of the Senate a year from now gets underway this spring with nominating primaries in Illinois and New Jersey.

Voting in these states — Illinois April 13 and New Jersey April 20 —starts the weeding out process to determine candidates for the November election. It continues in states from Maine to California through September.

Out of 35 Senate seats to be filled this year, Delaware is the only state to pick its nominees in party convention instead of the open primary method.

The present close division in the Senate — 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one independent—presages one of the hardest-fought campaigns in modern history.

To Determine Control

Since control of the Senate for the next two years rides on the ultimate outcome, Democratic and Republican leaders look to their primaries to produce the strongest vote - pulling candidates they can muster. Many interesting races are in the making.

The Illinois kick-off primary, for example, promises a free-for - all. Seven Republicans already have announced as candidates for the seat of incumbent Democrat Paul H. Douglas. There may be more by the Jan. 25 filing deadline.

Douglas is expected to escape any serious challenge from within his own party since former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, has ruled himself out of the senatorial picture.

In New Jersey, Republican Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson is a candidate for re-election. But he might encounter some primary opposition. There are a number of potential candidates.

California's primary June 8 may prove interesting nationally — for signs of a split between the forces of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland. Democrats will try to close ranks behind a single candidate for the seat now held by Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, serving under appointment since Nixon became vice President.

A Three-Way Battle

An interesting three-way battle among Republicans are shaping up for the Sept. 14 primary in New Hampshire, which elects two senators this year.

The race would be for the two years remaining in the term of the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey. The job is held now by Robert W. Upton, serving under appointment. He may seek the nomination. Wesley Powell, Manchester attorney, has announced as a candidate. Rep. Norris Cotton also would like to run. Veteran Sen. Styles Bridges expects no trouble on renomination for another six-year term.

The presidential aspirations of Sen. Estes Kefauver, a 1952 hopeful, are tied up with the Tennessee primary Aug. 5. Defeat in his home state would blast the Senate crime investigator's future presidential hopes. Gov. Frank G. Clement looms as a serious challenge to the Senator's bid for renomination.

Kentucky's Aug. 7 primary determines whether former Vice President Alben W. Barkley will make a bid to come back to the Senate where he served for 22 years. If Barkley, now 76, doesn't run, the Democrats may pick Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby to seek the seat now held by Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper.

Texas Governor Mentioned

Texas' primary July 24 offers a chance to test the effect of Democratic bolts to President Eisenhower in the 1952 election. Gov Allan Shivers, who supported Mr. Eisenhower, is mentioned as a possible primary opponent for Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who remained loyal to the Democratic national ticket.

Many of the incumbent senators, both Democrats and Republicans, may escape serious primary opposition during the summer but run into rough races in the November election.

Party leaders expect a hot contest in Ohio for the remaining two years in the term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. Democrat Thomas A. Burke, now serving under appointment, and Republican Rep. George A. Bender, a consistent Taft supporter, are the likely contestants. Both already have announced as candidates.

Other lively November races, assuming no primary upsets, may include:

New Mexico — Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem opposing incumbent Democratic Sen. Clinton P. Anderson.

Senate Debates St. Lawrence Seaway

Congress Makes Little Headway

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Congress made little headway this week toward doing some of the things its leaders believe must be done before July 1, the tentative adjournment date.

There was no business in the House during the week and only some minor, non-controversial measures are carded for consideration next week. There's a possibility that the House may vote on a bill to create an Air Force academy, giving the air wing its own West Point.

The Senate spent the week debating the administration-backed proposal for U.S. cooperation with Canada in developing the St. Lawrence seaway. It probably will spend all of next week talking about the same bill.

The controversial Bricker amendment to define and limit the president's treaty-making powers is scheduled to follow the seaway measure on the Senate floor.

Three presidential messages were received by Congress during the past week. They outlined the President's proposals for an expanded social security program, revisions in the Taft-Hartley labor-management law, and a new agricultural program.

Two more presidential messages are due next week. The first, due Monday, will deal with health and the second, expected Thursday, with taxes and the budget.

House leaders hope to have ready for debate early next month at least one departmental appropriation bill, possibly the Taft-Hartley law revisions, a bill to permit wire-tapping in federal law enforcement, and perhaps an omnibus tax revision measure.

Early action is planned also for legislation embodying a presidential commission's recommendation to raise the pay of congressmen and federal judges. Many members of Congress feel that the earlier that touchy subject is disposed of, the better. The present outlook is that Congress will vote to hike its pay, starting next year.

Here is the legislative picture to date:

The week past: Both branches received presidential messages dealing with labor, farm and social security legislation.

The Senate debated the St. Lawrence seaway bill.

The House held two sessions but transacted no legislative business.

Senate

Continues debate on St. Lawrence seaway; may start consideration of Bricker amendment to limit treaty-making powers.

House

Votes on private relief bills and noncontroversial minor measures; may consider bill creating Air Force academy.

Ways and Means Committee continues tax revision work.

Both branches receive presidential messages on health, budget and taxes.

Pending in committees:

Bills on farm legislation, labor, wire-tapping, appropriations, social security, congressional pay raise, Hawaiian statehood (Senate only), reciprocal trade, foreign aid, taxes, voting-age reduction, and Communist controls.

6, 754 Louisiana Farm Families Receive FHA Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (Special) —A total of 6,754 farm families in Louisiana received aid from the Farmers Home Administration during fiscal year 1953, the agency's annual report reveals. Assistance was given only to farmers whose needs could not be met by local banks or other credit sources in their communities.

Farmers used the FHA loans to adjust and improve their livestock and crop programs and earn better incomes; to develop their land; to buy or enlarge farms; and to build or repair houses and farm buildings.

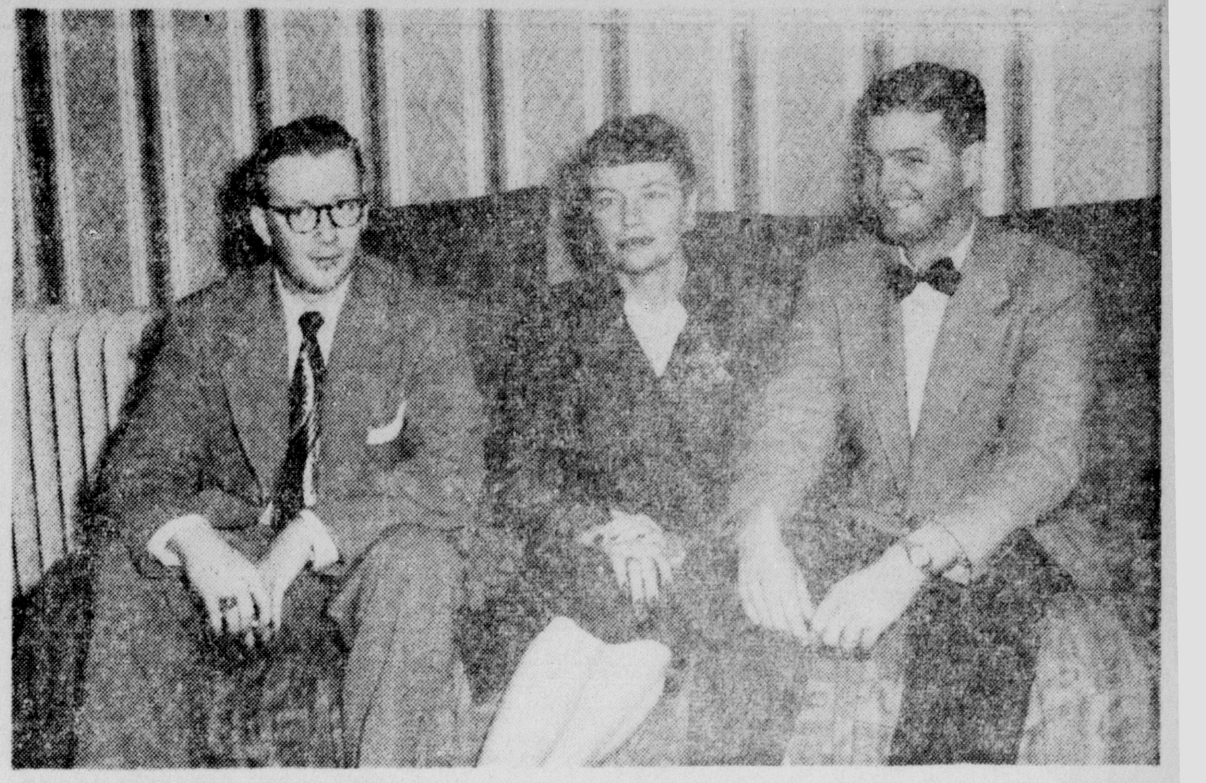
In counties where agricultural production was curtailed by drouth, flood or other natural disaster, emergency loans also were made to tide farmers over the months when their incomes were reduced and to enable them to keep land in production.

About 220,000 farm families throughout the United States received aid from the FHA last year. Approximately half of the farmers served were war veterans and other young farmers needing credit and advisory assistance to become soundly established, the report states.

In Louisiana, loans were made to 2,081 farmers who had not borrowed from the agency previously, and to 1,003 who had received loans in the past and needed further assistance to complete adjustments and improvements in their work.

An additional, 3,670 families assisted in the state did not borrow from the agency during the year but were operating with the aid of loans obtained earlier.

A total of $6,186,670 was advanced to Louisiana farmers in direct loans during fiscal 1953. An additional $240,525 invested by private lenders in farm ownership loans was insured by the FHA.



NEW SEEDMEN OFFICERS—Officers for the coming year for the Louisiana Seedmen's Association, elected this week at the conclusion of the 1954 annual convention, are shown shortly before the session closed. Auto Accident Death Toll Dips Here During '53

A summary of motor vehicle accidents within the city limits of Monroe during the year 1953 showed a marked decrease in the number of accidents, injuries and deaths. The report was tabulated by the traffic department of the Monroe police department and will be sent to the National Safety Council shortly.

Number of deaths due to traffic accidents during 1953 was six, which is less than half the number for the preceeding year and well under 1951's number. In 1952 14 persons were killed, which number included six persons killed in one wreck on July 3, 1952 at the Plum street crossing. For the year 1951 nine persons were killed.

Similar comparison in the number of injuries also showed a steady decrease during the three year period. In 1951 a total of 182 persons were injured; in 1952 176 injuries were recorded, and last year the number dropped again to 142.

Accidents during the same periods show a drop of over 100 between 1953 and 1952, while the previous year, 1951, the number was nearer the 1953 level of 1077. In 1951 a total of 1102 accidents were reported to the traffic bureau, while 1952 saw reports on some 1195 accidents.

The total of 1077 was substantially below the number for the previous year, and was termed by Captain Jack Davis, head of the traffic bureau, "a very good medium considering the size of Monroe and the number of automobiles which are on the streets."

Breaking down the accidents into various categories, the report showed that pedestrian accidents totaled 34. Of this number, three were fatal, 26 non fatal, five causing property damage. In the non-fatal category 13 persons were severe and the others only slight.

Collisions involving two or more vehicles totaled 989, one of which was fatal. Non-fatal accidents in this particular category totaled 93 and collisions causing property damage numbered 895.

Accidents involving motor vehicles and railroad trains numbered six with one fatality. Four other such accidents were non-fatal and still another caused property damage.

Other accidents listed in the report included collisions with busses, bicycles and fixed objects. Automobiles overturned and other non-collision accidents accounted for 12 more with no fatalities.

Boykin Named VA Hospital Manager

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The veterans administration said today that Dr. J. Melvin Boykin has been named manager of its hospital at Lincoln, Neb.

He succeeds the late Dr. H. A. Scott, who died last November.

Boykin now is chief of professional services at the veteran hospital at Richmond, Va. He joined the agency in 1946 at its Alexandria, La. hospital and later worked in its hospital at Temple, Tex.

First state to adopt an unemployment insurance law was Wisconsin, in 1932.

DINNER IS SERVED — Meal time is a happy time for these energetic co-eds who run a house and meet classes too. Seated, left to right, are Charlotte Holloway, Jo Ann Henderson, Janet Shipman Tims, Wyolene Hadskey, Doll Batman and Betty Sue Rockett. They are being served by Freddie Free, who takes her turn this week in assuming the responsibility.

FOOD AND FUN—Food holds constant charm for college co-eds above. Preparing meals is not just work for those who live in the Home Management House at Northeast State. It must be a good dinner in the making, judging from the tantalizing aroma coming from the pot which Freddie Free is stirring and the pleased expression registered by Janet Shipman Tims as she inspects the ice box.

IT'S BUDGET TIME—Miss Robbie Lee Coxe, who directs the Home Management House, discusses accounts with Betty Sue Rockett. Girls who are studying proper methods of running a home are taught that learning to live well but economically should be emphasized in planning for the coming week.

BEDROOM PARADISE—All girls like bedrooms designed like this one for beauty and comfort. Jo Ann Henderson neatly spreads her bed while Betty Sue Rockett reads another chapter for class assignment.

I'M HAPPY TOO—Northeast's youngest co-ed is Debbie, five and one-half-month-old daughter of Mrs. Freddie Free, home economics major. It's fine to get so much attention, Debbie thinks, as Wyolene Hadskey lifts her from the play pen. She is growing so fast that her daddy, Calvin Free, will hardly know her when he returns from military service in Korea.

It's Not All Book Work

Home Management Is A Live Subject At NLSC

Study, work and fun have formed a wonderful design for living in the Home Management House on the Northeast State campus. The eight coeds who have enjoyed this experience agree: "We can't overestimate the value of the project."

The Home Management House is unique among educational facilities at the college. Planned as a laboratory for advanced practical courses, the structure actually is a home operated by home economic students who take turns handling the roles of hostess, cook, assistant cook and maid.

Each group of four students occupies the home for a nine-week period. This seems the most feasible procedure, according to Miss Robbie Lee Coxe, home economics instructor in charge of the project.

The cottage, with its long front porch, includes a spacious combined living and dining room, furnished in early American style. Modern furnishings are accented in the three bedrooms and sunporch and the kitchen and bath rooms are up-to-date in equipment. Attractive rugs, draperies which blend throughout the house, and lights, chosen for colorful effects and comfort, create an atmosphere favorable for happy living.

Present student residents of the cottage are Freddie Boughton Free of Mangham, Charlotte Holloway of Spencer, Janet Shipman Tims of Baskin, and Mary Lee Ruple of Monroe.

The four who initiated living in the home included Betty Sue Rockett and Doll Batman, both of Rayville, Jo Ann Henderson of Monroe and Wyolene Hadskey of West Monroe.

But the coed who has caused the most excitement in the house is Debbie Free, who bears the distinction of being Northeast's youngest student. Debbie was only four months' old when she began sharing quarters with members of the household. Now she has added a month and one - half to her age and is cutting two teeth. She must be a smart girl, she reasons, to please her daddy, Calvin Free, who is seeing military service in Korea while she and her mother are in school.

The Child Development Class which observes the baby agrees that she is the perfect coed. The Home Management House must be a mighty good place to live for Debbie never fusses about her food nor cries when the girls are preparing lessons. She doesn't even break the night's schedule of rest for Debbie sleeps as late as the students do.

Besides helping with the baby, the students have other roles to fill.

It is the hostess' duty to see that the home is properly run. She welcomes all visitors, prepares for special occasions and gives instructions to the maid. She has the choice of a featured affair planned each week.

The student serving as cook must plan all meals a week in advance. It is her duty to provide a well-balanced diet and see that no food is wasted. If she fails to purchase an item needed for a meal or neglects to get enough of any foodstuff, she has only one alternate—making use of an available substitute or doing without.

Each meal is followed by a discussion as to its merits and possible improvements.

One formal dinner is served weekly. This means wearing evening clothes and practicing formalities demanded by the occasion.

The job of assistant cook is just what the name implies. To the maid falls the lot of housecleaning and laundering.

Duties rotate weekly to provide opportunity for each coed to serve in every capacity. Finances and time, due to class attendance, are closely budgeted. The average cost of a meal per person is 28 cents.

Friends and relatives visit the girls, and dates are all right as long as they do not interfere with the routine of the home. But only on one week end during their residence period are girls permitted to go to their homes.

The Home Management House is more than just a place where students learn to serve as hostess, cook or maid. It is a place where they learn to cooperate and gain mutual understanding. These home makers acquire the fine art of living together.

Twins Of Their Own

BAUMHOLDER, Germany, Jan. 16—UP—An American couple who adopted twin German boys last year announced Friday the birth of twins of their own. A boy and a girl were born Tuesday in the Neubreuke general hospital to Capt. and Mrs. Louis R. Oppenheimer.

The University of Alaska, in Fairbanks, is the only institution of higher learning in the territory.

Mayor Fant Will Speak Here On Civil Defense

Mayors, police jury presidents and Civil Defense directors in the 12-parish District F of Northeast Louisiana have been invited to attend a "restricted" meeting in Monroe January 24 with Shreveport Mayor Clyde Fant as speaker.

This is announced by District Director A. B. Clarkson who said that Fant is scheduled to report on portions of the Civil Defense concepts outlined at a White House conference for mayors which he attended in Washington last month.

"Developments in new weapons and Civil Defense plans make it urgent for the officials in the district to attend the conference," declared Clarkson. "State Civil Defense will be represented at the event by Reece M. Kolb, deputy director, who with Director Francis A. Woolfley participated in a similar conference in Washington for state civil defense heads."

At the December session for mayors, President Eisnhower warned that cities are in the front lines of future wars and that areas of the nation which escape attack must be prepared to aid the stricken sections, Clarkson noted.

The January 24 conference in Monroe is scheduled for 3 to 5 p.m. at District F headquarters on 400 Stone avenue. Parishes in the district are Caldwell, East Carroll, Franklin, Jackson, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Ouachita, Richland, Tensas, Union, West Carroll.

Plan Ladies' Night

State College Enrollment Shows Double Increase

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 16 (Special) — College and university enrollment in Louisiana last fall showed an increase twice the national rate, the public affairs research council said today in its monthly News Analysis.

Public school enrollment also increased, but slightly under the rate for the nation, PAR reported.

The college and university enrollment increase for Louisiana was shown as 9.5 per cent over the preceding fall with a total enrollment of 36,674. For the nation, the increase was 4.7 per cent over last year.

According to PAR, enrollment in Louisiana's public elementary and secondary schools went up three per cent over 1952 to reach 548,527. This compares with a national increase of 4.3 per cent.

Rivers of Nova Scotia because they are narrow and short (seldom more than 50 miles in length), are little traveled.

College Offers Special Classes In Sociology

Registration for special work is scheduled January 30. The class will meet each Tuesday from 4:30 to 7 p.m. in room 204 of Brown Hall. The hours were chosen for the convenience of persons who would find it difficult to schedule the work during the regular day calendar of classes.

The course carries three semester hours of credit and may be applied toward a degree in social sciences, John A. Pritchett, who will teach the class, explained. It is a standard course in sociology and social welfare, the sociology instructor added.

Presented on a discussion group basis, the work is designed for persons taking college courses, parents, and others who are not planning to enroll for other classes or to follow a specific curriculum.

Sociology 135 will give the history of the family and comparisons of the contemporary American family with other family patterns throughout the world.

Discussions will pertain to specific problems such as economic questions, budgeting, the role of each member of the family, mate selection and courtship, husband-wife relationship and parent-child relationship.

Conservation of family values will be stressed and the occupational status of women also is to be emphasized.

Blueprint For Enormous Building Program Expected Soon

Ike May Use Housing As Mainstay To Prosperity

By NEIL MACNEIL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 —UP— The Eisenhower administration, confronted by fears of recession in many quarters, may use the multimillion dollar housing industry as a mainstay to stabilize the national economy at a prosperous level.

The administration has been flooded with proposals to set up various "stand-by" public works programs for emergency use when—and if—necessary.

But informed sources here believe it highly unlikely the administration will depend on any such "make-work" formula. Besides the enormous costs that would be involved, a full-scale public works program would take nearly two years to establish.

The administration's plans probably will be well spelled out in the annual report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers later next week. Although the report is still recent, a hint of what may be in it can be gleaned from two or the administration's most respected advisers — Miles L. Colean and Robinson Newcomb.

Colean, who served on the President's Special Housing Advisory Committee, and Newcomb, special adviser to the Economic Council, had this to say in a recent book:

"Consctruction has shown an ability to increase its efficiency in prosperous times in the past...that type of progress, rather than government subsidy or the anticyclical use of public works, should be the first line of defense within the construction industry itself."

The housing industry itself has plugged hard to convince the administration of the importance of housing construction levels to the overall stability of the country's economy.

John M. Dickerson, executive director of the National Association of Home Builders, put it this way: "The vital importance of the home building industry to the stability of the entire American economic system has been demonstrated grapically by the severe mortgage crisis that gripped the housing market during much of 1953. The inability of builders and prospective home buyers to obtain adequate mortgage credit caused a midsummer letdown in residential construction that threatened for a time to touch off a general business recession."

Despite the critical mortgage shortage, the housing industry built an estimated 1.1 million homes during the year — the fifth year in a row that construction has been over the one million mark.

Although some builders have cut back their planned production for this year drastically, recent surveys indicate that the majority of builders not only are expanding the number of homes they plan to build but are also increasing the size of the individual units.

The administration has several means already at hand to encourage further expansion. Chief among these are "liberalizing" FHA credit terms and sponsorship of a secondary market for mortgages.

Another sure-fire means of increasing sales is the competition that is rapidly mounting in the industry itself. Builders now must offer more value and take less profit than they did in the post-war "Seller's market.'

Red Cross Spends 40 Per Cent On Servicemen

Approximately 40 per cent of the Red Cross expenditures last year were made in behalf of servicemen and veterans, according to a year-end report to the Ouachita Parish Red Cross chapter to the Ouachita zation's national headuarters in Washington.

A financial report released by E. Roland Harriman, national chairman of the Red Cross, revealed that over $35,000,000 was spent by the national Red Cross and its 3,700 chapters to help the troubled man in uniform and his family back home and helpless veteran patients.

Total expenditures for all Red Cross services for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953 amounted to $86,041,583. Other services included National Blood program, disaster preparedness and relief operations, health and safety services, Junior Red Cross, and the training of many thousands of volunteers as gray ladies, nurse's aides, staff aides, motor service, recreation workers in hospitals and various other community services.

The Red Crohss Blood Program, according to the financial statement, cost the organization over $12,000,000. This covered collection of 1,791,640 units of blood for treatment of civilian patients, procurement of 2,320,000 donations for national defense needs, and the production of gamma globulin for distribution by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

The Red Cross, according to the report, aided over 25,000 families back to normal living after reverses in major natural disasters. This service, together with a preparedness program, cost the organization $6,776,000. Chapters and the national Red Cross staff participated in 319 major disaster operations.

Over $5,576,000 was spent on programs helping to improve the nation's health and safety. Two million persons were trained in first aid, home nursing, and water safety skills.

The organization's nucleus of career personnel in chapters, at national headquarters and area offices, and at military installations in the U. S. and overseas, was augmented by about one and a half million volunteers.

The American Red Cross, Harriman's report pointed out, spent $255,000 last year by way of meeting its obligations in international programs and operations of the Red Cross. Last year, ARC funds were allocated for a number of flood, earthquake, and other major disaster operations in other countries. Other activities included assistance in establishing joint Red Cross teams to visit POW camps in Korea during "Operation Big Switch."

For activities of the Junior Red Cross last year, the report showed an expenditure of more than $2,722,000. A total of 19,600,000 boys and girls were enrolled in the Junior Red Cross for the year.

Judge Hardy Will Address Women Voters

"The Need for the Revision of the State Constitution" will be the subject of the address to be given by Judge George W. Hardy, Jr., of Shreveport at the general meeting of the League of Women Voters of Monroe Monday at 6:45 p.m. on the roof of Hotel Frances. Dinner will be served prior to his address at 7:45.

The judge was born in Corsicana, Tex., January 5, 1900, and has resided in Shreveport since 1907.

After serving as volunteer in the first world war, he was graduated at the Virginia Military Institute in 1920, studied law at Louisiana State University and was admitted to the bar in 1922.

He served as mayor of Shreveport 1932-34 and is now serving his twelfth year on the court of appeals.

At the present time he is chairman of the constitutional committee of the Louisiana State Bar Association.

Invitations have been extended to the bar association, legislators, judges, and other interested citizens. As this is a timely subject, the League cordially invites all interested men and women to attend. Chairs will be provided for those who do not care to attend the dinner.

Mrs. James N. Riddle is president of the League and will preside at the meeting. Mrs. J. B. Thornhill and Mrs. Frank Gordon will act as hostesses in receiving the guests. Mrs. Guy Dupriest has charge of arrangements and is assisted by Mrs. H. V. Collins.

Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. H. Theo Goss, state president of the League of Women Voters of Louisiana, will accompany the judge to Monroe.

State Working Age Dropping

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 16 (Special) — The working age population of Louisiana dropped in the two years and three months ending July 1, 1952 while other age groups increased, according to the public affairs research council.

In its monthly news analysis, PAR said the population in the state from 18 to 64 years of age dropped 1.8 per cent from April 1, 1950 to July 1, 1952.

This drop compared with seven-tenths of a per cent for the nation and nine-tenths of one per cent for Southern states.

Total population in Louisiana increased 1.4 per cent in the two years compared with an increase of 1.7 per cent for the south and 2.5 per cent for the nation.

An increasing birth rate for the state was reflected in a 5.2 per cent population increase in the group five years of age and under. This compared with a three per cent increase for the south and 6.1 per cent for the nation.

In the 5 to 17 age group, Louisiana population rose 6.4 per cent compared with 6.3 per cent for the south and 8.4 per cent for the nation.

There was a 4.4 per cent rise in the group 65 years of age and over in Louisiana compared with 6.2 per cent for the south and 6.8 per cent for the nation.

More than one-third of the population of Washington state is concentrated in the cities of Seattle, Spokane, and Tacoma.

JAMES A. NOE

James A. Noe Is Chairman Of 1954 Red Cross Drive

Ouachita Parish chapter chairman, Harold V. Brady, announced today that Mr. James A. Noe has accepted the chairmanship of Red Cross fund campaign. Mr. Brady stated, "We feel very fortunate in securing so outstanding a civi leader, and loyal friend of Red Cross as Mr. Noe."

Mr. Noe served in World War I. He is owner and operator of radio stations WNOE in New Orleans and KNOE TV in Monroe. He was governor of Louisiana in 1936; senator 1936-1940. He has served as Democratic national committeeman since 1940; served as king of Mardi Gras ball in Washington last year, and was appointed by Governor Kennon as a member of Louisiana Purchase Sesquicentennial Commission.

Last September 23 was proclaimed James A. Noe Day by Mayor Coon in honor of Mr. Noe's interest and development of industries, radio and television.

Mr. and Mrs. Noe reside at 1204 Fairview Ave., Monroe, La. They have three children, Mrs. Gordon McClendon of Dallas, Tex., Jimmie and Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Noe have both been active in every phase of civic and charitable work in our twin cities, and both have been loyal supporters of Red Cross work for many years.

Mr. Noe stated that he would select his division leaders for the March campaign at an early date.

Neville Boys, Baskin Girls Win Tourney

RECORD UNBLEMISHED—The Neville High School Tigers got one of their hardest fights of the season last night but emerged with their 23rd consecutive cage victory at the expense of the Calhoun High Chiefs in the championship finals of the boys' division of the Ouachita Invitational last night. Members of the Tiger squad, unbeaten in prep competition this season, are pictured above, left to right: Standing, Ernest Carter, James Hudson, Fred Frickie, Art Swanson, Billy Hardy, Gene Barham, and Coach Allen Bonnette; kneeling, Donald Spatafora, Larry Reeves, David Freund, Wayne Causey, Jerry LaPrarie, and Mickey Yerger. Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Few people outside the actual baseball men themselves are thinking much about the grand old pastime this season of the year, but baseball interests are working just as strong as ever. A lot of preparation must go into getting ready for a season, and the Twin Cities Baseball Corporation is no exception.

The Twin Cities organization is the new group which has taken charge of the Monroe franchise abandoned by Shreveport in the Cotton States League. When the stockholders named Ed Head as general manager and non-playing field manager of the club several weeks ago they made one of the big hurdles in the chase to rebuild a strong baseball club here. And Ed has been a busy man every day since.

A talk with Manager Head yesterday brought out the announcement that the club is starting a campaign to rename our Cotton States entry, and the club will present a season pass to the person first submitting the accepted name. Entries already include Twin City Gassers, Sports, Miros (after Fort Miro which once stood here), Chicks, Drillers, and Twins. Oddly enough the name getting most support right now is "Sports," and we say "oddly" because there seemed to be a general opinion at the end of last season that Twin City fans didn't want anything in the way of a name suggesting a tie-up with the Shreveport Sports.

To submit your suggestions for the club name simply address your entry to Manager Ed Head, Twin Cities Baseball Corporation, 201 South Grand street, Monroe, or submit by telephone by dialing 3-9461.

Head, Saul Adler, and R. D. Farr Jr. are attending today's Cotton States League meeting at Greenville, Miss., with two big jobs on the day's docket. Number one is the decision on whether to operate with a six or eight-club league, and next will be adoption of the 1954 schedule.

Meanwhile, work toward preparing for the new era of baseball here continues in the way of sale of stock to put the club on a firmer foundation, improvement of Legion Memorial Stadium, sale of box seats at the park, and acquisition of ball players.

Dr. W. L. Bendel, club president, has emphasized that the sale of club stock is still open. "We would like to sell at least another thousand shares of stock," the club leader revealed, and purchases may be made for $25 per share. Stock certificates are already being printed and will be mailed to stockholders in the near future.

Ground work at the park is already in progress. A profile of the playing field has been staked off with all stobs indicating the desired fill of soil desired to improve drainage of the field. As soon as the ground is dry enough to work, dirt will be hauled in, spread and graded to meet specifications desired.

Manager Head announced he has already made contact with several free agents relating to joining our club as players. He said two have "orally agreed" to terms, two others have practically agreed, and some others are still undecided. "We'll announce the names of our players when they have signed contracts," Head declared, and he indicated he expects to attract some good talent, particularly earlier in the spring.

If the news seems scarce for a week or two or more regarding our baseball outlook, don't worry. The job is in capable hands, and the men who have accepted the task of furnishing the kind of baseball we want are working hard just the same to bring about that end. We hope to help enjoy the fruit this summer.

U. S. Amateur Net Rules Are Eased To Help Players

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Crestfallen by another Davis Cup defeat at the hands of Australia, the United States Lawn Tennis Association today relaxed its amateur rules so that players can work for sporting goods companies and serve as instructors under an annual salary.

This unprecedented decision by the U.S.L.T.A. meant that for the first time the United States will conform with the rules of the International Lawn Tennis Federation which specifically gives its members permission to work for sporting goods companies. The U. S. has been the only country in the world which has refused its amateurs such a right.

The association virtually scrapped the entire amateur code of the U.S.L.T.A. and replaced it with the rules of the International Lawn Tennis Federation. Until now the U. S. was the only country in the world which prohibited its players from holding jobs with sporting goods companies.

In another new ruling, the association voted to permit players to teach tennis and receive payment. However, they must be hired by a club and be paid an annual salary. They cannot be hired by an individual person seeking instruction.

Also changed was the footfault rule, permitting the right foot to swing over the service line before a player hits the ball while serving. The old rule said a player must have both feet back of the service line before hitting the ball.

FIGHT TO DRAW

Perry Moss Leaving Louisiana State For Job At U. Of Miami

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 16 (AP)—Perry Moss, backfield coach at Louisiana State, today was named to succeed Eddie Dunn as an assistant football coach at the University of Miami.

Moss, 27, is a native of Tulsa, Okla., and was an outstanding quarterback at the University of Illinois. He joined the staff at Louisiana State in February, 1952.

Tidewater Takes Hialeah Feature For $103 Payoff

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 16 (AP)—Abe Levinson's Tidewater, longest priced horse in the race at nearly 50 to 1, won the Hialeah Inaugural Handicap before a crowd of 23,811 at Hialeah Park today, covering the six furlongs in 1:11 1-5.

Tidewater whipped a classy band of 17 other three-year-olds and upward and paid $103 even, $32.20 and $17.70 in the $2 mutuels. A. H. Bowen's Sweet Vermouth was second, three lengths back, and paid $8.30 and $5.90.

Belair stud's Hyphasis was third, a neck behind Sweet Vermouth. Hyphasis paid $7.70. Brookmeade stable's Dutch Lane was fourth.

Tidewater, carrying 110 pounds including jockey Eldon Nelson, was away in front at the start and fought it out with Hasty House farms' Torch Of War until they reached the head of the stretch where Torch Of War gave up and Tidewater continued to pace the pack.

The race had a gross value of $21,525 and net to the winner of $15,950, the richest Hialeah Inaugural in the track's history.

The Syracuse University cross-country team has won every dual meet in the last two years.

Tiger Five Nips Calhoun; Baskin Rolls Over Lions

By TED HECKATHORN

For the second time in one week, a standing-room-only crowd jammed and squeezed into the spacious OPHS gymnasium to watch the undefeated Neville quintet defeat Calhoun, 55-53, in the boys' finals of the Ouachita Parish High School Basketball Tournament; and the ever-strong Baskin girls roll over the Ouachita sextette, 61-27, in the girls finals.

The Tigers had to come from behind, after a second-period 18-10 deficit, but with Bill Hardy scoring nine, and Art Swanson six, the Bengals took a 32-26 intermission lead.

With Calhoun's Joe White hitting from all angles, the Chieftains ʎɐʍɐ dod oʇ sǝssoq ɹıǝɥʇ pǝɔɹoɟ and pandemonium reigned as they went ahead, 39-37. Their lead was short lived, however, and the Bengals were ahead at the end of the period, 45-42.

In the thrilling fourth, the remarkable floor play of Hardy and Wayne Causey kept the points fairly even, and Causey's final minute pulleed even in the third, at 37-37; Prarie and Hardy aiding, kept the lead intact, and the ball away from Calhoun and its dead-eye marksman, White.

The entire Neville five played a strict team game, with Freddie Frickie leading the Tiger point-makers with 18, Swanson with 16, and Hardy with 11.

Calhoun's White was the game high-point man, with ten goals and a free throw, for 21 points. White was also the outstanding Chieftain on defense.

The Baskin sextette, in their championship win over Ouachita, led at the end of the first period, 14-3; 35-11 at intermission; and 50-21 at the end of the third.

Tall forward Alice Humphreys sparked the winning point-makers, with 20; and teammate Barbara Woods accounted for 25 to take high-point honors for the tilt.

The Ouachita girls were considerably off on their aim last night, with usually accurate hook-shot artist Rheiha Norman missing constantly, although she sank enough to lead the Lion lassies, with 14 markers. The tall Baskin defense dribbling freeze, with Je rry La at long range throughout, with Virginia Brunson hitting for four mid-court shots, plus a free throw, for nine points.

Leading at the end of the first period, 14-3; the second, 35-11, and the third, 50-21, Baskin's ever-strong sextet was paced by tall forward Alice Humphries, with 20 points, and Barbara Woods, who was the game's high scorer with 25. Tall Alice Hammond was the outstanding defensive player for the ball-hawking winners.

The Ouachita girls were off on their shooting, Retha Norman missing numerous hooks although she was the leading Lion scorer with 14. The tall Baskin defense forced the Ouachita girls to pop away at long range throughout, Virginia Brunson hitting four mid-court shots, plus a free throw, for second high scoring honors for the losers, with nine.

In the boys' consolation, Ouachita downed West Monroe, 43-26. Faced by sharp-shooting Larry Barnes, who chalked up 22 points, and Billy Smith, with half as many, the Lions led all the way to take a surprisingly easy victory. Richard Kincade led the Rebel five with 15 markers.

The Linville girls overcame an 18-15 Bastrop halftime lead to register a 42-36 win in the girls' consolation.

Sparked by Gloria Love, who took high-point honors with 26, 13 of them in the second half, the Linville sextette pulled into a 32-23 lead at the end of the third and stayed ahead the rest of the way. Bastrop's leading scorer was Shirley Smith, with 18 points.

Neville reached the finals by downing the West Monroe boys, 43-27, in the 1:45 semi-final; and the Calhoun Chieftains defeated the host Ouachita Lions, 32-26, in the 12:30 tilt.

Neville, undefeated prior to tip-off time in 21 consecutive prep tilts this season, took a first quarter head of 12-4, and were never approached throughout. Leading at intermission, 20-13; and at the end of the third, 32-19, the Tiger five played an entirely different brand of ball than they did Friday night.

The Rebels played an aggressive floor game, but were constantly out-reached on rebounds by sky-scraping Bengals Billy Hardy, Fred Frickie, and Art Swanson. Jerry LaPrarie and Wayne Causey, constant interceptors and floor hawks, were equally outstanding for the winners.

Reserve Dennis Fields was the outstanding floorman for the Rebs, and was also their high-point man, with nine. "Chubby" Johnston was the scrappiest West Monroe courtman under the hoops, and gave the tall Tigers a run for their money on every rebound.

The Tiger points were spread around between all five players, with Hardy scoring 12, Frickie, 10, LaPrarie eight, Causey seven, and Swanson six.

Calhound had their second consecutive hard-fought battle in the local tourney, with Joe White chalking up 18 points to lead all scorers, and keep his team in front during the hectic fourth.

During the first half, the Lions' passing was way off, plus many misses when they did find the mark; and after intermission, they couldn't seem to locate the hoop. Ace Larry Barnes missed three lay-ups, for an indication of the hosts' inaccuracy, and Doyle Holstead saw four consecutive jumps in front of the basket bounce out.

After trailing at halftime, 13-8, Ouachita took a 21-18 lead in the third period, but couldn't hold it, Calhoun soon going ahead, 23-21 to remain in front. Barnes, because of numerous misses and the tight Calhoun defense, was held to 12 points, while Johnny Maroney, who along with Holstead, covered most of the Lion rebounds, was second with eight.

The Ouachita girls reached the finals by virtue of a 43-34 win over the Linville sextette in a morning game. Rheta Norman dropped in 23 points for the winners, Virginia Brunson was next, with 13, closely followed by Betty Jo Lee, who had 12. Linville's sharpshooting Gloria Love was the high scorer for the game, however, swishing in 14 field goals for a 28-point total.

In the girl's game immediately following, the perennially strong Baskin sextette rolled over the Bastrop six, 51-15. Leading 32-5 at the half, the Baskins, who handle the ball like boys' veterans, were never approached. Misses Woods and Humphreys led the winners' floor attack, with 19 and 12 respectively. Vida Horne was high for the Ram lassies, with five.

In the 8 a.m. opener, the Ouachita boys gained the semis by beating Rouston, 36-28. Leading 18-17 at intermission, the winners forged ahead during the third and fourth quarters. Barnes led the game scorers, with 23 Lion markers, and Bob James had ten to pace the losers.

The West Monroe quint downed Bastrop, 42-30, in the following game, coming from behind after Bastrop had led, 17-16 at halftime. Bastrop had a 14-point second quarter, which the Rebs overcame with 13 markers in the third. Johnston led the Rebel scorers, with 13, and "Duggo" Fincher was next for the winners, with ten. Bob Loftin paced Bastrop, with 14.

STAYS WITH BLUES

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 16 (AP)—Harry Craft has accepted terms to manage the Kansas City Blues of the American Association again next summer. Craft came to the Blues from Beaumont last season and led the club to second place in the pennant race and victory in the playoff.

All-Star Teams

All-tournament selections for the Ouachita tournament are:

Girls—Barbara Woods, Baskin, Retha Norman, Ouachita, and Nolan, Linville, forwards; Charlotte Brown, Ouachita, Puckett, Bastrop, and Alice Hammond, Baskin, guards. Second team selections were Stephens, Neville, Betty Ruth Jarrette, Baskin, and Smith, Bastrop, forwards; McHenry, Ouachita, Shadie, Linville, and Noel, Neville, guards.

Logtown Splits Cage Twin Bill With Okaloosa

The Logtown Elementary boys and girls divided their initial Ouachita Elementary Athletic Association basketball gamts with Oskaloosa Thursday night, Logtown's girls winning, 32-17, and the Okaloosa boys scoring a 36-15 win.

Christine Telano, with 14 points, and Armadine Miller, with 12, led the Logtown girls. In the boys' contest, E. L. Turnbow led Okaloosa with 22 points. Billy Carlisle was high for Logtown with five.

Kentucky Cagers Shellac Tulane In 94-43 Victory

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 16 (AP)—Kentucky blasted Tulane into submission in the opening minutes to take an easy Southeastern Conference basketball victory 94-43 before a capacity crowd in Memorial Coliseum tonight. The victory was the 11th straight without a loss for Kentucky, currently the nation's No. 1 power.

Harrison Forges Ahead In Bing Crosby Tourney

By RUSSELL NEWLAND

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 16 (AP)—Grizzled E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, 43-year-old veteran of the golfing wars, battered four strokes off par in the wind today to go into the lead of the Bing Crosby Pro-Amateur Championship Tournament with a two-round total of 139.

When the chips were down and the going tough, the one time Little Rock, Ark., caddie, now professional at Ardmore, Okla., came through with a 35-33 to assume charge at the 36th hole of the 54-hole $10,000 event.

What big Dutch was taking over the role of pace setter, Texas Tony Holguin of San Antonio who startled the field with his first round 63, put on a "gone with the wind" act today.

He took an 81 at Cypress Point, nine over par, in contrast to his nine under figures yesterday over the Monterey Peninsula course. Holguin simply blew to pieces and his two-day 144 left him trailing the new leader by five shots.

Tommy Bolt of Houston moved into contention with a second-round 70 and total 141. Jimmy Demaret of Houston also jumped into the thick of it with a fine 68, giving him a tie with Bolt at 141.

Doug Ford of Yonkers, N. Y., tacked up another 71 for a total 142.

Defending champion and favorite Lloyd Mangrum came through with a 70 and total 143. Deadlocked with him were ex-champ Byron Nelson, with 72-71; Australian champion Peter Thomson with 73-70; Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif., 69-74 and Bob Toski, Haydenville, Mass., 72-71.

Techmen Beaten By Southeastern Quint, 74 To 62

HAMMOND, La., Jan. 16 (AP)—Southeastern Louisiana raced past Louisiana Tech's defending Gulf States Conference basketball champions 74-62 here tonight.

Southeastern took an early lead and boasted a 39-21 edge at the half. Led by Chester Coker and L. V. Norris, Tech cut the margin to 58-50 at the end of the third period, but Southeastern pulled away again in the final period and won easily.

Coker led the scoring with 27 points, 24 of them in the last half.

It was Southeastern's seventh victory against seven losses. In conference play the winners have a 2-0 mark. Tech has a 7-4 season mark, but has lost three of four conference games.

Nebraska Sticks With Glassford As Head Mentor

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 16 (AP)—The University of Nebraska will stick by its contract with head football coach Bill Glassford, it was announced today.

A statement issued by acting chancellor John K. Selleck with the concurrence of the board of intercollegiate athletics and all members of the board of regents save one who could not be reached said the athletic board today "unanimously voted to fully and in good faith comply with all provisions of its contract with Mr. Glassford...."

The statement said this action was approved by the regents by telephone and will be formally ratified at the next meeting of the board.

It promised that Glassford will have "complete support of his university" in attempting to "reestablish wholesome relations with his entire squad."

A university spokesman said this statement summarizes its position concerning the football situation which developed with efforts to oust Glassford despite the fact he has an apparently air-tight contract for two more years at $12,500 a year with a five-year renewal option.

DeVicenzo Ties Sam Snead For Lead At Panama

PANAMA, Panama, Jan. 16 (AP)—Roberto DeVicenzo of Argentina, defending champion in the $7,500 Panama Open, recovered from a double bogey today to tie Sam Snead for the lead at the close of the third round.

Trailing the West Virginia by two strokes when play started today, DeVicenzo put himself further in trouble when he went two over par on the fourth hole. But he played brilliantly over the back nine to turn in a score of 68 against Snead's 70 so that the two turned the 54-hole mark even at 203.

Snead, leading since the first day when he shot 66, fell into the tie today when he three-putted the 18th green.

Antonio Cerda of Argentina regained third place from Skip Alexander of Southern Pines, N. C., shooting a 70 for 54-hole score of 209. Alexander followed his 66 of yesterday with a 74 and total of 210, one stroke ahead of Charley Harper of Fort Benning, Ga., who had 70 today.

23 Teams Among Early Entries For Northeast Meet

Deadline Set For Next Saturday On Additional Teams

The sixteenth annual Northeast Louisiana State Invitational High School Basketball Tournament, scheduled here for February 5 and 6, has already attracted an entry list of twenty-three teams with other contenders possible before the next Saturday deadline, it was announced yesterday by A. S. Huffman and Miss Ada Bess Hart who jointly conduct the event for Northeast Louisiana State College here.

Teams failing to receive invitations but desiring to participate may do so by mailing entries to Huffman, in charge of the boys' division, or Miss Hart, who will conduct the girls' section.

Coaches entering the teams are invited to be present at the Northeast State gymnasium Saturday, January 30, at 10 a.m. to participate in the drawings. Absent coaches will be represented by members of the Northeast faculty.

Teams already entered were listed as follows:

Boys—Calhoun, Louisiana Training Institute, Delhi, Eros, Epps, Baskin, Forest, Pioneer, Oak Ridge, Neville, Collinston, Weston, and St. Matthew's.

Girls—Calhoun, Delhi, Epps, Baskin, Forest, Pioneer, Neville, Weston, Ouachita Parish High, St. Matthew's.

The entries to date show the defending champion Baskin girls and last year's runner-up Forest returning for action, but the champion and runner-up in the boys' division, Jonesboro-Hodge and Chatham respectively, have not yet been listed among the competing boys' teams. The consolation winners, Ouachita girls and Calhoun boys, will be back shooting for higher honors.

Miss Hart has stressed that all girls participating will be required to furnish health certificates, a regulation of the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, an exception only for parish, district and state championship (not invitational) tournaments.

Raintree, Pipe Of Peace Grab One-Two Purse

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16 (AP)—Raintree and Pipe of Peace, a W. Hal Bishop entry, ran one-two in the $5,000 Mississippi Handicap at the Fair Grounds today.

Raintree broke first from the starting gate and led all the way to win by a head. The winning time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:45 4-5.

Raintree was ridden by Robert Baird.

Miss Joanne finished third, four and a half lengths behind Pipe Of Peace, but was disqualified for interfering with Futuresque during the stretch run. Futuresque was awarded show money.

The entry paid $8, $6.40 and $4.40 and Futuresque returned $4.20. About 14,000 fans bet a total of $633,906.

Evangeline Loop Meeting Today To Settle Problems

LAFAYETTE, La., Jan. 16 (AP)—Baseball team owners and representatives of the Evangeline League will meet here tomorrow to count heads and work up a playing schedule for the coming season.

Eight clubs are lined up for the 1954 season. But only six teams are sure starters.

The Lafayette Bulls and Baton Rouge Red Sticks are on the doubtful list. Both are in financial difficulties.

A new organization would have to be set up to bring the Lafayette club back into operation since the Lafayette Baseball Association, Inc., club operator last year, have gone into bankruptcy.

Evangeline League president Edmund L. Deramee said a request has been sent minor league president George Trautman asking permission to reorganize the Lafayette club. Deramee did not disclose who the reorganization backers were.

He said he hoped to receive Trautman's decision in time for tomorrow's meeting.

The Baton Rouge future is clouded by a $13,000 bill owed the federal government in back taxes. The Red Sticks' owners also would have to raise $2,000 for their annual dues to the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Of the remaining six teams, Lake Charles, La., Port Arthur, Tex., and Texas City, Tex., joined after their Gulf Coast League folded last season.

The Thibodaux club, playoff winner last year, will be missing this year. It gave up its franchise.

The other teams are Alexandria, Crowley and New Iberia.

Rebels Put Kick In North District 'AA' Cage Race

By BILL McINTYRE

North Louisiana Double-A basketball is still a far cry from the brand dished up down South Louisiana way but the gap between the two sectors shouldn't be quite as wide in 1954 as in past years.

The current panorama discloses a far tighter battle for first place than is usually the case around the North AA circuit and the addition of West Monroe should kick the lethargy out of contented league mainstays. This does not signal a revolution in these parts because one can be sure that an upstate five won't be the one to snap St. Aloysius' grip on state titles. But North quintets could be inaugurating a new era which will eventually find them on an even keel with New Orleans dribbling. Local coaches are setting the style with perhaps more junior classmen listed as starters than ever before.

Ouachita Parish High of Monroe, the defending champion, probably will relinquish its grasp on the title and bow out noisily as Byrd of Shreveport and Bossier City stage a donnybrook for the vacant crown. The dethroned Lions of Ouachita can be classified as darkhorse material along with newly-inducted West Monroe and contending Bastrop. If the picture is not out of focus, Fair Park of Shreveport and Haynesville are perfect cellar material.

Cage interest in the bigger schools is on the incline and some day, in the not too distant future, chances are that the larger schoolboy squads will draw on fan support to equal the Class A and Class C clubs. Byrd and Fair Park, alone, are planning construction of two new gymnasiums for a starter.

John Laughlin's Byrd Yellow Jackets reside in the uncomfortable favorite's seat according to preseason predictions by the seven loop coaches but Frank Lampkin's Bossier Bearkats aren't rated far behind.

Laughlin dons the favorite's mantle due to the presence of four time-tested seniors in his lineup along with a flashy sophomore and three of these five starters range from six-feet up. The two shorties, Sonny Buckles and Gene Newton, are veterans of the hot-and-cold Jacket five of 1953 and both are capable backcourt aces. The height comes in the form of pivotman Lee Fountaine (6-3), forward George Cunningham (6-1) and sophomore forward Eddie Burt (6-0). Cunningham is the most prolific scorer but he's not on a par with Fountaine or Burt under the boards.

Bossier is caught without height, a must in Lampkin's style of play. Freddie Wright and Gene Madden, both 6-3, were counted on to help but injuries knocked them out of consideration leaving husky Leonard Faulkinberry (6-2) as the only squad player over six feet tall. Marvin Cutrer and Bobby Cockrell are good players but they stand only 5-7 and Ptte Walpole, the amazing long-set artist, hovers around 5-11. The other starter in Lampkin's depleted hand, Henry White, a recruit from the 1953 B team, also stands 5-11 but he needs more time to develop. Bossier's position in early-season rankings hings on Lampkin's coaching ability and the Green and White's great record just before the Christmas holidays.

Larry Teague's departure will hurt but one consolation—every starter except Big Faulkinberry cames back next year.

Herbert Holliman's Ouachita Lions appear to be a shade off the top, thus halting a streak which saw them share the crown with Fair Park in 1952 and win outright last year. Most of Holliman's 1953 club is gone but he has the Times' All-District star, Larry Barnes, back in harness.

West Monroe's debut in prep circles as a stiff problem to Ouachita compatriots but these same title-defending Lions were supposed to have been weak last year. Remember?

Barnes, lately a pointmaking whiz, sparks the club from whichever position Holliman places him and his strongest support may come from John Maroney, a 5-10 sophomore brother of graduated Eddie. Billy Smith, James Moore and Doyle Halstead will help in spots to relieve the pain of losses Walt Bennett, Ed Estep and Tommy Sanders. The latter starred as a soph last season but has since switched to West Monroe.

Dan McClure's first tenure at West Monroe has been surprising in early season games. The Rebels moved into the loop lead after the first two weeks of action with a 2-0 record on wins over Haynesville and Bossier. McClure, who moved into the Rebel camp from Ponchatoula, banks his hopes on high-scoring Richard Kincaid, a senior, and the aforementioned Sanders, who captains the squad as a junior. Johnston, Fincher and Powell round out the starting five but a sophomore Gary Huckaby is a comer.

Fair Park's Clem Henderson coaches what may be the district's most under-rated array, an array which is loaded down with improving junior classmen. Only Willie Dowden, a reserve, is a senior in the top eight players. The Indians aren't expected to bash anybody around in the upper echelons but Bill Massey, Richard Lee and Cecil Rhodes, all juniors, and soph Jimmy Orton might give somebody fits when the spark is ignited. Fair Park in '55 is the watchword here.

Bud Lively lost heavily at Bastrop when Benny Johnston, A. W. Reed, Ed Francis and Gene Mardis departed leaving Ben Dunn as the only holdover. But rebuilding is the theme for the Rams and Lively has a pair of twins, Bob Bob and Bill Lofton, and two brothers, Larry and Ralph McKinstry, to gloat over. John Crow, junior guard, is another boy who'll be around in "All or Nothing at All" 1955.

Haynesville is consigned to the basement through force of habit more than anything else. Strictly a football town, Haynesville doesn't stress basketball at all and the second win this year eclipsed last year's entire list of conquests.

Rod Frasier and Billy Wayne Johnson are the seniors handy but it can't be called a rebuilding season for Zack Henderson. The Golden Tornado doesn't possess too much outside of Johnson, Sonny Bond and possible Mickey Murphy and David Harbin. They're not championship material, though.

The first two weeks of the current campaign for cage laurels uncovered a few surprises. Fair Park dumped a Bastrop team which was favored to win handily and West Monroe tripped power Bossier City. A few more such surprises are in store and it may turn out to be interesting after all.

Holly Ridge Set For Cage Event Next Week End

HOLLY RIDGE, La., Jan. 16 (Special)—The annual Holly Ridge High School Invitational Tournament will be held next Friday and Saturday. Again the tournament has a select group of the best teams in northeast Louisiana.

Epps, winner of the boy's division last year will try to repeat. Stiff competition will be met from Holly Ridge, Pioneer and Central. Other teams that will help to make this one of the best tournaments in northeast Louisiana are Rayville, Wisner, Start, Oak Ridge, Baskin, Ferriday, Oak Grove, and Crowville.

The Holly Ridge teams, having won two tournaments, is proving to be the best produced at Holly Ridge. Coach Kennedy's boys are showing exceptional skill in team work, passing and shooting.

In the girl's division Oak Grove, winner of last year, is missing. Taking top pre-tourney predictions is Rayville, who was runner-up in the '53 tourney. Other girls entries are Ferriday, Mangham, Epps, Holly Ridge, Pioneer, and Wisner.

The dark horse in the girl's division is Holly Ridge. The Holly Ridge sextet composed of a group of very young players shows signs of greatness and weakness typical of a young team. The important feature of these lassies is their team spirit and determination. Coach Kalil's girls have advanced rapidly this year and much is expected of them in the future.

Trophies will be presented to the first, second, and third place winners of the boy's division and first and second place winners of the girl's division. Sportmanship trophies and all-tournament metals will be awarded to those selected by the participating coaches.

HEADS RACERS

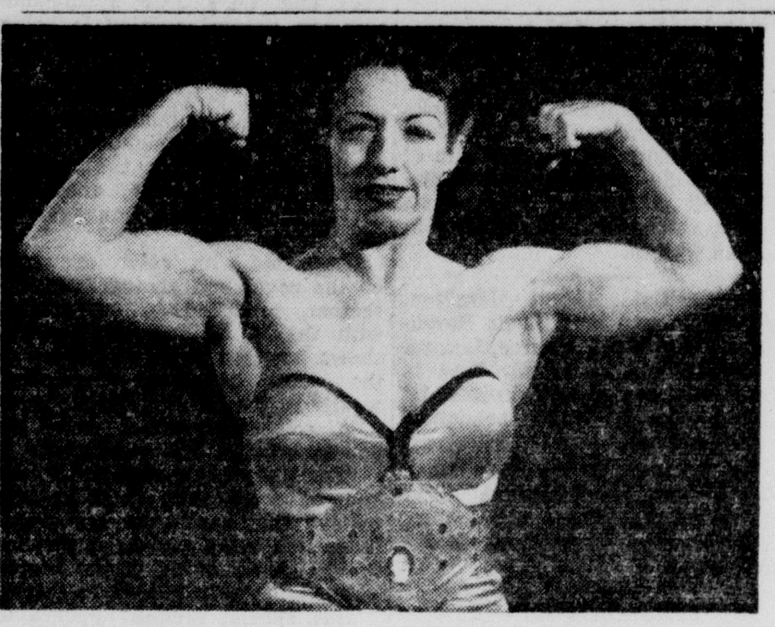
Mildred Burke Tuesday



MAT QUEEN Mildred Burke, (above) recognized nationally as women's wrestling champion, appears at Kallio's Arena Tuesday night in a two-falls-to-win main event match against Millie Stafford, well-known girl veteran. George Curtis fights Al Massey in the second half of the double main card.

Mildred Burke, best known woman wrestler in the country today, and nationally recognized as the world's female wrestling champion, comes to Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, in the feature two-falls-to-win attraction against Millie Stafford, another well-known girl wrestler.

The second match of the billed double-main event brings together George Curtis and Al Massey, also wrestling the best of three falls, with an hour and 15 minutes time limit.

Promoter Kallio, who has long been acquainted with Miss Burke, informed this paper some weeks ago that he was corresponding with Mildred in an effort to close negotiations for a Monroe appearance, and has finally been successful in scheduling the renowned mat queen.

Genuine grit and recuperative powers have made Miss Burke one of the most sought-after, as well as determined champions in the world. An automobile accident indisposed her with five broken ribs, sterno, clavical joint pulled loose, severe contusions, bruises and cuts, yet, with a brace on her back, she began reconditioning and training, and eight months after the accident, decisioned challenger Nell Stewart before a crowd of 10,000 at Columbus, Ohio.

After the hectic bout, it was revealed one of her broken ribs had been torn loose again, but despite the obvious pain, the gritty titan-haired champ retained her world's title, as well as the Mid-west corwn and the national TV-championship.

Miss Stafford, who has wrestled here approximately three years ago, hails from Dallas, Texas, and is a skillful veteran of the mat trade. As rough as they come, and a vet to boot, she is sure to give Miss Burke a hard battle Tuesday night.

The nightcap match pits the popular young Curtis against the toughest foe he has ever met here. Big Massey, a tricky, fast grappler, has always been a crowd-pleaser locally, and whether young George has acquired the skill to compete with a vet like Massey remains to be seen.

The Burke-Stafford bout is slated for 8:15, with admission prices unchanged.

TO HONOR GRANGE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16 (AP)—Red Grange, the galloping Ghost from Illinois, will attend the golden anniversary dinner of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association Jan. 25 to be honored as the outstanding football player of the past 50 years.

Cream Of Professional Grid Set For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Old rivalries bloom again tomorrow when all-star teams of the Western and Eastern conferences of the National Football League collide in the fourth annual post season Pro Bowl football game in Memorial Coliseum.

Upwards of 35,000 fans are expected to witness the game in person, and millions more can see it on a national television system. Kickoff time at 3 p.m. (Central Standard Time).

Thirty-one players are on each squad—a select array from the 12 clubs in the NFL. And on each squad is a strong nucleus of the top two teams which battled for the league championship last Dec. 27.

The champion Detroit Lions have seven players on the western team, including quarterback Bobby Layne, backs Doak Walker, Jack Christiansen, Yale Lary and linemen Les Bingaman, Lou Creekmur and Dick Stanfel.

The Cleveland Browns, beaten 17-16 by the Lions for the title, have eight players on the Eastern squad. They are quarterback Otto Graham, backs Ray Renro, Harry Jagade, Warren Lahr and linemen Len Ford, Dante Lavelli, Lou Groza and Abe Gibron.

Brown coached the Easterners to the first Pro Bowl victory in 1951, 28-27. The Westerners won the next two games, 30-13 and 27-7.

St. Paschal's 5, Calhoun Girls Win Cage Tilts

CALHOUN, La., Jan. 16 (Special) — In a pair of elementary school basketball games here Friday afternoon, the St. Paschal's boys quintet of West Monroe defeated the Calhoun boys, 23-20; while the Calhoun sextette easily beat the visiting six, 20-6.

Mike Potier led the St. Paschal's five to their win, scoring ten points; and Miss Thompson paced the Calhoun girls in their victory, with 16.

Pettit Hoops 37 Points As L. S. U. Trips Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 16 (AP)—With lanky Bob Pettit tossing in 37 points, Louisiana State romped to a 76-62 victory over Tennessee tonight in a Southeastern Conference basketball game.

Pettit, who has averaged 34.1 points per game in leading the Tigers to an 11-2 record this season, pocketed 13 goals from the floor and added 11 more from the free-throw line.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

"Be Your Age," Little Theatre's next comedy offering, is progressing nicely with rehearsals. With the addition this week of John Heckert to the cast in the role of Elliott, they have completed blocking and the preliminaries for Act One. Monday the group will begin Act Two.

The complete cast of those who will bring you this excellent comedy of romance include Genny Butz, Joanne Genung, Katharine Magruder, Mrs. Ralph Bird, Gerry Kenny, John Heckert, Ray Pruitt, Palmer Jarrell, Jr., David Brinson and Herbert "Grandpa" Nobes.

The director is now turning his attention to volunteers for backstage work and to the construction crews who will build the set for "Be Your Age." Incidentally, we found out it pays to advertise. After our little SOS for the missing step ladder at Little Theatre, it was discovered back in its 'ole place at the playhouse when the fires were lighted for Friday evening's rehearsal. Gee! Thanks, to somebody — It was needed for the work party Saturday afternoon.

"Be Your Age" is scheduled to open Thursday, February 4, the first week in February.

RANDOM NOTES — Vera and Dick Troy returned yesterday from a three day convention in famous old city of New Orleans . . . Twin City Concerts has a treat in store for the membership, next Friday evening when it presents Igor Gorin, super-baritone, who is a top name in the fields of concert, opera, radio and teltvision. He is one of the four or five baritones who have edged tenors out of the preeminent place they once held in the world of song. Mr. Gorin will be presented in concert at Neville auditorium . . . Another event that is anticipated this week will be Jaycee banquet Monday evening, at the Rendezvous, when the outstanding young man of the year will be named. Gene Williams is chairman of this year's banquet. We are like everybody else — wondering who this year's outstanding young man will be. R. C. White, Jr., local hero of the Korean war, and one among the first young men named to the honor of outstanding young man of the year, will be in attendance . . . Say, you know we've had lots and lots of fads in games, remember monopoly, miniature golf, canasta and a host of others. Now we have Scrabble, the brand new crossword puzzle game that is sweeping the country as well as our own fair city. I understand that Stocker and Margaret Fontelieu introduced it here. They brought their own Scrabble set along with them on their Christmas vacation in the Twin Cities. Now everybody is playing Scrabble. Louise and Dr. Klam, among the most enthusiastic, held a Scrabble party in their home Friday evening. It is a lively game that is popular with everybody even those who are not dyed-in-the-wool crossword puzzle fans. The manufacturers are six months behind on orders for the new game . . . Visitors to "Be Your Age" rehearsals this past week included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butz, Barbara Addison, Fleta Latham, president Julius Cahn (still on his crutches), Phil Sperier and Mrs. L. M. Brinson . . . And that about winds up another "Curtain Call" except to remind the work - minded that it would be awfully nice if the set for "Be Your Age" could be completed this next week.

Contract Awarded To Build Tunnel

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 15 (AP) — The Department of Highways said today a $2,377,000 contract has been awarded to R. P. Farnsworth & Co. of New Orleans for construction of the Belle Chasse tunnel under the Algiers navigation canal in Plaquemines Parish.

Highway board member Richard Freeman of New Orleans said work will start Feb. 1 and is expected to be completed in about two years.

The 800-foot long tunnel will be located on state route 31 at Belle Chasse.

Deaths

MRS. AGNES D. SISCOE

Funeral services will be held 3 P. M. Sunday at the Gordon Avenue Methodist Church for Mrs. Agnes D. Siscoe of 400 Pargoud, Monroe, who died early Saturday morning at the home of a niece, Mrs. Sarah Peterson, in Houston, Texas. She had been ill for a long time.

Officiating at services for Mrs. Siscoe, who had been a resident of Monroe for 20 years, will be Rev. M. D. Felder, pastor of the Gordon Avenue church. Burial under the direction of Hixson Brothers Funeral home will be in Riverview Cemetery.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Port McFalls, Monroe; Mrs. Nell Morgan, Monroe; three sons, Kenneth Harvey, Houston; Jack Siscoe, Rayville; Harry Harvey, Connecticut; one sister, Mrs. Fred Myers, Houston, and several grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be W. C. Sullivan, W. T. Hamilton, C. L. Taylor, C. B. Parsons, Floyd Serrington, H. O. Hankins. Honorary pallbearers will include all members of the official board of the Gordon Avenue Methodist Church.

Mrs. Siscoe was a member of the Gordon Avenue Methodist church. Her husband, O. L. Siscoe preceded her in death.

The Prairie, an auxiliary ship designed to provide overhaul and maintenance to destroyer type ships, is currently tending ships of the United Nations Forces operating in the Korean waters.

Total Eclispe Of Moon To Occur On Monday Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—A total eclipse of the moon—the only one for the next three years—will be visible throughout most of the United States and Canada Monday night.

If it's a clear night millions will be able to watch the half-hour show when the earth's shadow passes over the face of the moon, changing it from silver to a deep copper and then back to silver again.

Enough of the sun's rays spill around the earth to prevent the moon from being completely blacked out.

The Far West won't see the beginning of the eclipse because by the time the moon rises out there, the earth's shadow, a 6,000-mile disc, will have already begun to cross the moon's 2,000-mile face.

The real dark part of the eclipse will last from 9:17 to 9:47 p.m. in the Eastern time zone.

The moon will start to darken down to the naked eye before that, at 7:50 p.m. (EST) and traces of the shadow will remain until 11:14.

Technically, the eclipse begins at 6:40 p.m. (EST) and lasts until 12:42 a.m. (EST) Tuesday, but only an astronomer would notice.

Bad Security Risks

10 To 20 Fired From Propaganda Agency Of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The director of the government's overseas information-propaganda service testified today that some 10 or 20 of its 7,800 employes have been fired or allowed to resign as security risks since Aug. 1.

Theodore C. Streibert, head of the much-investigated U. S. Information Agency for the last five months, said he is "confident that we have no subversives" on the payroll now.

His figures on security risks were only an off-hand estimate, produced under questioning by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) at a hearing of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee. Streibert said he would supply an accurate count later.

The 10 or 20, he said, weren't Communists. In most instances, he said, they were dismissed or permitted to quit under fire as "a matter of stability." He didn't explain that, other than to say they were security rather than loyalty cases.

USIA officials said that as of Nov. 30 the agency employed 1,174 Americans and 6,682 foreigners in its operations in 78 countries.

The subcommittee chairman, Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), told newsmen he had heard a larger number of USIA workers than the 10 or 20 Streibert mentioned had left because of security reasons shortly before Streibert took charge. Streibert agreed that "of course a lot of action had been taken prior to Aug. 1."

USIA was set up last year as an independent agency to take over from the State Department the Voice of America and most of the government's other information and propaganda activities directed toward other nations.

Sears Catalog Pays Salute To Saving Forests

Saluting those who help conserve and rebuild the south's great forests in a special three page section, including the cover, Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s 1954 spring-and-summer general catalog is being distributed this week to customers in this area.

The section points out that prudent use of its woodlands adds more than $5 billion annually to the south's income from the sale of timber products alone, according to C. D. McAdams, manager of the Monroe store.

Illustrated with color drawings on the cover and photographs, the section, produced in cooperation with the U. S. Forestry Service, shows how the forest resources of the south represent increasing wealth in the form of timber products, soil conservation, water for power, wildlife and recreation.

"Sears pledges its full and wholehearted cooperation to those who believe that caring for our woodlands will bring greater opportunity and better living to the people of our land," Mr. McAdams stated.

This special section appears in the general catalogs being distributed by the Atlanta, Greensboro and Memphis mail order houses of Sears, it was explained.

From a merchandising standpoint, the big news in the new spring general catalog is prices.

Prices in this book are on the average more than 1 per cent below those in the fall general catalog issued six months ago, with hundreds of price reductions being listed.

A TRULY MAGNIFICENT PLANTATION

A truly magnificent plantation of 1520 acres of loamy North Central Louisiana soil, located in the ox-bow of the beautiful Ouachita River. Amply protected by one of the best levees in the state, this property claims level and unusually fertile land unsurpassed in this section of the South.

This unique tract has been held by the same family for over 40 years. Currently stocks 170 head of White Faced Hereford cattle, and equipment sufficient to maintain a herd of 2½ times as large. Two hundred acres could be immediately cultivated and irrigated. Six hundred acres within one year after proper clearance of small gum saplings. The balance is in shady timberland, including a lake claiming some of the best fishing in Louisiana. The hardwood timber growth has not been touched commercially for over 10 years.

The yard area and equipment includes two heavy-duty tractors, one medium bulldozer, automatic hay baler, hay rake and other hay equipment, a hay barn filled with 3500 bales with an additional 1500 bales stacked in the fields, an all purpose barn, tractor shed, garage, pick-up truck (3/4 ton), machinery shed, 5-room block house completed four years ago, and several smaller buildings. The yard area is completely electrified. A free-flowing 200-gallon-an-hour artesian well, plus a river-fed lake, insures an ample water supply for an immense herd of cattle. The entire acreage is ideally suited for complete irrigation of row crops. Owner will retain mineral rights, plus homesite of 40 acres.

POUND FOR POUND

HOW WOULD you like to pay 5 cents per pound for choice steak? Well, that's approximately what you'd pay for the average home today if you purchased it by the pound! So . . . accumulate a few odd nickels and make the down payment on this sensibly priced home at 1009 Ark. road in W. M. for $950 down is all it takes. . . . And it's a 3 bedroom home! Among the 936 Sq. feet of living are these livable features: nice screened porch . . disappearing stair to attic . . floor furnace & attic fan . . . 30 gallon water and outside aluminum awnings. Wanta' look today?

FOR A TREAT

INSTEAD OF A treatment . . give us the happy privilege of showing you this graceful home on a 75x150 foot lot at 4002 SPURGEON DRIVE. If you're the type who dotes on real wood burning fireplaces with a tremendous brick chimney . . . you'll buy this one for that alone. But, on the other hand, you might buy it for some of these impressive features: 6 rooms, two 11'x15' bedrooms and a comfortable den; recent GE dishwasher; 2 floor furnaces; house has gutters & downspouts; it's roomy, containing 1300 Sq. feet of living area; the floors are glistening hardwood and "to boot" the home has a lifetime termite contract plus a TV antenna installed. Only $2,000 down turns the key . . . so, call for appointment today!

YOU GOT TROUBLES

IF YOU THINK you have troubles . . . you oughta' be in Mr. Hancock's shoes! Here's a man who built what he always wanted . . . a home in the country but he can't move in for he still possesses an elegant brick at 4208 Lee Ave. that he's practically giving away. An elegant brick with these appealing features: 60'x 150' corner lot; 2 roomy bedrooms & a den; unusual bath with shower & colored fixtures; attic fan & copper plumbing; an enticing breezeway opening into a captivating kitchen with splashboard, natural woodwork cabinets, and recessed light over sink. Wanta' help Mr. Hancock move into his new home by buying this one at 4208 LEE? $2400 makes the move!

CURIOSITY KILLED...

THE PROVERBIAL cat . . . and it'll almost drive you nuts in this imposing home on a corner lot at 322 STEWART in W. M. For it has so blooming many closets you begin to wonder if all doors don't lead to closets. Most of them do but some lead to such features as: 3 bedrooms, bath-and-a half; large (19'x18') living room with dining area; spacious kitchen with natural woodwork cabinets; a 12'x20' breezeway on the back; a carport with 7'x12' storeroom with washer plumbing, and wiring for dryer; it also has floor furnace and attic fan. It's vacant and $2300 down is all it takes. Let us show you today.

NO NEED LOOKIN'...

UNLESS You're in the market for a home that surpasses anything you've ever seen before in one of Monroe's choicest neighborhoods! Here is a home (built 13 yrs. ago) that combines elegance and artistry with comfortable living throughout! In the breezeway, for instance . . . or the three large bedrooms . . . or the two tile baths . . . the 2239 Sq. feet of living area . . . the (3) floor furnaces . . . the double carport . . . the corner lot (113'x 150') . . . the interior decoration by FRIEND-PIPER . . . the imported chandeliers . . . the dining room with a separate breakfast room. These are just a the few of the many exciting features to be found in this distinctive home. Call for appointment today.

DEFIES COMPARISON!

AND HOW, for this home is constructed of solid brick (not masonry) with a lifetime white, crushed marble roof, lifetime aluminum windows throughout, 2 bedrooms and a unique den with an outside entrance. This flawless home also has central heating; Roman brick fireplace & chimney; pine-paneled dining area; an enclosed garage with storage; an inviting kitchen uniquely arranged; and all the foregoing is on a 130'x156' corner lot on SANDEL DRIVE and priced at $16,795.

WISH...

WITH ALL YOUR heart and possibly you'll get this pace-setting home on a 75'x150' corner lot at 707 K with all it's delightful features! Such refreshing features as: a double garage; a tastefully decorated 18'x14' living room; a screened side porch on the east side; one bedroom has double closets; house has floor furnace . . . 48" attic fan . . . and a graceful bath with shower. There's also a 6'x8' utility porch off the kitchen. $2175 down makes your wish come true! By appointment, take a "peek" today.

IT'S TREMENDOUS...

AND SO WELL arranged! This 7-room, 4-bedroom home warrants superlatives we don't even know, for here's a family home on an 81'x150' lot that deserves the best of families like yours! Not only does it have 4-bedrooms, but also a large living room with fireplace; separate dining room; 44" attic fan; a large aluminum screened porch; wallpaper in excellent condition throughout; glistening hardwood floors; a detached garage and a whole host of other features! The best of all: it's selling for $1000 less than FHA value and only $1800 down buys it! It's located at 708 S. 5th in West Monroe.

YOU'VE NEVER SEEN...

A HOME SO large (1134 Sq. feet), with so many inviting features priced so reasonably! Indeed . . . for here's a 5-room home in excellent condition on a 75'x150' lot with these desirable features: both bedrooms are 14'x14'; separate living & dining room; side screened porch; a matchless kitchen; large utility room; detached garage with store room; floor furnace & attic fan and more too! It's located at 1102 COLE AVE. and only $1550 down makes the move.

KID'S DELIGHT!

COULDN'T BE any more so . . . for this imposing home is endowed with everything to make the kids as well as Mom & Dad happy! This majestic home sits on a 100'x150' lot and contains these features: 3 bedrooms; separate living and dining room; (2) floor furnaces; a large (20'x8') kitchen with stove hood . . loads of cabinet space . . . and a GE dishwasher; master bedroom has double closet & built-ins; there's a 50 gallon water heater; steel fenced back yard; a 10'x26½' den on the back and an attached garage that's almost large enough for a gym! On top of all this, it's just a ½ block to the new W. M. high school and a block to Millsaps grammar. It's vacant and located at 405 TRAVIS ST. $2900 down does the trick.

TRADITIONAL

Due to the trend of the times, informal hospitality makes kitchens a center of attraction in every home. Pictured today are a few to demonstrate homeyness, convenience and deluxe efficiency.

EARLY AMERICAN—Robert and Rhymes Oliver enjoy the homeyness of their grandparents, the Harry Olivers, Early American kitchen. The original maple table and matching captain chairs add charm to the home-like quality of the room. The Olivers say, "wherever it is we serve our guest, he always likes our kitchen best."

TRADITIONAL—The Welsh Cupboard, high back chairs and the old pine table add beauty to the efficient kitchen of Mrs. Lucian Harris in her new home on Point Drive. Michael likes a sandwich and a glass of milk as he comes in from school in the afternoon.

OPEN FIREPLACE COOKING—Friends gather for barbecued steaks and good cheer around this fireplace in the breezeway of the Charles C. Whittelsey home off the old Sterlington Road. A sink at the far side and electric burners at the other form one wall of this cheerful room.

ULTRA MODERN—In the M. J. Carbone home on Loop Road, Mrs. Carbone gets pleasure in looking through the window at the beautiful lawn as it slopes to the water's edge of the bayou, as she plans her menus for the day.

COZY AND CONVENIENT—A pleasant interlude is afternoon coffee with Joan Sugar, either on the terrace of her home on Deborah Drive overlooking Bayou DeSiard, or in this cozy and convenient kitchen with walls of avocado green, and a terra cotta ceiling that blend with the pine paneling of the cabinets and the bamboo shades.

Purely Personal

Friends are welcoming Mrs. Marshall Purvis of Jackson, Wyoming, the guest for several weeks of Mrs. Allen Sholars on Riverside. Mrs. Purvis has come to Monroe from Troy, Alabama where she spent the Christmas holidays with her daughter, Mrs. James Wood.

Col. and Mrs. Robert Hare left Friday after a weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe for Dallas to be with the Gordon McLendon's a few days. They will visit in New Orleans before returning to their home in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Wood Brown returned home this week after a visit with her son and his family, the Wood Browns, Jr., in New Orleans. While in the Crescent City, Mrs. Brown attended the famous ballet "The Swan Lake" featuring Margo Fonteyn. She was also entertained at several pre-Mardi Gras festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan S. Cook have also returned from New Orleans where they visited his sister, Mrs. O. Z. Zeagler, who is recovering from a recent illness. They also spent a few days in Baton Rouge before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hill of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived on Saturday for a short visit with Mrs. Hill's mother, Mrs. Joe McCormick. Mrs. Hill is remembered as the former Miss Jean McCormick.

Mrs. Irene Reid left today for Chicago where she will attend the National Advertising Executives Association conference, which will be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel. Mrs. Reid will serve as chairman of one of the group meetings of this conference.

Major Paul Docker of Dublin, Ireland, is the houseguest of the R. C. Whites. Several informal gatherings have been given in his honor since his arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Gentry are visiting friends in Arkansas. Earlier in the week they were the guests of Mr. E. W. Freeman and Mr. Gordon Freeman in Pine Bluff. Mrs. Gentry presented a copy of her novel, "Mama and the Outlaw" to the Pine Bluff Public Library in memory of the late Mrs. Blanch Newman Freeman. She was also a guest of the Kiwanis Club in Pine Bluff where she reviewed her book.

Miss Mary Ann Lunsford of Fort Worth, Tex., is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lynn. She will spend a week with the Lynns before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riser have returned from New Orleans where they attended the state dairy convention which began last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymon C. Goodman left yesterday to spend the week end in Jackson, Miss., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Langford. Mrs. Langford will accompany them home for several days visit.

Fred Hightower and Soule Turner left Saturday for Aspen, Colo., to join friends for some skiing. They will be away about 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weaks are Mobile, Ala., visitors this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Troy have returned from New Orleans where they spent several days last week.

Mrs. Willie L. Jones will spend the next two weeks in Baton Rouge, visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Englerth.

Tallulah Book Club Meets At Club House

The Tallulah Book Club held the January meeting at the Club House on Thursday

During the business session the club went on record as sponsoring a Clean-Up Campaign and also making a request to the police jury to take immediate action in the support of the public library.

Mrs. G. M. Fuller, leader of the program, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Florence S. Abbington, who spoke on the subject, "Happiness As A Heritage." Mrs. Abbington is family life and health specialist of L. S. U. She proved a most interesting speaker.

After the program, refreshments were served from an attractively arranged tea table, by the following hostesses: Mrs. W. L. Roundtree, Mrs. W. P. Yerger, Mrs. M. B. Christian, Mrs. A. B. Kelly and Mrs. Ethel Fuller. There was a good attendance of members and Mrs. Abbington and Mrs. Louis Buckner were welcomed as guests.

MISS ELLEN FONTENOT

Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Cox Fete Bride-Elect At Tea-Shower

Receiving the guests were the hostesses, Miss Hudson, and her mother, Mrs. William C. Hudson. The honoree looked lovely in a gown of lavender nylon net embroidered with dainty pearls and rhinestones. Enhancing her beauty was a corsage of pink Peruvian lilies presented her by the hostesses. Mrs. Hudson was attractively attired in a dress of black crepe trimmed with rhinestones, and with matching stole. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Inviting the guests to sign the guest register was Miss Nancy McCormick, wearing a costume of olive green tafetta and pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of yellow ranunculus.

The reception rooms looked especially pretty with arrangements of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and bird of paradise.

Miss Janice Dennis of Jonesboro, who wore a gown of yellow nylon net and a wristlet of white carnations, directed the guests to the tea table where Miss Mary Ann Scurria was seated at the silver service. Miss Scurria's gown was of blue taffeta and nylon net and she wore a wristlet of red carnations. The table was covered with a Japanese cloth over a pale green cloth. In a container of silver centering the table was an artistically arranged floral piece of white chrysanthemums dipped in silver glitter. Surrounding the centerpiece were tall white tapers in silver holders.

The guests were invited by Miss Dennis into an adjoining room where the numerous gifts were displayed. The hostesses' gift to Miss Hudson was a silver well and tree platter.

Approximately 100 guests called during the afternoon.

Miss Fontenot Is Bethrothed To W. D. Boatright

Miss Ellen Fontenot and Willis Dewitt Boatright have completed the plans for their wedding. The ceremony will be solemnized on February 14 at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with Reverend James T. Horton officiating. Miss Fontenot is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eloi Fontenot of Oakdale and Mr. Boatright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bethel Boatright, 500 McKinley Avenue.

Miss Fontenot will have her sister, Mrs. William Henry Endy, Jr. as her matron of honor. Mark Boatright is to be his brother's best man. Ushers include Danny Sullivan, Tommy Leos and Lyndell Thrower.

The bride-elect attended Oakdale High School, Southwestern Louisiana Institute and George Peabody College for Teachers.

Dates Announced For Pilgrimage

Natchez, Miss., unfolds the pages of its fascinating history each spring for the thousands who throng its streets and sunken roads. This year from February 27 through March 31 the doors to thirty hospitable antebellum houses will be thrown open to visitors during the annual Natchez Pilgrimage. Hoopskirted belles and crinolined lasses will welcome discerning guests who seek the beauty created by generations now gone. The master architect, the inspired cabinet - maker, the potter, the silversmith, the textile artisan — all have contributed their peerless creations to blend into the harmonious decor of these houses which time has touched only with gentle mellowing. Three days are required to see all of the houses opened; five houses are visited morning and afternoon, making six tours in all.

On Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings, excepting March 31, colorful tableaux will depict the life of the halcyon days just preceding the War Between The States. This "Confederate Pageant" is a presentation which will transport the observer to another era and leave an unforgettable memory of beauty and grace.

A program of Negro spirituals, presented by the Natchez City Chorus on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, does full credit to the haunting music of a race which has always expressed its emotions in song.

Natchez is well prepared to house all visitors. In addition to hotel and motel accommodations, private homes enlist their aid in taking care of the overflow. It is wise, though not completely necessary, to make reservations in advance of arrival.

Natchez beckons you to a new experience in an old world and extends to you a cordial invitation to take a sentimental journey into the past. Make your plans to visit Natchez on the Mississippi during the Natchez Pilgrimage, February 27 through March 31.

MISS CHARLENE MILLER

Charlene Miller Receives Good Citizenship Award

Miss Charlene Miller, a senior at West Monroe High School, was elected Monday by the senior class and unanimously approved by the faculty to receive the Good Citizen Award, presented by Chief Tusquahoma Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Only senior girls are eligible for the award and to be chosen is a significant honor, for qualifications are based on four outstanding character traits — dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

On February 20, the girls who have been selected by their classmates in the high schools of Louisiana as good citizens will go to Baton Rouge, sponsored by their local DAR chapters, where they will be given an examination on government. The winner will receive a hundred-dollar savings bond and will represent Louisiana at the DAR Good Citizenship Pilgrimage in Washington, D. C. This pilgrimage came into being as a development of a citizen training project begun by the National DAR.

Miss Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Miller, of 910 Wilson St., West Monroe, is a brunette beauty and one of the most popular girls at West Monroe High School. She came to West Monroe from De Ridder in the middle of the freshman year and enrolled at Ouachita, where she took an immediate and enthusiastic interest in all school affairs.

When the high school in West Monroe opened in September, she transferred to the new school and continued her active interest in all things connected with her school.

Miss Miller is a member of the First Methodist Church and of the Y-Teens; she was a delegate to Pelican Girl's State, holding office there as city attorney and district attorney; she held membership in the Jeffersonian Club and Lionettes at Ouachita; at W. M. H. S. she is homeroom treasurer, F. B. L. A. secretary, Rebelette president, Jr. Red Cross representative, and library club treasurer. She is editor-in-chief of the school annual and feature editor of the school paper. She served as a football festival maid in the recent football festival held at W.M.H.S. and was librarian-for-a-day at Northeast State College. She has maintained an "A" average throughout her high school years In addition to being an outstanding student from the standpoint of ability and service, Miss Miller possesses a wonderful personality and is a general favorite with both students and faculty.

Home Ceremony Unites Couple

Miss Patricia Ann Warford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Warford, became the bride of Carroll Faye Isgitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Isgitt of Madisonville, Tex., in a simple home ceremony at 9 o'clock Tuesday night, January 5.

Rev. J. D. Kitchingham read the vows.

Mr. Dean Dreyer Guest Speaker At Garden Club

The January meeting of the Monroe Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. George Snellings, Jr. Mr. Dean Dreyer, who has been associated with Friend Piper in Shreveport for six years, was the guest speaker. His subject was, "Bringing the Outside In." He stressed the possibilities in our section of the country for doing this since we have so many months in which the weather is beautiful and mild. He pointed out that there is so much greenery, as well as flowers, that can be used in such a way that they can be enjoyed from within and without. Our gardens can be planned so that our rooms look out upon them. We should then use colors in these rooms which tie in with the colors in the garden.

The brick or lumber which has been used in the outside construction of the house can be quite effective if brought on into the inside of our homes. New wallpapers and materials have been designed to give the feeling of being outside.

After Mr. Dreyer's talk which was greatly enjoyed by the members present, Mrs. DeWitt Milam conducted the short business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ed Dalton. The meeting was adjourned and light refreshments were served to more than one hundred members.

Mrs. J. W. Barham New President Of Pierian Club

Mrs. Joseph W. Barham was elected president of the Pierian Club at their annual business meeting held in Oak Ridge community hall on Tuesday afternoon. Other officers elected were Mrs. Shelby White, vice - president, and Mrs. W. N. McDuffie, treasurer. Mrs. E. M. Barham was re-elected as secretary. These officers will serve for the club year 1954-55.

Mrs. T. E. Barham, president, called for reports of the various projects, during the business session. Mrs. A. B. Conger was appointed to fill the vacancy on the rose garden committee made by the resignation of Mrs. E. L. Maddry.

A donation of twenty-five dollars to the fund for the Restoration of Independence Hall was provided from the club treasury to be supplemented by as many donations as might be obtainable from the interested members of the community. Mrs. Edwin Conger is chairman of this fine enterprise.

Sending a delegate to Girl's State will be a major project for the last half of the club year.

During the social hour Mrs. Shelby White, hostess, served individual cherry pies with coffee to the members present. They were: Mrs. J. P. Causey, Mrs. E. M. Barham, Mrs. Roy Norman, Mrs. C. G. Rolfe, Mrs. T. E. Barham, Mrs. W. M. Nolan, Mrs. Elmer McLendon, Mrs. Edwin Conger, Mrs. John Barr, Mrs. C. E. Shepard, Mrs. J. W. Barham, and Mrs. E. L. Maddry.

Mrs. J. B. Reiley Tells How To Care For Roses

MER ROUGE — Guest speaker at the January meeting of the Mer Rouge Garden Club was Mrs. J. B. Reiley, a member of the club. Her topic was "How to Grow Roses Successfully in Mer Rouge." Mrs. Mrs. Reiley is a rose enthusiast and has been very successful in producing lovely roses in her small but attractive garden. She based most of her lecture on the recommendations from the L. S. U. experimental station, since the type soil, drainage problems, weather and climate are more nearly similar to ours.

One of the several items of business brought to the attention of the club by the president, Mrs. F. A. Tolar, was that the Fifth District Garden Club in Monroe had scheduled the Mer Rouge Club to furnish arrangements and horitcultural specimens for display at the center, during the week of March 30 to April 5. The president appointed Mrs. Shelby White, Mrs. W. T. Blackwell, Mrs. Clare Clark, Mrs. Leslie Clark, Mrs. J. A. Davenport and Mrs. E. T. Davidson as a committee in charge of this assignment.

The club adopted the project of the National Council of Garden Clubs for cleaner highways. This is called the "Litter Bug Campaign." Mrs. T. H. Rankin, treasurer, reported a check for $25 had been given to the fire fighting equipment drive being sponsored by the Mer Rouge Lions.

At the conclusion of the business, a social hour was enjoyed at which time the hostesses, Mrs. C. M. Clark, Mrs. H. L. Herron, Mrs. Leslie Clark and Miss Wilma Jordan served refreshments to the 25 members present.

When you are making a butter cake and the recipe directs that the fat and the sugar be "creamed" well, be sure to do so. This creaming incorporates air into the batter and helps to make a light fluffy cake. The creaming may be done with the electric mixer. To cream by hand, tilt the mixing bowl and work the shortening and sugar together with the back of a wooden spoon against the sides of the bowl until smooth and light in texture.

As you wash your dishes, stack them in a dish drainer, then rinse them with hot water. They dry quickly this way and need little or no wiping. Silverware, however, should be dried right after it's washed.

> The last of life, for which the > first was made.
> —BROWNING

Mr. and Mrs. Breck Fluitt celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, early in December, in the reception suite of the Methodist Church, in Columbia.

Old friends presided over the guest register and the receiving and arranging of the many beautiful gifts. They were Mrs. J. J. Humble, Mrs. Edna McConnell, Mrs. Mear Martin, Mrs. Launa Kidd and Miss Chrissie Davis.

Baskets of golden chrysanthemums formed a lovely background for Mr. and Mrs. Fluitt and their four daughters, Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Malin and Mrs. Etier, as they received the guests. Four handsome sons, Courtland, Cicero, Sam and Tobin were very much in evidence on this happy occasion. Two of the couple's ten children were unable to attend, Mrs. Priscilla Lyles of Cheneyville, and Mr. George M. Fluitt of Denver, Colo.

Twelve grandchildren and two great grandchildren were among the celebrants.

Tea girls, Jo Ann James and Mrs. Ed Robison directed guests to an exquisitely appointed table where the wedding cake embossed with gold was flanked by crystal punch bowls presided over by Mrs. D. O. Sherman and Mrs. Chrissie Redditt. Mrs. Lilla Gilbert supervised the cutting of the wedding cake.

During the cutting of the cake Mrs. Delbert Rogers accompanied by Mrs. A. D. Bridger sang "I Love You Truly". Mrs. Earl Harris played several appropriate selections.

Of affectionate interest to the guests were enlarged pictures of the bride and groom taken on their wedding day, December 9, 1903.

Out - of - town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. J. Q. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Gleaves Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Saucier, Mrs. Ardelle Saucier, George and Mac Wear, Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Martin, Mrs. Francis Hammond and the following sons and daughters - in - law: Mrs. Courtland Fluitt, Mrs. Cicero Fluitt, Mrs. Tobin Fluitt, Mr. T. W. Robison, Mr. Jody Hoyt, Mr. David Fisher, Mr. Herbert Etier, and Mr. Wayne Malin.

Couple Plan Wedding On January 23

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Claudette Schroeder to Paul Ivan Hagle is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Williams, formerly of Monroe and now of Shreveport. Mr. Hagle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Hagle of Haynesville.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, January 23, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Grace Methodist Church of Ruston. The Rev. Douglas McGuire will officiate at the ceremony.

Attending Miss Schroeder will be Miss Elizabeth McKinley of Monroe, maid - of - honor. John Huffman of Alexandria will serve the bridegroom as best man. Ushers will be Paul Hamrick of Shreveport and William Wright of Hamburg, Ark.

Miss Schroeder is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School in Monroe and is presently attending Louisiana Tech where she will receive her degree at the end of January. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and National Collegiate Players and was selected last year as Louisiana Tech Ag-Forestry Queen, Forestry Queen of Holiday - in - Dixie, and Sweetheart of Theta Xi fraternity.

Mr. Hagle is a graduate of Haynesville High School and is now attending Northwestern State College, where he is now in his senior year. Previously he attended Louisiana Tech. At present he is on the staff of radio station KWCJ in Natchitoches. His fraternity is Theta Xi.

Use leftover chicken or turkey this way. Put a layer of drained canned asparagus in a shallow heatproof dish; add a layer of thinly sliced chicken or turkey; top with cream sauce and a generous sprinkling of grated Parmesan or cheddar cheese. Heat in a moderate oven, putting the dish under the broiler for a second-if necessary-to brown the top.

Be sure to hang your dishcloths and dish towels where they will dry well before you use them again. When you launder them, the use of a bottled bleach in the wash water, will help you keep them a good color.

Mildred Beebe Marries In Vicksburg, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Beebe of West Monroe announce the marriage of their daughter, Mildred to Charles H. Philo, son of Mrs. Julia C. Philo of Indian Lake, N. Y., and Frank R. Philo of Cleveland, Ohio.

The ceremony took place in Vicksburg, Miss., on December 26 in the home of Reverend T. O. Pruitt, presiding elder of the Methodist Church.

The bride wore a blue suit with white accessories, her corsage was a single purple orchid. Mrs. J. R. Russell, Jr., was the bride's only attendant and Mr. Russell served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Philo are making their home in Shreveport.

MRS. CHARLES H. PHILO

Pipes-Bottcher Wedding Solemnized In Alabama

The wedding of Miss Jo Ann Bottcher of Cullman, Alabama and Henry Alexander Pipes, Jr., of Oak Ridge, was an was performed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Cullman with the Rev. Henry Meyer officiating.

Sandra Wagner and Betty Sanders lighted the candles. They are cousins of the bride, as were the ring bearer, Dickie Sanders, and the flower girl, Alice Bowling of Marshall, Tex.

Miss June Bottcher, twin sister of the bride, attended as maid-of-honor. She wore a dress of American Beauty velveteen featured with a soft cuff around the top of the strapless bodice, and a shrug shoulder packet. The bridesmaids, who wore identical dresses, were Miss Joann Strozier and Miss Jo Anne Jones of Birmingham, Miss Mary Zoe Snyder of Winnsboro, and Miss Lois Green Stitt of Cullman.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Edwin Bottcher. She wore a bridal gown of white satin with sprays of seed pearls and sequins on the bodice. The bateau neckline was softened with lace. The full gathered skirt formed a circular train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls.

Paul DeBlanc of Winnsboro served Mr. Pipes as best man. The ushers were Charles Bottcher, brother of the bride; Caleb Pipes, of Oak Ridge, brother of the bridegroom; Harry S. Roberts of Columbus Ga. and Douglas Gordon of Athens, Ala.

Parties Given

Miss Bottcher and Mr. Pipes were the honor guests at many prenuptial entertainments. Prominent among them was the supper given at the Elk's Club in Cullman with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pipes of Oak Ridge, La. as hosts. Places were set for thirty-eight guests which included besides members of the wedding party, Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and Miss Mildred Pott from Winnsboro, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Rolfe of Oak Ridge.

Friends in this section of the state were privileged to greet Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pipes, Jr. when the family residence in Oak Ridge was opened in their honor on Saturday evening, January 9th. The spacious home was aglow with electric candles and decorated with choice camellias.

Mr. and Mrs. Windsor Pipes of Collinston and Mrs. Caleb Snyder of Winnsboro, grandparents of the young couple, were gracious members of the reception group.

An interesting decor in the dining room was created with pink camellias as clappers in massed wedding bells. The table was unusually lovely with pink and white flowers for centerpiece. Silver candelabra held lighted pink tapers. At one end was a crystal punch bowl, at the other a silver coffee service. Innumerable dainties were served from trays. Presiding at the services during different periods of the evening were: Mrs. Williamson Pipes and Mrs. David Pipes of Collinston, Mrs. John Snyder and Miss Mildred Pott, Miss Mary Zoe Snyder and Miss Eleanor Williamson of Winnsboro; Mrs. Edwin Conger and Mrs. R. C. Hathcox. Tea girls were Misses Mary Sterling Rolfe, Virginia Sue Shepard, Kay Conger and Nancy Files.

Presiding at the bride's book in the solarium were Mrs. John Barr and Mrs. C. E. Shepard. Stationed at strategic places throughout the reception rooms and assisting in the courtesies of the evening were Mrs. C. G. Rolfe. Mrs. J. P. Causey, Mrs. C. N. McDuffie, Mrs. Joe Mott and Mrs. Neil Mott.

A host of friends enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pipes on this happy occasion. Among the out of town guests were: Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. Louise Gray, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. T. Fitzhugh Wilson, Mrs. Dorothy Hornbeak, of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. B. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Miss Dorothy White, Mrs. Shelby White, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rives. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett White, of Mer Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McPherson of Rayville, Mrs. John T. Dunn of Shreveport, Mrs. Thomas Williamson and Mrs. W. M. Snyder of Winnsboro, Mr. and Mrs. Duke Shackelford of Jones, Judge and Mrs. E. L. Gladney. Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dan Files, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Lucky. Mr. and Mrs. James Madison, Mr. and Mrs. David Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Madison, Mr. and Mrs. Les Latimer, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hornbeak, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Webb Madison, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hathorne, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Garden Club Has Jan. Meeting In Waterproof

The Watrproof Garden Club held its first meeting of the year in the study hall of the Waterproof High School. The meeting opened with the reading of the Gardener's Prayer. In the absence of the secretary, Miss Rose Guice called the roll. A report was made of the Christmas lighting contest. Miss Lydia Marie Testa won first place for outside decorations; Mrs. Reins of Holly Ridge, second and Mrs. Bob Draper, third. The Grace Episcopal Church was first in the decorations of business houses and churches.

Mrs. Levi Thompson, as chairman of the civic committee reported that plans were not definite as to the "town Christmas tree." Mrs. Guthrie read an invitation to the club to attend the meeting of the 5th district Garden Club on February 9 in Monroe. Each club is to exhibit three arrangements and three horticultural specimens. Attention was also called to a meeting in Alexandria Feb. 24 and 25 when the Louisiana Garden Club Federation will be host to the South Atlantic Region National Council of Garden Clubs. Outstanding speakers will be heard. Those wishing to attend should register with Mrs. Curtis J. Smith, route 1, Alexandria, before Feb. 20.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Henry Butts, Mrs. W. V. Pippin, Miss Bernice Colman and Mrs. B. L. Moss, Jr.

The Garden of the Month winners were Mrs. Marvin Higginbotham, first; Mrs. John Tillman, second; and Mrs. William Kimmel, third.

News From The Public Library

Although 325 new books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the month of December only a few of them were new books of fiction. It seems as if the publishers of fiction titles tried to bring out all of their books in the early fall. However, there are several new titles which are worthy of mention in today's column. Eudora Welty from our neighboring state of Mississippi has made a name for herself as one of the modern writers who depicts with fidelity the Southern scene. Her latest novel is called "The Ponder Heart" and is the story of a very eccentric character, Uncle Daniel Ponder. In the words of the author "Uncle Daniel was as good as gold and if he ever did a thing to be sorry for, it was more than he ever intended. He had a mania for giving things away and once tried to give away his own cemetery lot." This is a story that you will enjoy reading and will not soon forget.

Another interesting new book is "Rebel Heiress" by Robert Neill. As usual with the books by this author, the scene is England and this time England of the restoration period. Charles II was on the throne and the Royalists had returned to England to try to regain their estates, salvage their pride and probably seek revenge. This is the story of Richard Carey and his efforts to regain his birthright, only to find that his chief enemy was a beautiful girl. This is a story of high adventure and intriguing romance. It is the kind of book that once begun must be read to the finish. It can be highly recommended.

Mystery stories have been rather scarce lately, but we are happy to have a new Nero Wolfe story "The Golden Spiders" written by Rex Stout. This book is just as exciting as his former stories and will be welcomed by his faithful readers.

Among the new titles are three books which will appeal especially to teen - agers. One is "Stairway to a Secret" by Joy de Weese Wehen. This book has a contemporary English setting. There is an exciting mystery and a lovely young love story. It is a book which teen age girls will like very much. Another mystery story for teen agers is "No Moon on Graveyard Head" by Edith Dorian. This story has its setting in Maine and is a very intriguing account of a summer filled with fun and adventure.

A historical novel for young moderns is "The Crystal Cornerstone" by Lorna Beers. This story has for its setting the year 1776 and the hero is young Thaddeus Long, who was inspired by the words Liberty, Freedom and The Rights of Man. He longed to go off and fight, but his family insisted that he attend College at Princeton. However, he ran away and joined General Washington and had a most exciting time in the army. This is a story of a young man in war and will appeal to every boy who has ever wanted to be a soldier.

These are only a few of the new books at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If you are not a patron of the library, don't delay longer but come as soon as possible and register.

Oakes-Warlick

The marriage of Miss Ruth Ella Warlick, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Warlick Sr., to Bennie Edgar Oakes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Oakes of Durrant, Miss., was solemnized in a double ring ceremony early in December in the chapel of the Emmanuel Baptist Church with the Rev. James Carraway reading the vows.

The rites were performed before the altar which was decorated with large baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and greenery.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a pink wool fitted suit with blue satin hat and accessories of blue. Her bridal bouquet was of feathered carnations with pink ribbons. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Bee was lovely in a pink suit with matching accessories. Her hat and bouquet were identical to the bride's.

The bridegroom was attended by Gerald E. Cowart, who served as best man. The bride's mother chose a pink suit with navy accessories with a corsage of white carnations for her daughters' wedding. Mrs. Oakes wore a suit of light grey with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in their home. In the dining room the bride's table was covered with an Italian lace cloth and had as its centerpiece the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. At one end of the table was the crystal punch bowl and the coffee service at the other.

The first piece of wedding cake was cut by the bride and bridegroom, then Mrs. Charles Bee continued with the serving. Mrs. J. C. Warlick Sr., presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Gerald Cowart assisted at the coffee service.

Roamin' In The Rural

The Farm Squeeze

According to the Economist most farm families will have less income to spend in 1954, Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent, L. S. U. Agricultural Extension Service warns. With higher costs there will be a need to "stretch dollars" in every possible way. Good planning and management of all resources are more important than ever before.

As to clothing and textile, the outlook is one of plenty. Watch for opportunities in special sales during 1954. No drastic changes in fashion trends are in sight. Home sewing will also help stretch the dollar. If you need help, get enrolled in a simple sewing or tailoring workshop.

Another way to stretch the dollar is to "Be Wise With Your Buys." Take advantage of "White Sales." Check your supply of household linens on hand and decide what you will need to add to it so as to keep your sheets, pillowcases, towels, wash cloths, bath mats and table linens up to date. The following is a good rule to follow in checking:

6 sheets for each bed (two on the bed, two in the laundry and two extra ones in case of illness)

3 pillow cases for each pillow

6 towels of each size for each member of your family

3 or 4 bath mats.

If you form the habit of adding a sheet or two, a pillow case or two and several towels each year during the January white sales and rotate the use of these household linens, you will keep your supply up to standard.

Miss Esther Cooley, Consumer Education Specialist, L. S. U. Extension Service, urges you to look for the labels on the household linens you buy so as to know something of what you are buying. You will like to know the quality of the material that they are made of. The size is important and sometime there is a statement on the label about the service to be expected and what care should be given. Form the habit of always reading labels and if they don't give you the information you want, ask the salesperson for more.

The Home

A decline in home building is expected in 1954. More farm families are making major improvements in their homes than are building new ones. Supplies of building materials and major items of household equipment will be adequate. To help offset the decline of income — join the "Do it yourself group." I was in two homes this past week which showed what could be accomplished if you belong to this group. Mrs. Victor Boyd, of Colony Club member, and Mrs. Sam Crowell of Okaloosa Club. These homemakers with their husbands did all their inside decorating, painting, refinishing floors, laying of tile, etc. Each stated it would have been impossible to have had a home had they not followed the "Do it yourself plan."

The rural homes of Ouachita need many more improvements. Two new bathrooms have been equipped in the Okaloosa community, homes of Mrs. Estelle Luttrell and Mrs. Dora Bonnett. "Every rural home with an equipped bathroom," was the goal set up by the parish planning committee in 1951—how long will it take to reach this goal?

Food For The Family

"To help offset the decline in farm prices, the family will need to produce and conserve more food at home. Better planning of food production, improved quality and better utilization and an increase in the amount conserved are essential if the family is to depend on the home food supply for its main nutritional needs.

It's time now to do that planning—get a garden plan which gives what, when, and how much to plant, and a budget card showing how much to conserve. Call your agent for a conference on planning. She will meet one group this week to assist several homemakers with this type planning. She will be glad to help you. Call 3-2251. Remember, regardless of family income, we need to keep the family nutritionally fed. Home production and conservation well planned will insure us of an ample supply, of needed foods.

Your Camellias

Mulching is considered a "must" for good camellia production. A mulch will help control weeds and grasses around the plant and in some cases completely control them. This makes camellia culture much easier for those of us who tend to be slightly lazy.

During hot summer months the soil temperature under a mulch will be much lower than that of the same type soil exposed to the sun. This better growing condition will mean more vigorous and healthier plants.

Enough moisture during a drouth is a problem your mulch will help solve. Because of the cooler soil temperature and protection from the sun, evaporation will be much slower. The soil moisture available to the plant will be held for a longer period of time.

All of us have heard many recommendations on what to use for a mulch. A material considered excellent by one may be thought entirely unsatisfactory by another. What should we use? Dr. W. D. Kimbrough and R. H. Hanchey of the L. S. U. Agricultural Experiment Station have helped to answer this question. Four years ago they put out test plots to determine which of the commonly used materials was best. In the test they included peat moss, bagasse, sawdust, oak leaves, pine straw and vermiculite. After four seasons' growth of the plants there has been no observable difference that can be attributed to the type of mulch used.

RECENT BRIDE— Mrs. Gerry Bliss was formerly Miss Melba Bayne, daughter of Mrs. Frank Savana, before her marriage to Gerry Bliss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Bliss of this city. The couple are presently making their home with the groom's parents at 3806 Blanks Street.

Next time you make Apple Betty, serve it with spiced whipped cream if you want to taste something delectable. Beat the cream until it's partly stiff, then beat in confectioners' sugar mixed with cinnamon and nutmeg. Use two tablespoons of sugar and one-eighth teaspoon of each of the spices for a half cup of cream.

If you find that smoked tongue is too salty for your taste, cover it with cold water and soak it overnight; cook by your usual method the next morning.

Mr. And Mrs. John B. Loe Celebrate Golden Wedding

Of interest to their many friends in North Louisiana is the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Bunyan Loe of Alexandria held recently at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Jordan on Monroe street in Alexandria.

Receiving with the hosts and Mr. and Mrs. Loe were their other daughter and sons, Mrs. W. M. McCasland of Longview, Tex., Messrs. Lamar T. Loe and Ralph Loe of Tallulah, and Dr. Justin B. Loe of Natchez, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Loe are natives of Bienville Parish, where they were married Dec. 23, 1903 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benjamin Easley, of Friendship. Mr. Loe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Rals Loe. He attended Mt. Lebanon College, and later taught school before going into farming and the mercantile business. The couple lived for years in Bienville Parish, but for the past 23 years have lived in Alexandria.

The decorations of the home for the occasion were carried out with the bell theme. A large golden bell tied with green ribbon decorated the door. Centering the mantelpiece were gilded and white bells, banked with gilded foliage. The Christmas tree was decorated with graduated golden bells and white bells, sprinkled with snow, and about the reception rooms there were clusters of yellow carnations and gladioli.

The theme was continued in the decorations of the wedding cake, which was topped with a cluster of bells. At the base of the cake were garlands of greenery entwined with yellow roses which were used the length of the table. Pouring coffee from the silver service was Mrs. Lamar T. Loe of Tallulah, and presiding at the cake service was Mrs. Ralph Loe, also of Tallulah. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Lamar T. Loe, Jr., Miss Diane Black of Baton Rouge, Mrs. O. B. Ownes, and the celebrant's granddaughters, Misses Barbara and Lillian Lucile Loe of Tallulah, and Mary Ann Jordan, of Alexandria. Regstering the guests was Mrs. Justin B. Loe of Natchez.

Other grandchildren of the celebrants are Lamar T. Loe, Jr., of Tallulah, Roy Erwin and Robert Bruce Jordan of Alexandria, Berwyn Loe and Robert Cary Loe of Natchez, Bill Cappell and Martha McCasland of Longview, Tex., and Roy Allen Loe of Falls Church, Va., son of Lt. Col. Roy M. Loe, who was killed in action in the North African campaign during World War II.

Among friends and relatives calling during the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Austin L. Cooke of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Franklin, Mrs. J. E. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rollo, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Franck, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Weatherby, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Vanderhoeven, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Melder, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hyde.

Also Col. and Mrs. Henry E. Walden, Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Pearce, the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Mount, the Rev. Nathan C. Brooks, Miss Mary Kelly Brooks, Mesdames Maude B. Robinett, Isham Hudson, M. L. Readheimer, E. L. Davis, O. B. Morton, Carroll Barron, Gould Collins, Ben Flynn, Ben Flynn, Jr., Harry H. Jordan, Johnnie Daffin, Clayrook Cottingham, Gussie Antony, W. P. Hathorn, N. K. Anthony, A. Girl Scout News

The third Girl Scout Law, which says, "A Girl Scout's Duty is to be useful and help others," is evidently what troop 23 had in mind Saturday when they washed windows at the New Lady of Fatima School in preparation for the dedication Sunday. A passerby might have noticed Helen Hofler and Elaine Herr, leaders, in blue jeans with a dozen girls similarly dressed, wielding a hose on the outside, and on the inside laboriously scraping and polishing. In true Girl Scout fashion, the troop made a lark of the occasion, brought lunches and turned work into fun. These busy girls are sixth and seventh graders at St. Matthew's School. Troop 23 will soon observe its third birthday and enter its fourth year of activity, we find.

Just one more little Christmasy note, though Christmas seems a long time ago. Mrs. J. A. Bowers, leader of troop 3, made up of seventh and eighth grade girls in the college area, is the proud possessor of a beautiful lamp, the gift of the troop. A delightful surprise, says Mrs. Bowers, who adds that she would be just as proud if the gift were only a cotton handkerchief. It's the thought that counts, of course, and we're always glad to hear of thoughtful acts on the part of Scouts.

One way that Scouts can show their thoughtfulness of others and live up to their Law which says "A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout" is to take part in the Kits for Korea Project. The girls of Korea, who in many cases have lost everything, desperately need the simple necessities of everyday living which our girls take for granted.

We can buy a comb for as little as five cents, yet think how terrible it would be to lose our only one and not be able to obtain another.

It is these simple things which representatives of Korean Girl Scouts have said they need: comb, safety pins, toothbrush, toothpaste, washcloth, soap, hand towel, needle and thread, elastic, and a hair ribbon for a cheerful note.

At the last Girl Planning Board Meeting, representatives of Intermediate troops decided to ask their troops to undertake the making of small bags, each to contain the ten above-mentioned articles. They decided to ask each troop, Brownie as well as Intermediate, to fill at least two bags. In many cases, they realize, individual girls will undertake to make and fill bags.

The Girl Scout birthday program will be the perfect occasion for the ingathering of the bags, the Planning Board decided. The Program Commmittee of the Council, they were told, will take charge of shipping the bags to the relief agency which will, in turn, see that they are distributed in Korea.

And now, for you adult Girl Scouts, is the time to talk to your husband about attending the Council's Annual Meeting on January 26 and phone reservations for both of you to the Girl Scout office. It is an especially nice occasion, which should give everybody who attends a better understanding of Scouting. And like all Scout affairs, it's fun.

Woman's Club Meets In Ferriday

The Ferriday Woman's Club met on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Johnson with Mrs. Joseph Joseph co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. W. Greathouse. The club collect was given in unison by the members. The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by the president.

After the roll call, the president read a letter about the March of Dimes, and asked the club members to lend their support to the local drive. The club will make its usual contribution to the March of Dimes drive.

At the conclusion of the business, the meeting was in charge of the program chairman, Mrs. S. R. Gray, who introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. W. E. Person, who gave an interesting talk on "Participation in Democracy."

Mrs. Naideen Sevier, presented a film, entitled "Pigeonholes and Progress." This film shows the work in the post office and the progress the post office department has made since its establishment.

At the conclusion of the program, the meeting was adjourned. The following members were present: Mrs. M. M. Perkins, Mrs. Lewis Beasley, Mrs. S. R. Gray, Mrs. V. M. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Pankey, Mrs. Shirley Briggs, Mrs. Naideen Sevier, Mrs. J. W. Greathouse, Mrs. G. P. Bullis, Mrs. W. E. Person and a guest Mr. Bonnette, assistant postmaster.

Monroe Garden Club Flower Show Is Open To Public

Monroe Garden Club is making plans for its annual Flower Show, which will take place in March. Mrs. A. G. McHenry and Mrs. H. G. Thompson have prepared a schedule to enable early planning of entries.

Much attention will be given to the Horticulture Division this year. To add interest and make a more beautiful show this section will be open to the public. It is hoped that some of the fine men gardeners will enter specimens. If planting is done now with this in mind, many plants will be ready to exhibit by March.

Rules Governing Horticulture Division:

1. All entries in the Horticulture Division must be grown by the exhibitor or in her possession at least three months prior to the show.

2. All entries should be properly labeled with the correct name.

3. Only one entry in each class may be made by exhibitor.

4. The Horticulture Division will be judged by scales of point in the Handbook for Flower Shows, National Council of State Garden Clubs. The decision of the judges will be final. The entry committee reserves the right to subdivide the classes to facilitate judging.

Section 1: Annuals and plants grown as such — Class 1. Alyssum, 9 sprays; Class 2. Bachelor Buttons, 3 blooms; Class 3. Calendulas, 3 blooms; Class 4. Larkspur, 1 stalk; Class 5. Sweet William, 3 sprays; Class 13. Verbena, 3 sprays; Class 14. Any worthy specimen not listed.

Section 2: Perennials or plants grown as such — Class 15. Daisies, 3 blooms; Class 16. Gerbera, 3 blooms; Class 17. Other Varieties; Class 18. Violets, 9 blooms.

Section 3: Bulbs, Phizomes, Tubers, one stem each of — Class 19. Hemerocallis (day lily); Class 20. Iris (Dutch), (Native), (Bearded); 21. Hyacinths (Dutch), (Roman); 22. Narcissi — a. Daffodil (large trumpet,) (Large cup), (small cup); b. Poetaz; c. Poeticus; d. Jonquils; Class 23. Lilies; Class 24. Amaryllis; Class 25. Tulips (Darwin), (Cottage), (Parrot); Class 26. Any other bulb.

Section 6: Azaleas — Class 32. One stem or branch.

Section 7: Flowering shrubs, trees and vines, a single spray or branch—Class 33. Any named variety.

Section 8: House Plants — one kind of plant to container — Class 34. Plants grown for foliage; Class 35. Plants grown for bloom; Class 36. Succulents.

Section 9: Green House Grown plants — Class 37. Any plant grown in a green house by the exhibitor.

Section 10: Display of Conservation Material. Not for competition.

Those leftover boiled potatoes will taste delicious if you dice them and put them into a skillet with some bacon fat. Add some diced onion and fry until golden brown, shaking the pan occasionally. Add salt and freshly-ground pepper, if necessary. Serve with a sprinkling of minced parsley or finely chopped green pepper.

When you're in a hurry, and yet have your heart set on serving fresh homemade doughnuts, use the "drop" method. Make up a basic doughnut dough, then drop by heaping teaspoons, into deep hot fat; push the dough from the spoon into the fat with a rubber spatula.

Planting Time Is Almost Here Again

Old man winter made his visit to the sunny south this week. In a few days we'll be planting, again. Try to remember everything you saw blooming last spring and summer, that you planned to plant in January and February.

Reminders

One of my readers called and said her red flowering quince was blooming. So — don't forget this shrub comes in white and rose as well as red. Cydonia Japonica is the family name. Remember too, that the white flowering almond is so very beautiful and often fits in with the color of your house better than the pink. You'll probably want a white and a pink dogwood. These lovely graceful small trees are just right in screening borders and as accent plants.

One of the nurserymen called yesterday and told me all about a new shipment of crab apples. This is one of our cheapest and hardiest small trees, seldom costing as much as two dollars. We're all familiar with the deep rose Hoppa and the palest pink Flora Bunda. Now we find in the nurseries the brilliant red, semi - double pinks, the weeping crabs and the dwarf. One nurseryman predicts the dwarf pinks will take the place of our pink dogwoods because they're cheaper and hardier. All the flowering crab apples make small trees, and are at their best in small thickets of three. Thickets of white dogwoods also make a gorgeous showing. After all— that's the way they grow in the woods.

Many of the Japanese magnolias have come in at the nurseries. Soon the Soulongeana will be in full bloom and you'll be wishing you had planted one. This small tree is often called tulip tree because the blooms are shaped like a tulip. The real tulip tree blooms later, makes a large tree and has a chartreuse bloom that makes corsages equal in beauty to any hot house orchid.

January Garden Jobs

I noticed the scilla in my yard is peeping out of the ground. Also, many of my jonquils and daffodils. A little 5-10-5 worked around each bulb will increase size and profusion of blooms — about a tablespoonful per bulb. Scilla is so rewarding. It reproduces rapidly and doesn't mind the mulch in the beds. Unlike other bulbs the foliage disappears quickly after the blooming period. You know of course they come in pink, blue or white, and have to be planted in the fall.

While your neighbors are pruning their ivy (any variety), ask for the trimmings to plant for ground covers where you have large masses of jonquils or daffodils. The ivy will hide the unsightly tops as they die. Just cut the vine up in small pieces leaving two or three leaf buds on each piece. Plant about two inches deep. By late spring it will root and start putting out small leaves. It takes two years to cover the ground.

Get plenty of mulch such as leaves, pine straw, bagasse, or cotton moat in your shrubbery beds if you want to get ahead of the weeds and grass. It's no fun pulling weeds in July and August when Old Sol is beaming down.

Get the flower borders spaded up and the soil well pulverized. If you haven't already transplanted your daisies, coreopsis, calliopsis, salvia, rudbeckia, holly hock and verbena, get that job done this month. The nurseries and seed stores have pansy and calendula plants, pinks, English and shasta daisies. When planting these perennials, give them a drink of food. Mix one cup of 5-10-5 in a gallon of water. Pour one cup of this around each plant.

More than fifty calls came in this week. "You told us to plant roses in Sunday's column but you didn't say prune and fertilize." Don't get in a hurry. February is the month for those jobs.

Quick Dessert

Molly McGee says it takes a heap o' cooking to make a house a home. She echoed the sentiments of thousands of other housewives. Well — here's a quick dessert — fit for a king — yet simple and quick to make. It's called magic maple fluff. To one can of sweetened condensed milk add 1-3 cup of lemon juice, 1-3 cup of orange juice and a half teaspoon of maple flavoring. Mix well — fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites and a half cup of chopped pecans. Use the yolks to make a boiled custard to pour over this fluff, or serve it plain. I was out of maple flavoring last night and the dessert was still — well — fit for a king.

Best Buys

Your best food buys for the next few weeks are pears, potatoes, carrots, broilers, fryers, and eggs. Mrs. Housewife, ask for candled eggs when you buy. That means that every egg has been held up to a special light to find and discard any with blood spots or other imperfect ones. I understand some of you thought candling meant a preservative had been used. Eggs are candled to help you, Mrs. Consumer. Get the best so call for candled eggs.

Announcements

If you live in the Twin Cities, come to the Agricultural Building Thursday morning, January 21 at 9:30 if you're interested in joining a tailoring class. We'll talk about patterns, materials and dates. If you've taken this course within the last three years, please let somebody else have your place this year, unless you want to be a leader and help with the classes. Bring pencil and paper.

The ladies of the First United Pentecostal Church need shrubs for their new building. When you're thinning out won't you call 3-4457? They'll be glad to pick them up. Join me Tuesday at 2:45 for our regular TV visit.

See you next Sunday.

New Gay Arrays Replace Fresh Flowers At Center

"Arranging Church Flowers" by Ina Jones has just been received at the center library. The program chairman of the Wisner Garden Club is using the library to plan their February program on Williamsburg. In the near future the center will have books for circulation.

The decorative arrangments on display at the center this week certainly prove the point that dried arrangements can be as gay and stimulating as fresh flowers - and they have the advantage of lasting almost indefinitely. A delightful free - standing (viewed from all sides) table arrangement by Mrs. J. W. Golson is in tints and shades and tones of brown. Small cattails, sorghum heads, seed pods of crape - myrtle are used for height with brown magnolia leaves and brown dock low in the arrangement.

Focal point on one side is of hydrangea and lily seed pods, on the other lotus pods and hydrangea.

The arrangement is set on a brown base with light brown acorns and darker brown buckeye nuts added for interest.

A beautiful piece of driftwood was the inspiration for Mrs. S. Q. Cobb's mass arrangement in beige shading to yellow. Dried grasses and pampas plumes and daisies were used, and golden rod and the deeper yellow of straw flowers (helichrysum). Brown and yellow were the colors used for a triangular composition in a palm spathe.

Tall cat-tails, and grasses were used for height, sycamore leaves and yellow aspidistra leaves with magnolia leaves and seed pod as a focal point. A gay and colorful design was made by Mrs. John Lewis.

Using a brown bottle as a container, Mrs. Lewis arranged cattails, photinia leaves, variegated aspidistra, tallow beries and a cluster of orange "devil's apples" (solanum) in a vertical design. The collecting of leaves, flowers, grasses and seed pods for drying is a year round pastime, and once you get the "bug" as a collector the possibilities are unlimited.

Winter Gardening Is Rather Simple

Winter gardening is easy unless one has a greenhouse or tries to maintain a multitude of house plants of varying types of culture. However, the outdoor gardener can, if he is ambitious, find an outlet for his pent-up energy.

Pruning, at least a start at it on warm weekends, is a mid-winter chore. The old gardener warns the novice not to cut back any of the early flowering shrubs — like the lilac and forsythia—which should be pruned in early summer just after flowering.

The fruit-tree pruning program, too, can be started, and it is a good time to apply dormant sprays to fruit trees and shrubs.

Since we have had a number of killing frosts the trees and shrubs are dormant, so when pruning apple, peach and pussy willow trees save some of the cuttings for indoor blossoming. Place the cuttings in water and keep in a cool, shady place until the buds are ready to open.

Never put them directly in the sun when they are first brought in. If by chance you do cut some forsythia and flowering quince, they can be forced into indoor bloom.

"There are few plants so useful as the English ivy and its many offspring," writes Montague Free, author of "All About House Plants." It will grow in full sun or dense shade; it can endure subzero temperatures, and also will thrive as a house plant in rooms where the temperature seldom goes below 60 degrees, providing the air is not allowed to become too dry.

It can climb trees and unpainted masonry walls by means of aerial rootlets which force their way into every chink or cranny and firmly hold its branches to the support. It It is equally happy as a creeper, mantling the ground with a cover dense enough to inhibit weed growth.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Bushy Tea Roses Like The South

Here and there in old gardens over the south, you will run into some old varieties of roses growing lustily and blooming away in spite of black spot and all the other ills of roses. We have discussed the tea roses in the column before. In addition to these, there are several others about which the column gets requests for information from time to time. While your columnist cannot answer requests for general information, he will eventually get around to replying to questions within the column. If, however, you cannot find out where to order some plant which you want, write to the columnist in care of the Morning World and be sure to enclose a postal addressed to yourself for his reply. Just as soon as he can get to it after he receives your request, he will send your postal to you with the address of nurseries where the plant you want may be ordered.

The big bushy tea roses which we find in old yards and gardens hang over fences and sometimes take up a space as much as one hundred feet square and ten to fifteen feet high. These roses like the south. They dote on the heat, and, while they may slow down or stop blooming in the worst of it, they will bloom lustily in the spring and then start all over again and put out a big crop of blossoms in the fall which are deeper in color and better flowers than the spring ones were. Tea roses were mostly created for the perfume business in southern France and northern Italy. They almost disappeared from nursery catalogues when the generally more brilliant hybrid teas began to come on the market.

We in the south soon found out, however, that the teas did not have to be coddled and sprayed to survive while the hybrid teas must be sprayed or dusted. Rose fanciers who love and labor over the gorgeous modern varieties of hybrid teas would probably not want many of the old teas, but one usually finds some of the best ones filling up the back corners in gardens full of modern roses. Some day, we hope to have hybrid teas just as resistant to black spot and other rose troubles as the teas are, but until then, the old varieties like Mrs. Dudley Cross, William R. Smith, Maman Cochet, White Maman Cochet, Baroness Henriette Snoy, Madame Lombard, Marie van Houtte, Lady Hillingdon, Saffrano, Papa Gontier, Comtesse Riza du Parc, Bon Silene and Freiherr von Marschall will always be favorites of those who wish to grow roses without too much trouble. Some of these varieties go back as far as the 1830's.

All teas have a delicious odor. They will grow in comparatively few years to be large bushes, and they absolutely must not be pruned very much. Remove the dead wood and the spindly wood, and let them alone except to cut armfuls of roses from the bushes when you really want a peck of blossoms.

In the fall the blossoms are brilliant and extremely fragrant. Some, like Mrs. B. R. Cant — we left it out of the list above — bloom lustily in August. If you visit Thomasville, Ga., or go to the annual rose show there, you will see many old teas all over the town. People use them as shrubs down there. There are some climbing forms of the tea varieties, too, which climb all over houses. The foliage is usually resistant to black spot, and some teas, like Mrs. Dudley Cross, are nearly thornless. In England and on the continent, some varieties of teas used to be grown mostly for their brilliant fall flowers.

Along with the tea roses, there are a good many old varieties of the "hybrid perpetuals" in southern gardens. They have resisted the black spot and survived all their troubles and are still blooming for us. These roses are mostly not very good looking in shape because they have a tendency to send out long gauky canes. They should be regarded as roses to be cut and grown where they will not necessarily be seen in the general garden picture. The cutting garden is a good place for them. Everybody knows Frau Karl Drushki. The name of the rose in English would be "Mrs. Karl Drushki.' Another well known hybrid perpetual is Paul Neyron, that long-caned plant which produces those heavy-headed wonderfully fragrant blooms in the spring. Then there is an old red hybrid perpetual named Ulrich Brunner which is like a red Paul Neyron. J. B. Clark is the favorite deep red, Duchess of Sutherland is a peach pink. George Arends is rose pink, and the favorite old General Jacquemenot is a crimson to scarlet flower that our grandmothers loved so well.

The hybrid perpetuals were supposed to bloom not perpetually but again in the fall and sometimes in summer. An old rose book by John Weathers with lovely color plates of the old roses and published in London around the turn of the century says that the French rose growers called the hybrid perpetuals "remontant" roses.

DONALD ROBERTS

Donald Roberts Will Be Ordained Sunday Afternoon

Donald L. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Roberts, of R. F. D. one, Eros, will be ordained to the gospel ministry Sunday, January 17 at the Oak Grove Baptist Church there. Rev. Lloyd H. Brown is pastor.

Young Roberts was licensed December 17, 1952 and has delivered many sermons since that time. At this time he is serving as pastor of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church in Choudrant.

All Reverend Robert's friends who can do so are cordially invited to come to the church for a luncheon at 1 p. m. Sunday. The exercises will be at 2:30 p. m.

Grace Church To Be Host This Week To 3 Day Meet

A large class will be confirmed at Grace Episcopal Church this morning by the Suffragan Bishop, The Rt. Rev. Iveson B. Noland, D. D. This will be in connection with his annual visitation to this church. He will also conduct the 9:45 a. m. service.

Clergy and laymen from all parts of Louisiana will come to Monroe for a convention to be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. An attendance from out of town of 300 is anticipated and the Bishop and Suffragan Bishop will be present at this the regular diocesan convention.

Plans are being discussed for the formation of a second Episcopal church in another location, probably south of DeSiard street, as the city is too large for a single Episcopal Church. The matter will be given careful thought in the near future it is assured.

PRINCIPALS IN HOLINESS CONVENTIONS—Three leaders of a Holiness Convention of the Church of the Nazarene who will be among those leading activities when the local meeting takes place Jan. 18 and 19, are, left to right, Dr. T. M. Anderson, Wilmore, Ky., evangelist; Dr. I. C. Mathis, Dallas, also a speaker, and Prof. John E. Moore, song evangelist.

Religious Week At Tech Feb. 14

RUSTON, Jan. 16. (Special)—Plans for Louisiana Tech's annual Religious Emphasis Week were announced here this week by E. Carl Jones, general chairman of the committee for the event, who stated that two well - known clergymen have accepted invitations to speak at the sessions.

Jones announced that the Rev. D. L. Dykes, Jr., minister of the Central Methodist Church of Fayetteville, Ark., and Col. William J. Clasby, staff chaplain of the Second Air Force at Barksdale Air Force Base will appear on the program.

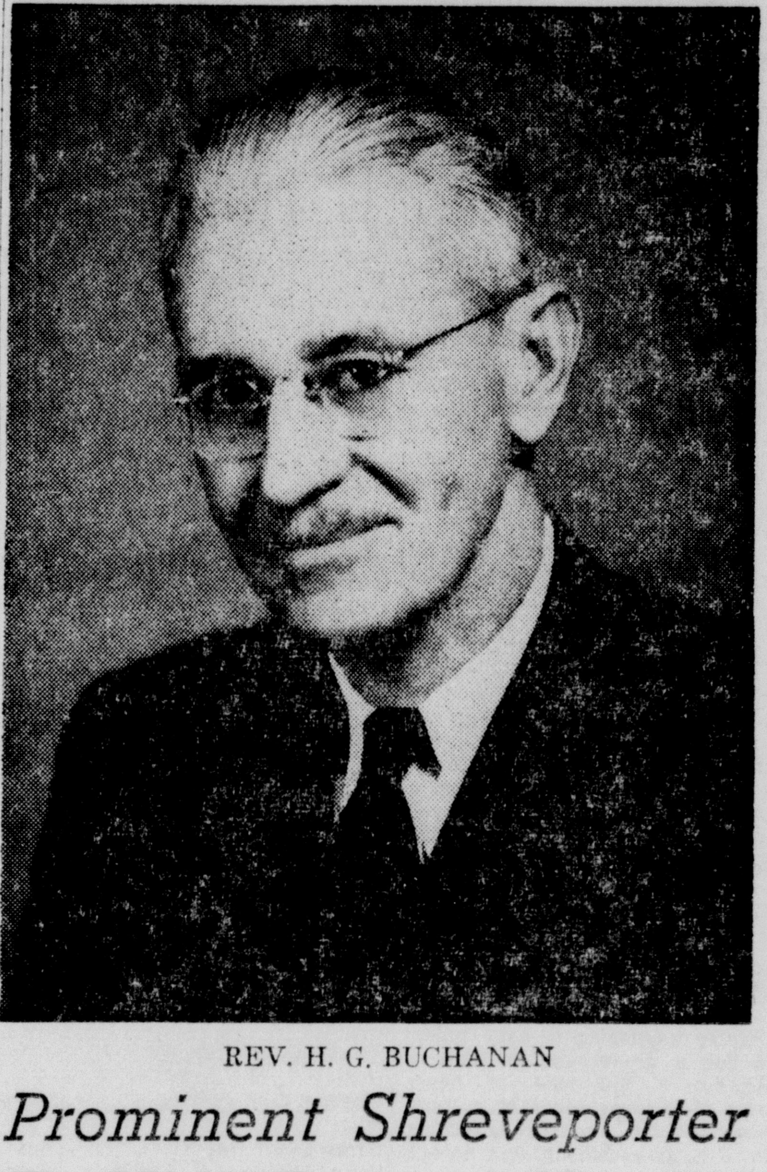
Produced under the direction of Arthur Stone, director of dramatics the British drama, "A Sleep of Prisoners," will be presented on Wednesday, February 17.

The other new phase of the program, the art display, will be presented in cooperation with the college art department.

The week's events will begin with a vesper service on Sunday, February 4. Convocations in Howard auditorium with addresses by the main speakers are planned on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Seminars, dormitory discussions and noonday chapel periods will also be included in the week's activities.



REV. H. G. BUCHANAN

Prominent Shreveporter To Hold Revival Nearby

The First Baptist Church in Sterlington will conduct a revival from January 31 to February 7. The evangelist is to be Rev. H. G. Buchanan, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Shreveport. Morning services are planned at 10 a.m. daily and evening services at 7:30 p.m.

Reverend Buchanan has been pastor of the Shreveport church named since October 1940 and there have been an average of 120 baptisms per year during the thirteen years he has served as pastor there.

When he assumed charge there were 231 members. In 1953, the membership reached 2,502. The Sunday school enrollment in 1940 was but 181, in 1953 it was 1,609.

Donations also showed a great gain. In 1940, the receipts were $1,864, while in 1953, the receipts were $54,259.

The church property in 1940 had a valuation of 3,000. In 1953 it had reached a value of $310,000.

At the end of 1941 when the pastor had completed his first year there had been 73 baptisms. In 1953 there were 131 baptisms. The highest number of baptisms in any one year was 181.

Talent Show Will Be Held In Olla

OLLA, Jan. 16 (Special)—A talent show will be presented here Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the LaSalle parish high school auditorium with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes drive.

Roy C. Welsh, program chairman, requests that all interested in taking part on the program to contact Lawrence Wright, at Tullos, Cedric Walsh, at Urania, or himself at the LaSalle High school.

First thoroughbred stallion imported to the United States was Bulle Rock in 1730.

A. L. Swanson Is To Address PTA At Selman School

Mrs. Jo Willis, program chairman, Selman Parent-Teacher Association, in announcing the main feature of the program for Thursday evening, January 21, states, "We are indeed fortunate in being able to bring to our group A. L. Swanson, superintendent of Louisiana Training Institute. He will use "The Fabric of the Family Needs Strengthening" as his topic for discussion. We feel that no one is better qualified, than Mr. Swanson, to handle this topic because he meets so many like problems in his everyday routine of affairs.

"We extend an invitation to all interested persons to come and hear Mr. Swanson Thursday evening. All members are urged to be present and to bring a friend with them."

Mrs. G. B. Wilson, president, reminds the members that the nominating committee will be elected at this meeting. All members are requested to cast their vote for the person of their choice for the honor of receiving the life membership pin and certificate.

Instructors In Class Room To See More Films

Mrs. G. B. Wilson, program chairman of the Ouachita Classroom Teachers Association, has planned an evening of entertainment for the group using one or more films of interest to teachers. The main film to be used will be a revised film of "Assignment: Tomorrow." Mrs. Wilson states that this film has a wide reputation and will be of interest to all. If time permits three other films (short ones) will be shown. They are: "Answering the Child's Why," "The Outsider" and "The Bully."

Mrs. Phyllis Cozine, president, urges all members and interested persons to be present for this meeting. A short business session will preceed the showing of the films.

Fowler Quartet And Chuck Wagon Singers Booked

Wally Fowler and the Oak Ridge quartet of Oak Ridge, Tenn., and the Chuck Wagon Gang of Fort Worth, Tex., will present a singing concert January 26 in the auditorium of the West Monroe High School, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The concert is being sponsored by the senior class of the high school with profits to be added to the fund with which the seniors propose to finance a class trip during the last two weeks of school.

The program will feature gospel and spiritual songs and members of the group are expected to do some really fine old fashioned gospel singing.

A broadcast at 4:30 in the afternoon of the twenty-sixth over a local radio station will give the public a foretaste of the program to be presented that evening.

Louisiana Music Educators Elect

The Louisiana Music Educators Association has just named officers for 1954-56. Edward Hermann, Shreveport, is president; John Davis, Monroe, is vice-president; and Walter Minnear, Shreveport, is secretary, with Sammy Griffin, Shreveport, treasurer.

The officers will take office June 1 next and will serve two years.

PRESBYTERIAN

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont & Catalpa

Sunday, January 17, 1954.

W. H. McFadden, Minister.

The services of the First Presbyterian Church will be held as follows:

9:45 a.m., Church School.

11:00 a.m., Morning Worship.

5:00 p.m., Young People's Program.

6:30 p.m., Youth Choir Practice.

7:30 p.m., Evening Worship.

9:00 a.m., Morning Worship, Idlewild Chapel.

The topic for the Morning Worship Service is, "God's Care For You." At the evening worship service the minister will review the book, "Man Does Not Stand Alone," by Dr. A. Cressy Morrison. Dr. Morrison is a well known scientist and philosopher and in his book he endeavors to show that even from a scientific point of view there is ample room for belief in God.

On Thursday, January 21st, a group conference will be held at Camp Alabama.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. For transportation call your circle chairman.

For those unable to attend this meeting, a meeting will be held at 6:00 p.m. the same day at Memorial Presbyterian Church, West Monroe.

Each Wednesday night a Family Night Program is enjoyed by the entire family. At 6:00 p.m. a potluck supper is served and this is followed by a period of fellowship and faith. The minister will continue the study of the Book of Revelation. Please bring your Bibles.

A nursery is provided in room 10 of the Educational Building during the morning service for children through three years of age. An expanded session is also held in the kindergarten department during the church service for those four and five years of age.

Reverend Wayne W. Gray, Minister.

Sunday School, 9:30, Mr. Frank V. Spivey, superintendent.

Morning Worship Service, 11:00, Sermon: "What the Gospel of God Does."

Today and next Sunday we are studying the first chapter of the book of Romans. The study of such Bible passages will strengthen our faith and lead us into a fuller knowledge of God and make us see the necessity of obeying His will. The church was founded and built primarily by men who loved and obey this Gospel of God in Jesus Christ. And that is the only sure foundation upon which we must build today.

The Senior High Fellowship Group will meet in the home of Miss Margaret Ann Lee, 701 N. McGuire Avenue at six this evening.

The Pioneers will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Anders, 1807 Emerson, at six this evening.

MATTHEW 28:19-20 — "Go.....and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the ages."

* * *

His promise is: He is to be by our side to rebuke, to lead, to comfort, to encourage, to assure final victory.

The reward is collectible only by faithful executors of this will. That reward is final success because of His presence "by the side of," or "along with the worker, and of His participation in the assigned responsibilities.

He will be by our side to rebuke our sinfulness, for Light always rebukes darkness. How uncomfortable we feel in the presence of the saintly.

He is with us to lead us. "He leads me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake."

He is with us to comfort us. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of deep shadows, Thou art with me, Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me" — give me strength.

When a farm boy, I went with my father across a small river to see another farmer. We were detained: the hour was late afternoon: we needed to save time. Instead of returning by the way of the bridge, we crossed on a submerged ledge of rock only a few feet wide. Deep water was immediately on both sides. Father rode his horse through first, then turned and faced me, saying, "Son, keep your eye on me and come straight."

"He has been there before you and He knows the way through."

"I will be by your side always — even until all the days of the eternities are completed."

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Was Nicodemus A Coward?

The third chapter of John's Gospel is notable for its great text, "God so loved the world."

But this, as one will see by a careful reading, is a part of what Jesus said to Nicodemus when the "ruler of the Jews" came to Jesus, inquiring by night.

The fact that Nicodemus came under the cover of darkness has been held against him. Some have thought him cowardly because he did not come openly and by day.

The emphasis that Jesus put in the conversation upon the contrast between light and darkness (John 3:19-21) might lend some color to this view, especially if one saw in it any implied suggestion that Nicodemus was of the darkness rather than of the light.

Such a view, however, does not seem to me justified by the facts. On the contrary, his open defense of Jesus when assailed by his fellow Pharisaic rulers (John 7:50-52), and his assisting at the burial of Jesus (John 19:39), would indicate the earnestness and sincerity of Nicodemus' inquiry and a vital change in his life that the night visit to Jesus had made.

Why, then, did Nicodemus come by night? Because he was as yet an inquirer, not fully convinced and not quite ready to commit himself.

In a sense he showed great courage in coming to Jesus, and possibly even more in coming by night.

If his coming in that way had become known to the rulers hostile to Jesus, its seeming implications would have been more serious than if he had come by day.

It was not the time of his coming, but the quality of his purpose, that counted in Nicodemus. He seems to have been in every way sincere. He was also officially - minded, groping apparently for something better than he had or knew, but hemmed in by official and conventional Pharisaism.

If Jesus criticized him for his lack of knowledge as a "master of Israel," he honored the sincerity of his inquiry by a clear statement of the Gospel.

Whether or not Nicodemus accepted it all, there can be no doubt that he left that visit by night with a great deal to think about and with a great deal of light where there had been darkness.

Since that original night-time visitor, there have been many Nicodemuses, sincere men bound by religious association and circumstance, conventional and conforming, but with a sense of something richer than they had found, and groping toward new truth and freedom.

It is an experience when such men meet the Christ, and are led to say, "We never saw it after this fashion" (Mark 2:12).

Revolutions of enlightenment and grace have often brought not only progress in individual lives, but also leadership, vitality and progress, establishing new eras for religious faith and life.

Great leaders have often come to intense and commanding convictions after groping through doubt and questioning.

ACCOMPLISHING THE IMPOSSIBLE

About nineteen centuries ago a man named Jesus stood in the midst of a small group of men and issued to them the most audacious command ever given to any group, large or small, since the world began. "It is My command," said He, "that you go forth, and in My name make conquest of the world." The audacity of the thing is astounding.

He had no armies to execute His command; He had no navies to carry it into effect; He had not treasuries to supply the needs of such a tremendous campaign. So far as is known, He never rode a horse, or drove a chariot, or carried a sword. But He makes it clear that the conquest upon which they are now being sent is not to be accomplished by these ordinary implements of war.

That, too, was something new, because up to that time, and since that time, empires had been destroyed and other empires taken their places—by fire and sword. This new method of conquest was so completely astounding; it was a suggestion so radical and audacious that even, after nineteen hundred years, the world has not caught up with it. But the world all along the way has been wrong, and He is right, for force has never conquered—nor can. It may subdue, and silence, and suppress, but it never conquers. Force but generates and intensifies hatred; hatred which later on will strike back and thus create more hatred for later attacks. Mrs. Browning was right in her philosophy when she said, "Why conquering may be as lordly and complete a thing in lifting up as in dragging low." Jesus is right, as He is always right, in saying that the meek shall inherit the earth.

Now those men to whom Jesus issued His command were plain, everyday, ordinary laymen. In the main, they were plain businessmen, who, under the compelling force of His personality, had given up their business and had cast their lots with this unusual person to whose cause they were devoted, although at many points not understanding it.

At His command, however, these laymen went forth, and by their unfaltering faith, dauntless courage, and unconquerable zeal, they set in motion oral and spiritual, even economic, influences which during succeeding centuries found their way into the thought and conduct of the world, and today are the compelling inspiration of hundreds of millions of lives throughout the earth.

In Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

'Humility' By Word

By CRAIG HILL
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, January 16 — Within the past few months, Arthur Godfrey has made the word "humility" a new national by-word. Ever since that front-page blowup with Julius LaRosa, comedians, the press, and the life-of-the-party wisecrackers, have been having a field day, kicking the word around like a bunch of kids with a brand new football.

Naturally, it's all in the spirit of good, clean fun. But it strikes a little too close to home, where I'm concerned, to be very hilarious. You see, I almost lost my chance in Hollywood, because I failed to recognize the importance of humility in an individual's make - up.

I had been in Hollywood only a few months, and was just beginning to know my way around in movie circles. I had made a few important contacts, and was feeling my oats a bit — as most kids are prone to do after getting their first taste of life in the world's glamour capitol. On the few occasions when I could save up enough money to take a date out dancing at some movie star hangout like Mocambo or Ciro's, I got a real thrill out of being recognized by some of the personalities I had met. A friendly nod or a slap on the back from almost anyone who had a "name" in Hollywood, could puff me up like a high school hero who had just scored the winning touchdown.

I was well on the way to becoming what is sneeringly known in movie circles as a "name-dropper." The next day after one of those evenings out, I would always sprinkle my conversations with little bon mots like: "As I was saying to Rita" — or "Clark was telling me," and so on.

But then came the night when I got my come - uppance. I had dropped into Schwab's Drug Store, where anyone who is anybody in Hollywood, is eventually bound to be seen. I was thumbing through a fan magazine and drinking a coke, when a middle - aged gentleman, dressed in the conventional gray slacks and open sport shirt, started to engage me in conversation.

"You in pictures, kid?" he asked.

"Well, D. F. Z. (that's Hollywood's familiar designation for Darryl Zanuck) is talking a term contract with me," I replied, in my most supercilious tone. "I've given him a 90-day option, but I have a couple of other pretty good deals on the fire."

With that, my new acquaintance suddenly seemed to lose interest in the conversation, and soon wandered to the back of the store. Half an hour later, after he had left the place, the cashier told me that I had just snubbed one of the most important producers in town, who was looking for a couple of young unknowns to use in his next picture.

From that day on, I've never tried to put on airs with anyone. And, I might add, that with this change of attitude, I began to see things happen in my chosen career.

In recent months, I've made a serious study of the stars who have hit the top and stayed there over a long period of time. And, I must say, they certainly prove that old adage "the bigger they are, the nicer they are." The few temperamental stars you read and hear about, are inevitably the Johnny-Come-Lately's who lack the maturity of character to realize the important role which the public plays in their careers. Without the support, encouragement and good will of the people who line up at the boxoffice, the potentially greatest actor alive could never attain lasting success.

And, by the same token, no actor or actress can minimize the great contribution made toward their success, by the so-called behind-the-scenes workers in the movie industry. Whether or not most people realize it, the real genius of Hollywood is seldom seen on the screen. Nor will it necessarily be concentrated in the plush offices of the studio executives, writers, producers and directors. The man who lights the set, focuses the camera, designs the costumes or applies the make-up, contributes just as much to the making of a star, as the player himself. And, I might add, we could all learn a real lesson in humility, from these unsung heroes of our industry.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Just Being Unhappy Can Bring On Cold

Pretty Phyllis Kirk is attractively dressed and yet her comfortable shoes meet the requirements of the practical footwear for winter.

The more we understand about the correlation between the mind and emotions and the body, the more we realize that when we worry we worry all over, that when we love or hate we love or hate all over.

Now since we are in the midst of the coughing and sneezing season, it is interesting to call to your attention some ideas of a medical research team along this psychosomatic line.

We all know that there is such a thing as "emotional sweating." Often when we are extremely afraid, or worried or unhappy or nervous, we become damp. The researchers have found that emotional sweating, or perspiring if you prefer, first attacks the feet, causing them to be cold and damp, which predisposes you to taking cold.

Unhappy Cold

I know from experience, and I am sure you do, that on certain occasions I have taken colds which I am sure I would not otherwise have had because of extreme unhappiness or worry or loss of sleep. Damp cold feet are another of the most common reasons for taking a cold.

Don't bother about your powder! Keep your feet dry! Take your overshoes off the minute you step indoors, or when you take a long trip in a heated car or a train or bus. Many people fail to do this simply because it is so much trouble. Keeping the feet warm and dry is a big factor in avoiding colds.

For general wear it is also better to use shoes which allow your feet to "breathe," and thus quickly evaporate foot moisture which developed while your feet were encased in rubbers or galoshes, or from emotional causes.

Let Feet Get Air

Foot specialists warn that overprotection of the feet, a usual fault in winter, can cause all sorts of foot trouble. Do not suffocate them with extra heavy socks or shoes made of impermeable material. Leather soles and tops are best for general wear because the finely interwoven fibers permit the warm moist air to pass out of the shoe, while allowing dry cool air to enter.

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14 "Take Care of Your Feet." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: We have an attractive 16-year-old daugher who is a junior in high school. She is a good girl, has had frequent afternoon dates and always comes home on time. A boy, whom we have known about a year, quit school last year, got a good job and bought a convertible. This summer we allowed our daughter to ride with him because there were others with them. Now she says we don't trust her because we do not want her to go out alone with him. She knows the facts of life and sees the miserable life her sister is leading (she got into trouble at the age of 16, ran away from home and school, married an uneducated boy, who now ignores her, and has 5 children). We want this daughter to finish high school and go on to college if she wishes. We have three other married children. Please advise us. — Mrs. M. B.

Nothing you did or said kept the other daughter out of trouble and if this one has not had the proper moral training and home background, nothing you do or say will help her either. When a girl is 16 and rebels at restriction and you feel she has been forewarmed and warned and has pretty good moral sense of right and wrong, you must relax the reins or you'll have another runaway, or more trouble. You will, at least, have to give her a chance to prove herself trustworthy. You can limit the dates and insist on an early hour until she is older.

Just knowing the facts of life, however, is not enough. Many girls today know them and still get into trouble. Every girl should know what is going on in her emotional department and exactly how the emotional boy or wrong kind of a boy will approach her. If she knows ahead of time what the "line" will be (her sister should be a good teacher!) and what her own reactions will be, she will really be able to keep herself and the situation under control. She will be able to realize that "this" isn't The Great Love, but an ordinary, commonplace story of biology and chemistry that has but one dreary, unhappy ending . . . a tragic one!

Dear Mrs. Landers: I have been dating a man for the last seven months. He tells me I am very nice and that he likes me but I have never heard him mention the word "marriage," except that he disapproves of it! However, I am the only girl he has been dating. How can I get him to pop the question? We are both in the middle 30s and it is time we settled down.—Anxious

Oh! but look who is deciding that it is time to settle down! You are answering for both of you. Since he doesn't seem to agree, you have no choice but to keep on dating him until you are indispensable to his happiness (we hope). If that doesn't happen in a reasonable length of time — another seven months — better try greener pastures. At your age you can't afford to waste any more time.

Dear Mrs. Lander: We have been married for four years, have one child and are expecting another soon. We have never been alone. When we married there were four of my husband's brothers living with us. Now, there is only one but he was discharged from the service as being a "mental" case. He never talks but just walks through to his room; he won't even hand us his room rent but leaves it where we can see it. I am nervous and afraid of him but my husband says there is nothing wrong with his brother. His other relatives, however, agree that there is. Please tell me what you think.—Nervous Wreck

Your husband has no right to subject you to a man who has even a minor mental condition. The situation is bad for you and your child and might lead to a tragedy. Since there are other brothers, let them keep the brother; you have had enough. Tell your husband to take his choice as you will not stay around until trouble occurs. Ask him if he ever reads of similar events in the newspapers that resulted from other "harmless" cases!

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

William Grasse Addresses High School Class

William Grasse was guest speaker at the January 13 meeting of the Future Homemakers of America in the Home Economics Department of the West Monroe High School.

Mr. Grasse's subject was "Clothing for the High School Girl." He discussed apparel suitable for various personalities and occasions, and displayed attractive costumes which emphasized what he had said concerning suitability. The importance of careful planning at home before going to town to purchase clothing was stressed.

In addition to helpful information relative to selecting ready-to-wear garments he pointed out that skills learned in clothing classes at school may be put to practical use. Attractive garments may be less expensively constructed at home than they can be purchased ready-made. Mr. Grasse stated a person who sews is better able to judge workmanship and quality of fabric. He felt that all girls should have training in home economics.

Mrs. C. S. King is club adviser for this group.

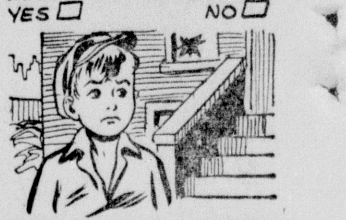
LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. CAN UNHAPPY COUPLES HELP SOLVE THEIR OWN PROBLEMS?
YOUR OPINION ______ 1-16-54

2. SHOULD ADVERTISERS KNOW WHAT APPEALS TO MAN'S HIGHER BRAIN?
YES ☐ NO ☐



3. DO CHILDHOOD HARDSHIPS STRENGTHEN ONE TO MEET LIFE'S PROBLEMS?

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Reading good books or booklets will help. The best booklet I know of on the subject is, "Preparation For Marriage," by American Institute of Family Relations, 5287 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif. It is "wholesome," yet pulls no punches. The price is 25 cents non-profit. Unhappy couples should also see a marriage counselor. For self-addressed, postal I'll give the address of your nearest one.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes. Psychologist H. L. Holingworth has shown that advertisements of personal articles—perfumes, clothing, food, should appeal to the lower brain—the animal and "instinctive" desires. Advertisements for impersonal articles, such as books, tools, automobiles, should appeal to the higher brain —the gray matter you think with.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No, they usually weaken one. Nothing strengthens a child for meeting life as does understanding, and a satisfying infancy and childhood. Nothing weakens him as does harsh treatment, criticism and ridicule. One psychologist says harsh treatment by parents makes liars of children in order to escape punishment. It also often makes them stutter.

How To Pick A Mate

What kind of a mate do YOU want? This booklet, a condensation of the famous book of the same name by psychologist and marriage counselor, Dr. Clifford Adams includes practical tests for you and your prospective husband or wife—tests of personality, emotional maturity and love as distinguished from infatuation. For a copy of the booklet, HOW TO PICK A MATE, send 15 cents (coin only), plus a self-addressed, stamped envelope (give name of city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper.

STARTS WEDNESDAY AT THE PARAMOUNT

'Jubilee Trail' Comes To Screen Here Wednesday

One of the greatest American dramas in modern literary annals, Gwen Bristow's best-selling novel and Literary Guild selection, "Jubilee Trail," is brought brilliantly to the screen in magnificent Trucolor by Republic Studios which opens its regular run Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre.

The unforgettable characters in the Bristow novel who found their way to the historic Jubilee Trail from old New York and the blazing cabarets of New Orleans of the 1800's, are colorfully brought to life by a strong star cast headed by Vera Ralston as the vivacious and alluring Florinda, Joan Leslie as Garnet, Forrest Tucker as John Ives and John Russell as Oliver. Augmenting the cast of this powerful drama of the Old West and the trail which led to the golden land of the Californias are Ray Middleton as Charles, Pat O'Brien as Texas, giant Buddy Baer appearing as the Handsome Brute and Jim Davis as Silky.

"Jubilee Trail" is potent movie magic with thunderous dramatic impact. It sweeps across the screen in a gigantic panorama of exciting and tense action on a canvas as broad and colorful as the great western plains themselves.

A brief outline of the story fails to capture the scope of this roaring romance which springs from American history, however, it concerns Joan Leslie, the Eastern bride of a young California trader, who makes the perilous overland journey to her husband's home. In New Orleans, she is befriended by Vera Ralston, beautiful and vivacious darling of the cabarets, who in turn is aided by Joan in escaping when wrongly accused of murder.

The two become fast friends during the remainder of the trip West, where the bride discovers her husband left a heartbroken girl with an illegitimate child when he married her, although he wasn't aware of the complications at the time.

Joan's husband is killed by the abandoned girl's father and Joan and Vera continue on to Los Angeles where Joan's baby is born as California becomes a state, and where she subsequently falls in love with Forrest Tucker, friend and associate of her late husband. Trouble reappears when the baby's uncle attempts to take the child by force.

A tense climax is reached when hired gunmen are brought on the scene to force the issue with Tucker figuring prominently in the swift denouement which coincides with the exciting discovery of gold in California.

Splendid performances are contributed by the top stars as they step out of the vivid pages of the famous novel. A strong supporting roster includes such names as Barton MacLane, Richard Webb, James Millican, Nina Varela and Martin Garralaga, only part of a brilliant cast of hundreds.

Joseph Kane as associate producer-director, has accomplished a monumental task in bringing this story to the screen with all its original force and romantic flavor. Bruce Manning has skillfully developed a powerfully moving screen play and Victory Young has put a thrilling musical score to the production.

12 Song-Dance Hits In New Film

Twelve song-numbers, many of them big-scale song-and-dance productions, are featured in the Universal-International Technicolor musical "Walking My Baby Back Home," which stars Donald O'Connor and Janet Leigh, now playing at the Jim Theatre. Comedian Buddy Hackett, Lori Nelson, Scat Man Crothers, Kathleen Lockhart, John Hubbard, and Sidney Miller, O'Connor's TV pal, are prominently featured in the cast.

Heading the bumper crop of songs recorded under the musical direction of Joseph Gershenson are the title song "Walking My Baby Back Home" by Roy Turk and Fred E. Ahlert (sung and danced by O'Connor, Miss Leigh and The Modernaires) and "The Glow Worm" with new Johnny Mercer lyrics to Paul Lincke's music (sung by Miss Leigh and The Sportsmen).

Three original tunes are featured. "Hop on the Bandwagon" by Frederick Herbert and Arnold Hughes (featuring O'Connor, Miss Hughes and Hackett), "Down in the South" by Frederick Herbert and Johnny Scott (sung and danced by O'Connor and Miss Leigh) and "Man's Gotta Eat," sung by Scat Man Crothers who wrote the song with F. E. Miller.

Stephen Foster's "De Camptown Races" is sung and danced by Miss Leigh, "Honeysuckle Rose' by Andy Razaf and Thomas Waller is done by Crothers, "Hi Lee Hi Lo" by Eugene West and Ira Schuster is a Donald O'Connor specialty. "South Rampart Street Parade" by Steve Allen, Ray Bauduc and Bob Haggart is performed by O'Connor, Miss Leigh and The Modernaires. Gioachino Rossini's "Largo Al Factotum Della Citta" from "The Barber of Seville" is sung by O'Connor, and two instrumental numbers complete the list: "Muskrat Ramble" by Ray Gilbert and Ed (Kid) Ory and "Liebestraum Jumps" an original adaptation from the Liszt classic.

WHO IS THE MAN YOU WILL REMEMBER ALL YOUR LIFE?

Lee's Life Told By Harnett Kane

By HARNETT T. KANE

On Tuesday, January 19, the United States observes with honors the birthday of a man whom some of its people once called an enemy.

In death Robert E. Lee — Lee of America as well as of Virginia— has become a major national figure, achieving a destiny realized by few of his contemporaries. Out of defeat he won a rare victory.

On a day not long before his death, the white-haired soldier-college president posed for a bust of himself. Not happy at the task, Lee talked about sculpture with the artist, E. V. Valentine, and their conversation turned to Southern hard times after the long-draw-out war .

At this Lee spoke softly: "Misfortune, nobly borne, is good fortune . . ." Hearing the words, the artist pondered. He thought them original with the speaker, but later discovered they were a quotation from "'The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius,' one of Lee's favorite books.

The artist declared that "no more appropriate epitaph could be carved on the grave of the great Virginian." In a way those words that Lee liked so much, can be said to summarize his life.

During the war with the north Lee won military greatness. In the few years left to him after the war the South's leader became, in the opinion of many, an even greater man.

When the war concluded in the spring of 1865, with the dark hour at Appomatox, there were Americans who looked on Lee with sharp hostility. But when he died in 1870 Robert E. Lee had gained the good will and admiration of millions in all parts of the United States.

In Europe a few months ago a Parisian with a knowledge of America history asked this writer: "How did that happen? For an outsider, it is hard to understand." The story, it would seem, is a simple one — the matter of a man's character.

At the war's end Lee turned his back firmly, and deliberately, on hostility, on the bickering in which individuals of both sides inclined to indulge. Simply and earnestly, he went to work to help bring back a section whose wealth had been almost destroyed, whose farms and homes had been wrecked. He pointed a way to his fellow-Southerners.

And to the South Robert E. Lee said: "We are one nation again. Bring up your boys to be Americans." He set an example to his region and to his country. He took a post which paid far less than most places he had held in other years, as president of a school then not so widely known, and close to bankruptcy — Washington College at Lexington, Va.

What followed was a kind of modern miracle. The school, Washington and Lee of today, became one of the leading institutions of the country, admired and respected in all sections. and Lee's spirit and breadth of view were recognized North and South.

When Lee died, his Virginia-born wife, Mary Custis Lee of Arlington, wrote that, had her husband won everything he wished, he could not have received greater honors . . . "Misfortune, nobly borne, is good fortune." For Americans, of today, the words may have meaning.

(This Lee birthday story by Harnett T. Kane of New Orleans is based on research for his next best-seller, "The Lady of Arlington," dealing with the lives of General and Mrs. Robert E. Lee.).

STAR IN TUMBLEWEED— Among the screen's most exciting teams, Lori Nelson and Audie Murphy share jeopardy and romance in Universal-International's technicolor adventure "Tumbleweed," which also stars Chill Wills. The drama of a man trapped between Apache vengeance and mob fury was produced by Ross Hunter and directed by Nathan Juran. K. T. Stevens and Russell Johnson head a top-notch supporting cast. The picture begins Wednesday at the Jim Theater.

THE RECORD SHOP
Shirley Harmer

NEW YORK (NEA) — A few short months after she hit New York from Thornton's Corners, Shirley Harmer has two ABC radio shows and a television show, as well as her MGM record contract. That phenomenal score is the result of two factors — Miss Harmer has a lovely voice and a face and form to match.

But she's still pretty much the Thornton's Corners gal, and if you didn't know, Thornton's Corners is a suburb of Oshawa. And Oshawa is near Toronto. That's in Canada.

New York continues to thrill her. She talks, excitedly, about seeing Joseph Cotten on the street and being introduced to Nat "King" Cole and how scared she was when she auditioned for Paul Whiteman.

"He wasn't looking at me," she said, recalling how she felt while he played her demonstration record. "I sat there and every once in a while I'd sneak a look at him. When I first met him I guess I turned ten colors."

The Popular Side: Longest title in years — "I've Got Those 'Wake Up, Seven-Thirty — Wash Your Ears, They're Dirty — Eat Your Eggs and Oatmeal — Rush to School' Blues" Jimmy Boyd sings it on Columbia. . . . A Las Vegas time capsule, to be unearthed in 2054, contains, among other items, a Kay Starr record and one of Ray Anthony's trumpet mouthpieces. They ought to startle the next century.

On the Classics: Are you one of those sound fans who likes to sit in the symphony, tamper with the timpani and put your base beside a bassoon? In other words, do you like to hear the individual instruments. savor each tingle of the triangle or vibration of the violins? Then Westminster's recording of Rimsky - Korsakov's "Scheherazade" is for you. Argeo Quadri conducts the Vienna State Opera orchestra in one of the finest recordings of the year. You'll play it again and again, delighting the ear with some new surprise with each performance.—BL.

Hall-Robinson Vows Pledged In Church Ceremony

The First Church of God at Bastrop was the setting for an impressive wedding at three o'clock in the afternoon Sunday when Miss Mildred Elaine Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson of Bastrop and James A. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall of Bastrop exchanged vows. The Rev. Jackson read the double-ring ceremony.

The baptistery was artistically decorated with candles and greenery. Large baskets of white and yellow gladioli placed in front of candelabra completed the setting for the nuptial ceremony.

As the ushers Jimmy Bradley of Natchez, Miss. and Larry Hage of Bastrop, seated the guests, Miss Benny Ruth Hall rendered a concert of nuptial music. Miss Mary Elizabeth Liles sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always".

Mr. J. C. Hall served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother. Her suit was of dark blue poodle worn with a pink blouse and hat with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom and carried a white Bible covered with white lace with velvet tubing around her bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Hall was becomingly attired in a navy and white suit with navy accessories and white carnations.

Miss Darlene Humphrys was maid of honor. Her suit was of pink poodle cloth. Her accessories were navy with which she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Patricia Bradley dressed in a light blue flannel suit with a pink blouse served as flower girl. She carried a basket covered in rose petals.

Reception Held

The reception suite was beautifully decorated in holiday colors. The bride's gifts were displayed on a table covered in an imported face cloth and centered with a crystal candelabra with tall white tapers.

A three tiered-wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom was placed at one end of the reception table and a large crystal punch bowl at the other. White and pink carnations surrounded the cake and punch service. Mrs. Melvin Robinson of Crossett, Ark., presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Leo Bradley of Natchez, Miss., served the cake. Mrs. S. A. Humphreys assisted with the courtesies while Mrs. J. L. Hayes presided at the guest book.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bradley and family of Natchez, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Robinson and sons of Crossett, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anders of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGee and Sheran of Anderson, Ind.

The couple will make their home in Anderson, Ind.

Here's a tip for cake-makers. Flour tends to pack on standing, so always sift it once just before measuring. If you don't sift, you may put as much as an extra half-cup of flour in your cake and ruin it.

Baby blankets are now available with plastic rings or elastic bands that attach firmly to the sides of the crib, thus eliminating the age-old worry of baby getting tangled in the blanket and suffocating.

Mizpah Chapter Installs Officers

Mizpah chapter No. 15, O. E. S., Winnsboro held an "Open Installation of Officers for 1954," following a regular meeting December 28th in Masonic hall. For this occasion, the hall was decorated with poinsettias, nandina berries and greenery symbolic of the holiday season. The retiring and incoming officers wore lovely formals with corsages to match. For the retirement of outgoing officers, the Lord's Prayer was recited in unison and the National Emblem was presented after which the outgoing Worthy Matron, Mrs. Gladys Dante, expressed her appreciation and thanks to the officers who, together with the members, had cooperated in making the year one of the most outstanding in the chapter's history. With appropriate remarks, she presented each officer who had served with her a small token of regard and appreciation.

Jerry Parker, a past Patron of the Springhill chapter, O. E. S., and the brother-in-law of Mrs. R. W. Clawson, Sr., was assisted in the installation by: Mrs. Haven Lowry, past Matron and district deputy Grand Matron as installing marshal; Mrs. Aline Evans, past matron as installing chaplain; and Mrs. Gladys Dante, past matron as installing organist.

New officers include:

Mrs. Donnie Clawson, Worthy Matron; Mrs. Ruth Rhein, Associate Matron; Homer Lowry, associate patron; Mrs. Haven Lowry, secretary; Mrs. Gladys Dante, treasurer; Mrs. Aline Evans, marshal; Mrs. Edna Eckhardt, chaplain; Mrs. Mollie Wiggers, conductress; Mrs. Gladys Turnage, associate conductress; Mrs. Anita Neilsen, warder; Mrs. Ruby Guimbellot, sentinel; Mrs. Ann Woods, Adah; Mrs. Odelle Jones, Ruth; Mrs. Alice Bell, Esther; Mrs. Jennie Ingram, Martha.

Due to illness, Mrs. Corinne Durr, organist and Mrs. Fairy Hatfield, as Electa, could not be installed at this time.

Assuming her new station, Mrs. Clawson gave an inspiring and welcoming address to her new officers and the several guests present. She presented Mrs. Dante with a Past Matron's pin, the gift of the chapter and a bottle of perfume, a gift from the past officers.

Mrs. Dante in turn pinned on the new W. M. "Love" pin which was presented to Mizpah chapter by Mrs. Love, who had been Worthy Grand Matron of O. E. S. of Louisiana, and who had designated it as being worn by each successive matron from year to year as a tradition of the chapter. Mrs. Clawson was also presented with her own gavel as a memento of the occasion from her brother-in-law, Mr. Parker.

A delicious "pot-luck" supper was served afterwards to the members and guests who included Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parker of Springhill and Mrs. Kate Tucker of Gilbert, a charter member of the chapter.

The first meeting of Mizpah Chapter No. 15 O. E. S. will be Monday evening, January 11, at 7:30. All Eastern Star members and officers are urged to be present as reports and objectives for the year will be given.

Cure Holiday Blues Quickly

If too many sweets and too little sleep during the holidays have been the undoing of your complexions, teen-agers, you had better establish an emergency regimtn immediately.

You know what you should do. The sooner you get to it, the quicker you will gain back your smooth skin and glowing eyes.

Start by eliminating all sweets from your diet. Have fresh fruit for dessert. Have more fruit or raw carrots for between - meal snacks.

Plan to spend more time out-of-doors. The fresh air will stimulate your skin and outdoor exercise will prepare you for the extra sleep which you also need. Try to get to bed at least an hour earlier than usual.

To treat the blemishes you now have, use a medicated cream at bedtime and cover them with a medicated lotion during the day. Do not put make-up over the blemishes unless you care to risk further infection. The medicated lotion will conceal the blemishes well, and it can be applied to the entire face for a smooth finish.

The Family Of The J. L. Simkins' Have Reunion

Christmas day of 1953 will be a lasting remembrance with the Simpkins family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Simpkins of Monroe enjoyed a happy reunion with their ten children near Cheniere Lake in the Tennessee Gas Club house.

The reunion included the Ottice Wilson family of Fairbanks, Reubin Simpkins family of Dodson, Lois Geuin family of Vivian, Tello Simpkins family, Edith Fuller family, Medria Nordan family and Ollie V. Stevens family, all of West Monroe. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Simpkins of Lake Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Bishop of Shreveport, S-Sgt. Buddy Simpkins family of Altus, Okla., Mildred Biddle family of Morton, Miss. and David Hall of St. Paul, Minn.

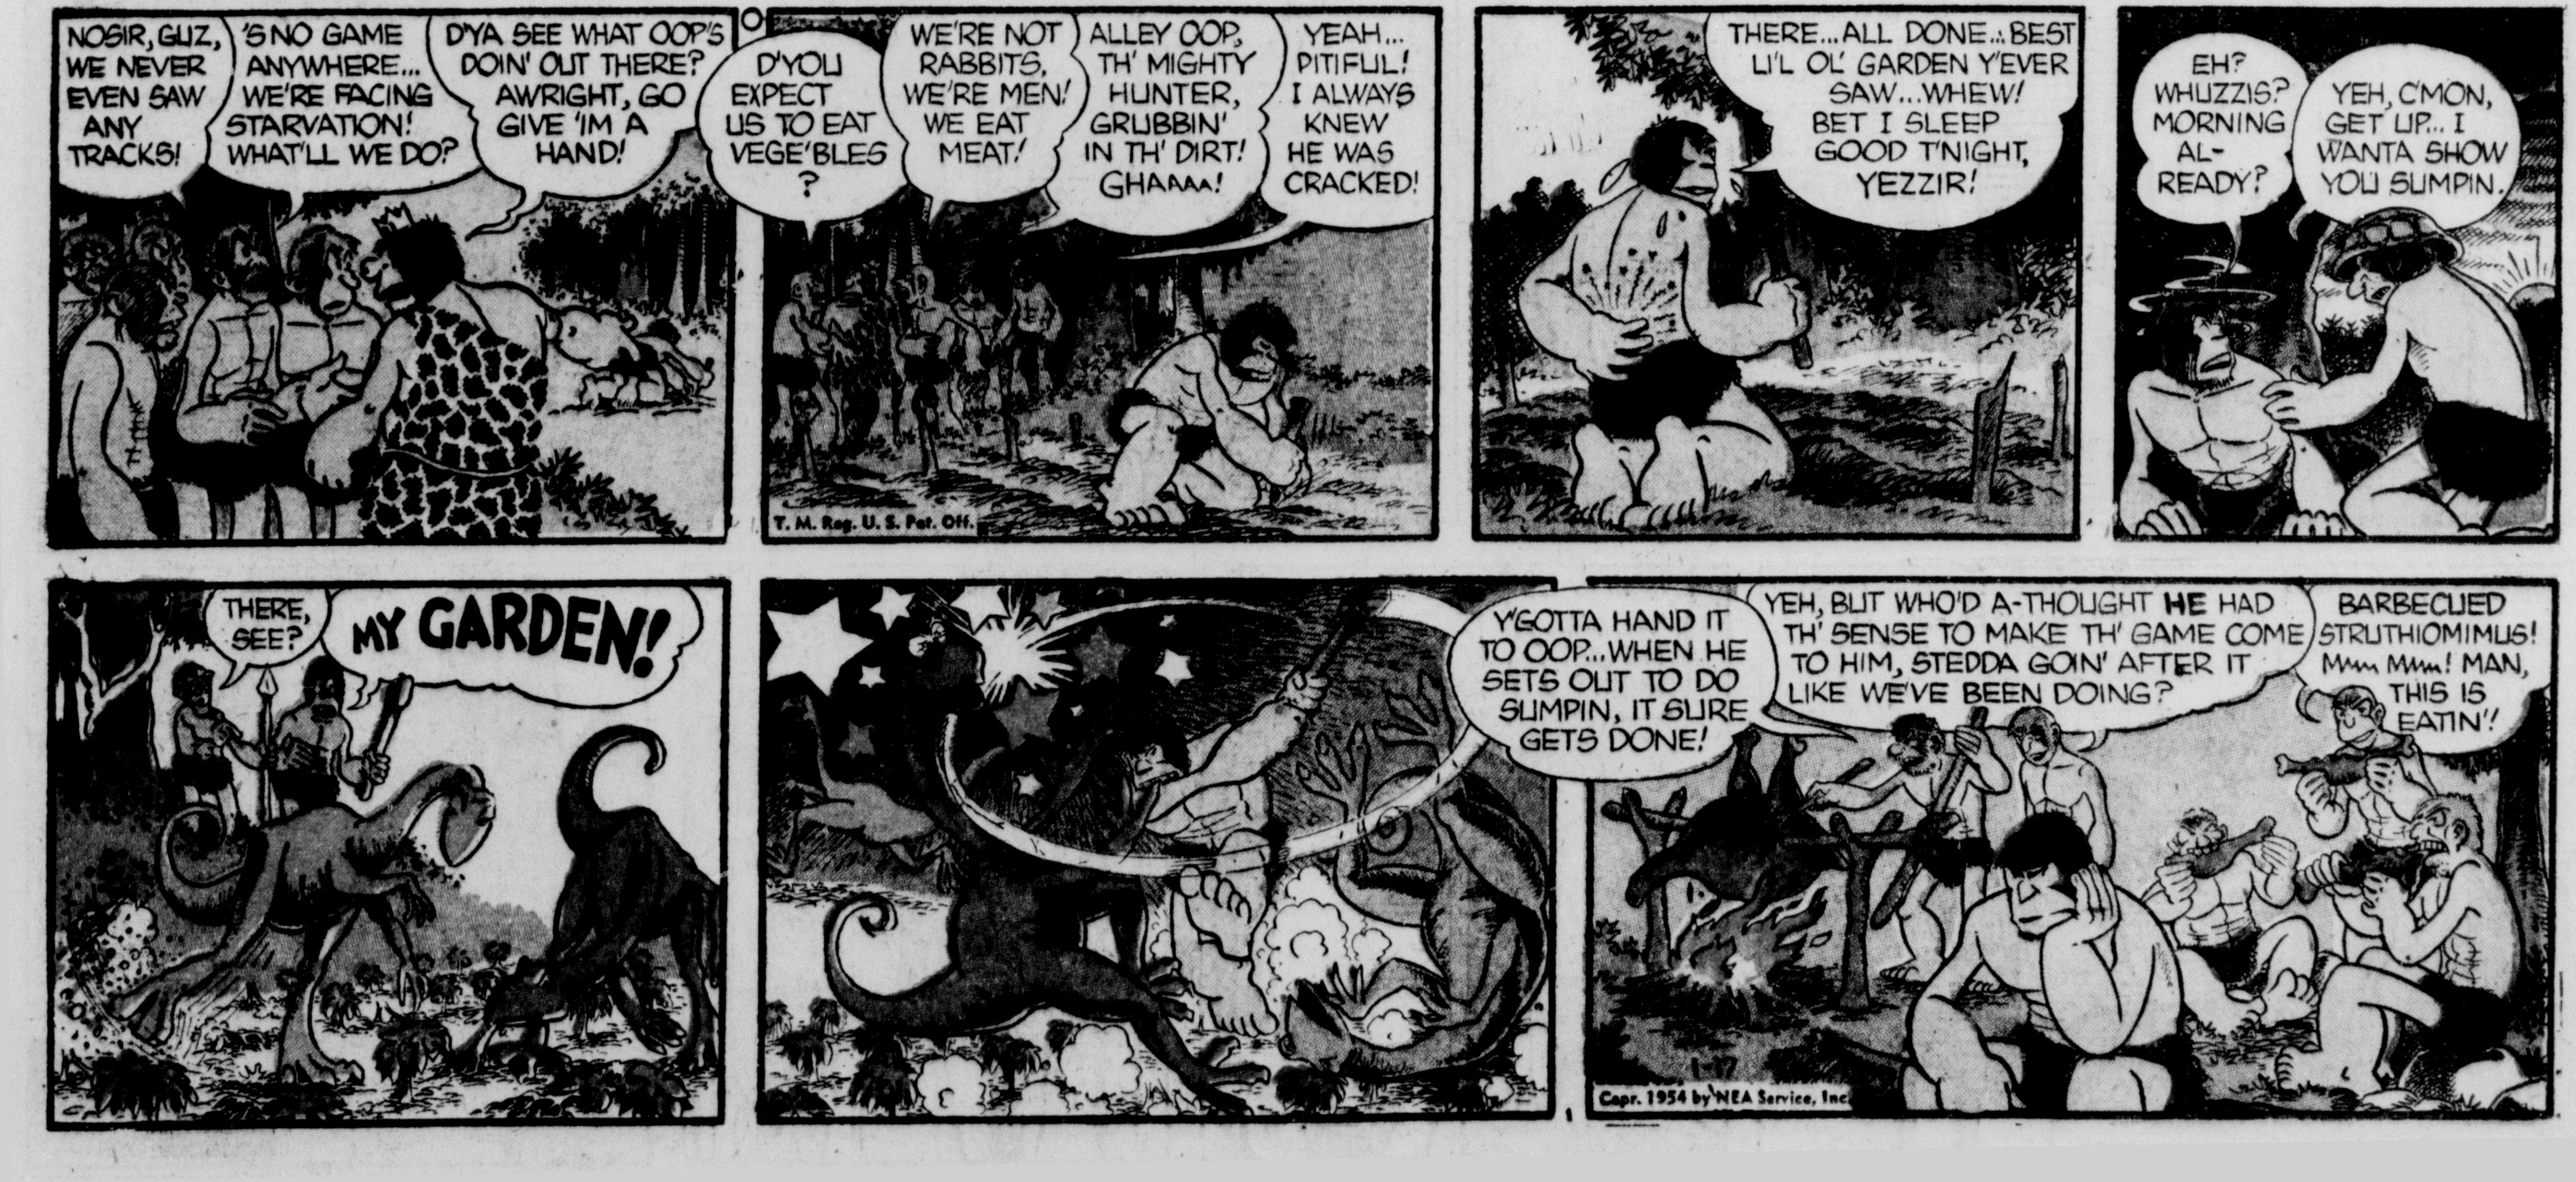
ALLEY OOP

By V. T. Hamlin



NOSIR, GUZ, WE NEVER EVEN SAW ANY TRACKS!
D'YOU EXPECT US TO EAT VEGE'BLES ?
WE'RE NOT RABBITS, WE'RE MEN! WE EAT MEAT!
ALLEY OOP, TH' MIGHTY HUNTER, GRUBBIN' IN TH' DIRT! GHAAAA!
YEAH... PITIFUL! I ALWAYS KNEW HE WAS CRACKED!
T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
THERE... ALL DONE... BEST LI'L OL' GARDEN Y'EVER SAW... WHEW! BET I SLEEP GOOD T'NIGHT, YEZZIR!
EH? WHUZZIS? MORNING AL-READY?
THERE, SEE?
MY GARDEN!
Y'GOTTA HAND IT TO OOP... WHEN HE SETS OUT TO DO SUMPIN, IT SURE GETS DONE!
YEH, BUT WHO'D A-THOUGHT HE HAD TH' SENSE TO MAKE TH' GAME COME TO HIM, STEDDA GOIN' AFTER IT LIKE WE'VE BEEN DOING?
BARBECUED STRUTHIOMIMUS! MMM MMM! MAN, THIS IS EATIN'!

I SAID THERE WAS AN EXPLOSION, MR. SEALYHAM.
A WHAT?
AN EXPLOSION!
EH? DID SOMETHING HAPPEN?
EXPLOSION WHISTLES BLEW OFF CALLIOPE.
IMPOSSIBLE NO MORE WHISTLES.
THEN FULL SPEED TO NEW YORK! AND DON'T YOU WORRY, DEAR CHILD. I'LL BUILD YOU A NEW CALLIOPE— A SUPER CALLIOPE— THE BIGGEST AND LOUDEST CALLIOPE ON EARTH! EVERY EVENING YOU'LL PLAY ME TO SLEEP.
THERE'S GONNA BE TROUBLE, GUYS.
IF SHE SAYS YES, OVERBOARD SHE GOES.
NO
BUT WHY NOT? I'LL PAY YOU ANYTHING! A THOUSAND A WEEK! TWO THOUSAND! THREE!
IT'S REAL SWEET OF YOU, MR. SEALYHAM, AND I APPRECIATE YOUR LIKING MY MUSIC, BUT NO.
I HAVE IT, MISS SWEENEY! I'M A LONELY WIDOWER— MARRY ME AND WE'LL CRUISE THE WORLD! JUST YOU AND I, WITH YOUR STEAM CALLIOPE PLAYING SOFTLY IN THE MOONLIGHT.
REALLY, MR. SEALYHAM.
HEY, DON'T YOU KNOW THE OLD GOAT'S WORTH MILLIONS?
YES, I KNOW.
THEN WHY DIDN'T YOU SAY YES?
IF YOU MUST KNOW THE TRUTH, I CAN'T STAND THAT NOISE ANY LONGER, MYSELF.

PUTTING HIS GUN AWAY-- IF I CAN GET IN ONE SOCK-- LOOK OUT!
THANKS- CONLEY!
YOU GET BACK IN BED, CONLEY. I'LL PUT YOUR DADDY IN A CHAIR. WHEN HE WAKES UP, YOU CAN TELL HIM ALL ABOUT IT.
I CAN HARDLY WAIT!
THE NEXT MORNING--
UH-MY HEAD-HUH-I MUST HAVE FALLEN ASLEEP READING- WHY DOES MY HEAD HURT--?
OH -I REMEMBER-- CONLEY CALLED-- I WENT TO HIM-SOMETHING HIT ME OR-- DID I DREAM IT?
CONLEY, DID YOU CALL ME LAST NIGHT?
DADDY, DON'T YOU REMEMBER? THE BAD MEN WERE HERE, AND MISTER MAN BEAT THEM UP WHEN THEY TRIED TO HIT ME.
YOUR IMAGINARY PLAYMATE, "MISTER MAN"? NOW, DEAR-- YOU DREAMED IT ALL ABOUT THE BAD MEN. AND-I MUST HAVE BUMPED MY HEAD IN MY SLEEP
LOOK, DADDY!

STEVE CANYON
by MILTON CANIFF
LESSEE — I HOCKED MY SWEEP-SECOND HAND WATCH SO ANYONE INTERESTED WOULD KNOW THERE'S A BROKE AIRMAN IN TOWN...
THE LOCAL COMMERCIAL BLUE YONDER BOYS DID ME THE HONOR OF SEARCHING MY GEAR — SO, HAVING SEEN MY SERVICE RECORD, THEY KNOW I'M AN AIRPLANE DRIVER BY TRADE...
NOW I'D BETTER EASE OUT ON THE TOWN AND MAKE LIKE A FLY GUY!.. IF I HAD JUST GONE TO MORE AVIATION MOVIES, SO I'D KNOW HOW I'M EXPECTED TO ACT...
MUSTN'T GO NEAR THE AIRPORT- SO THE NEXT BEST PLACE IS TO FIND THE FANCIEST JOINT IN TOWN- WHERE THERE ARE THE GREATEST NUMBER OF CHIC CHICKS —
AND THAT'S WHERE I'LL FIND THE BOYS WHO DEMAND THEIR PAY IN GOLD — AND GET IT — I'D BETTER ACT A LITTLE WOOZLED...
I TOLD YOU THAT IF HE IS A YANK PILOT HE'D SHOW UP AT THE BEST PUB IN TOWN! BETTER NOTIFY THE BOSS!
THE YANKEE PILOT IS DOWNSTAIRS, MA'AM!
THIS I MUST SEE...
WHEN THE WATCH AND GEAR TURNED UP I THOUGHT THEY MIGHT BE STOLEN GOODS, BUT IT REALLY IS STEVE CANYON!
YOU KNOW HIM, MADAME MULDOON?
I DO! AND HE HAS 'AMERICAN SPY' WRITTEN ALL OVER HIM!

I LIKE IT BECAUSE IT DOESN'T REMIND ME OF HOME — I'LL SHOWER AND CHANGE CLOTHES — THEN WE'LL BE ON OUR "WAY TO TH' CONVENTION!!
GOOD IDEA! I'LL FRESHEN UP TOO —
THIS IS ONLY A TWO-DAY CONVENTION — MAGGIE — IF YOU DON'T FINISH DRESSING SOON WE'LL MISS IT!!
I'LL BET THEY'LL BE SURPRISED TO SEE ME —
I'LL BUST RIGHT IN ON 'EM —
HOW DARE YOU!! GET OUT — HELP!!
O-O-OH! HELLO MAGGIE —
GET OUT!
HOW DID DINTY MOORE AN' "FLIPSY" DOOGAL GIT THEIR NAMES IN THAT BOOK?

Aren't you glad you use DIAL Soap?

When you're around others — out having fun or hard at work — you never worry about perspiration odor when you use Dial. It's the wonderful soap that contains AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). Dial's the only leading soap that has it, and there's nothing else as good at removing skin bacteria that cause odor.

Dial keeps these trouble-makers away, too. For Dial's invisible AT-7 clings to your skin for days; its protection increases, the more you use Dial. Depend on it — Dial stops odor before it starts, and keeps it stopped all over, in a way no other leading soap, no deodorant can equal. Better get some more mild, fragrant Dial Soap today.

Photomicro Proof

DIAL Soap stops odor before it starts!

P.S.

Shampoo a Diamond Sparkle into your hair with new Dial Shampoo.

DR. GALE'S ANIMAL BREE
A KIND OF LIZARD, DR. GALE. BUT LIKE NOTHING ANY MAN HAS EVER SEEN BEFORE. ABOUT FIFTY FEET HIGH.
Hmm--IT SOUNDS LIKE--BUT IT CAN'T BE! YOU TOOK A PHOTO? I HAVE A DARK-ROOM HERE--
1
IN THE DARKROOM, WHEN MANDRAKE'S CANDID PHOTO IS DEVELOPED AND ENLARGED--
THIS IS--IMPOSSIBLE! TYRANNOSAURUS REX!
2
WHAT'S HE DOING IN 1954?
3
I'M AFRAID--I DID IT! IN MY EXPERIMENTS HERE, I TRIED TO "BREED BACK" ANIMALS--TO FIND THE ANCESTOR TYPES OF MODERN ANIMALS.
I DISCOVERED A RAY TO SPEED UP THE PROCESS.
4
SEVERAL YEARS AGO, I PUT AN EGG FROM THIS BIG LIZARD UNDER THE RAY. INSTEAD OF ONE MINUTE, IT WAS UNDER THE RAY ALL NIGHT. WHATEVER WAS IN THE EGG ESCAPED.
5
SO--I BRED THIS ANCIENT MONSTER? I DON'T KNOW WHAT KIND OF WEAPON CAN KILL HIM. BUT HE MUST BE DESTROYED!
DESTROYED? NO, DR. GALE! LET'S CAPTURE HIM ALIVE!
OH--NO! HOW?

SMILIN' JACK
NATURALLY, IT ISN'T A ROCKET OR JET PLANE LIKE DAD IS FLYING...
...BUT IT'S A REAL AIRPLANE AND WE YOUNG "WANT-TO-BE-PILOTS" CAN NOW AFFORD TO FLY!
I SURE CAUSED A LOT OF TROUBLE BY TAKIN' SABLE ALONG WITH MY DATE TO THE "ROCKET ROOM", SO...
...I'LL TEACH YOU BOYS TO FLY WHILE JACK IS TRYING TO GET OUT OF THE SUPERSONIC DOG HOUSE!
MEANWHILE
...AND YOUR ADDITIONAL INSTRUCTIONS AT MUROC, CALIFORNIA...
...WILL MAKE IT POSSIBLE FOR YOU TO TEST THIS QUESTION MARK NUMBER THIRTEEN!
? NO. 13
AFTER THIS MISSILE IS LAUNCHED, YOU WILL TAKE OVER CONTROL BY THE SUPER-SECRET ELECTRONICS...
...IN YOUR JET... AND WILL LAND THIS JOB ON ITS SKIDS BACK AT TH' LAUNCHING SITE!
THIS WILL FURTHER SHOW HOW COMPLETELY MISSILES ARE CONTROLLED!
ALSO IT WILL SAVE THIS VALUABLE CRAFT FOR OTHER EXPERIMENTAL TESTS!
OH, BROTHER! WHAT SITUATIONS YOU GET ME INTO! WHAT ABOUT OUR SPY RING FINALE AT TH' "ROCKET ROOM"?
I HAVE OTHER AGENTS WORKING ON THAT NOW, JACK!
MEANWHILE
OH, ROD ROCKET, MY HUSBAND-TO-BE, I'M GLAD YOU INVITED ME TO GO DEEP SEA FISHING...
...BUT WHY MUST WE FLY TO TH' CHARTER BOAT IN THIS OLD P.B.Y.?
I HAVE A VERY GOOD REASON, PANDORA, DEAR... YOU'LL SEE!
